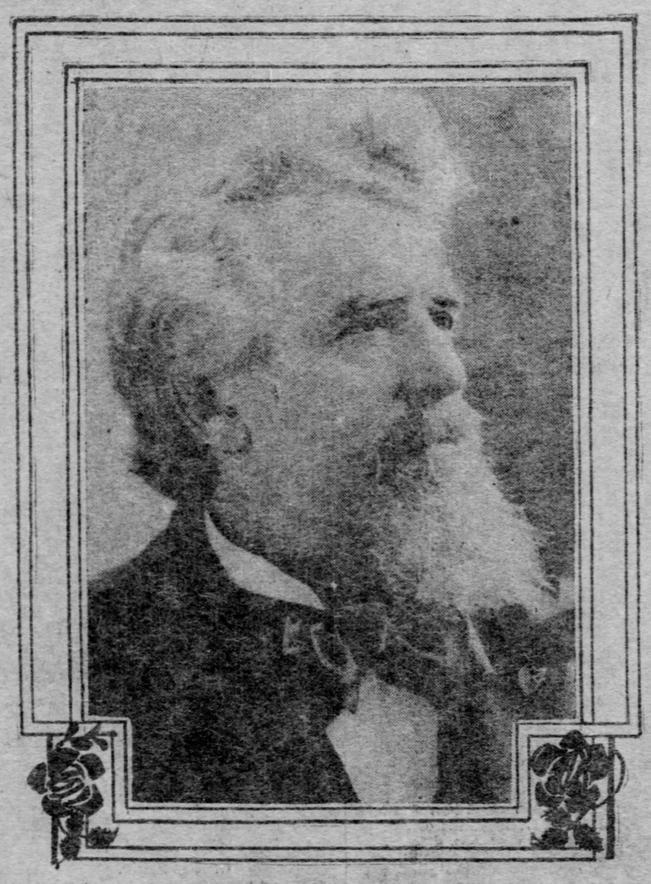
RESIGNS FROM PORTO RICAN BENCH



United States Judge Charles F. McKenna.

JUDGE M'KENNA QUITS BENCH IN PORTO RICO

Pittsburgher Notifies President of Resignation, but Does Not Give Reason.

Charles F. McKenna, United States judge for the district of Porto Rico, has tendered his resignation to the President, and will return to his home in Pittsburgh. The first intimation of the retirement of Judge McKenna came in an Associated Press dispatch from San Juan last night. It was a complete surprise to his close friends.

Maj. A. B. Hay and others who have been corresponding with the judge say he has given no intimation of retirement in letters received from him quite recently. Even his relatives did not know of his resignation until last night. The cablegram says the Porto Rico Bar association is responsible for the action of the judge.

In Washington last night it was learned that Representative Dalzell received a cablegram from Judge McKenna stating he had mailed his resignation to the President. The message did not give any reason for this action and no details are known at the White House or the department of justice concerning it. The resignation will be tendered direct to the President, and as it has been mailed it will be several days before it is received. A telegraphic notification of it has been received at the White House.

Judge McKenna was appointed on the recommendation of Senator Knox, when he was attorney general, and principally through the influence of Mr. Dalzell. There was some hitch over the matter, due to the fact that Mr. Dalzell had not consulted Senators Quay and Penrose about it in advance, but it eventually went through. There has been no intimation that Judge McKenna intended to leave the bench, although it has been stated by some of his friends that he has not found the Island of Porto Rico entirely to his taste. His official duties were pleasant in themselves, but the people and the customs of the island were so different that it was reported Judge McKenna rather preferred being among his old friends and acquaintances. It is probably due to this feeling the reported critical action of the Bar association determined Judge McKenna to relinquish his position and come back to the states. It is also reported the native lawyers of Porto Rico were not favorably disposed toward Judge McKenna, not for personal reasons, but because they wanted a native judge for their bench. They argued that an American unfamiliar with the old Spanish laws and with the customs of the people was not as competent to administer the law as one of their own number.

In a few days the entire story will be made public, though it is likely that Judge McKenna will continue his duties until the end of the present term of court, or until his successor can relieve him.

MANY MEN ARE KILLED IN MINE BY EXPLOSION

Twenty-Two Miners Meet Instant Death from the Ignition of Mine Dust.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TRINIDAD, COL., April 22.—As a result of a dust explosion in a mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, 40 miles west of Trinidad, today, 22 miners are known to be dead and one other is missing.

There were 40 men in the mine at the time of the explosion. Seventeen miners, who were working 3,700 feet from the entrance, escaped uninjured through another opening. The explosion occurred in rooms 3 and 4, near the main entrance, and was the result of a windy shot, which ignited the dust.

Miners from adjacent camps are assisting the rescuers. General Superintendent Robert O'Neil left here at noon and is directing the rescue work. Among the dead is James E. Reed, fire boss. Most of the others are Italians and Japanese. The mine is not seriously damaged and work can be resumed within a few days.

HAS BEEN IN THREE DISASTERS AND IS STILL UNHARMED

DENVER, COL., April 22.—J. B. Fiske of Chicago, who arrived here today from San Francisco, says that he fell down two flights of stairs at the Terminus hotel, where he was a guest, and adds: "I have not a scar to show for the fall of two stories. I guess I have my lucky stars to thank that I came through the Johnstown flood, the Galveston disaster and the San Francisco earthquake without serious injury."

DR. TAGGART MEETS DEATH WHILE ON HOSPITAL DUTY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Dr. Charles F. Taggart of Los Angeles, who had charge of a corps of nurses at the Hearst Relief hospital in the Crocker Grammar school, in Page street, near Baker, was instantly killed today. An automatic revolver dropped out of his pocket. It discharged and the bullet passed through his heart. Dr. Taggart was one of California's prominent physicians.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—The police are making diligent search for a man who has been reported from time to time as having thrown vitriol upon female children. CONTRACTORS ARE ALREADY BEGINNING TO GET BUSY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Many of the most substantial business men and property owners of San Francisco already are in consultation with the architects. While the work of clearing away the debris goes forward a corps of draughtsmen will be busily occupied preparing plans for the new buildings to adorn the city.

It is understood that James D. Phelan will be one of the first to rebuild on Market street. His plans are not complete, but call in general for a fine structure at Market and O'Farrel streets. Mr. Phelan recently purchased the property adjoining and reaching to Stockton street. His intention is to cover the entire frontage with buildings as soon as it can be done.

Practically every bank in San Francisco will be rebuilt. All of these institutions have eastern connections and many of them are affiliated with foreign banks. Owing to the great prosperity of San Francisco, the local institutions almost without exception have large deposits to their credit in New York and European capitals.

BUILDING OPERATIONS TO BEGIN.

This money will be available at once, and after the strain of the moment has been relieved building operations will begin. P. W. Lielenthal, president of the Anglo-California bank, said:

"Now is the time for every man to put his shoulder to the wheel to build up the new city. There is going to be a new city, and I am going to do all I can to make it the greatest city in the world. It will mean work and lots of it, but the people of San Francisco are equal to the task."

Several large establishments have sent messages to their customers throughout the state that they will open for business in San Francisco as soon as the authorities permit.

William Greer Harrison, president of the Olympic club, announces that the club building, which was destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt.

FRESNO, CAL., April 22.—C. C. Lindgren of the San Francisco-Fresno contracting firm of Lindgren-Hicks Company, returned last evening from San Francisco with definite news that the disaster is to have no deterrent effect upon contemplated skyscrapers for San Francisco, and that many of the great buildings reported destroyed can be rehabilitated, some at great expense.

ORDERS MEN TO RUSH WORK.

The Humbolt, which had planned to erect on Market street between Third and Fourth streets, an 18-story structure, to overlook the Call building, has given orders to build the structure according to the original plans and rush it as fast as possible.

It will be necessary to rebuild the first two stories of the Fairmont hotel.

A $500,000 annex to the Fairmont, containing the largest theater in San Francisco is under contract.

The Hayward building at the corner of Montgomery and California streets is only slightly damaged, and can be repaired at small cost, from $5,000 to $10,000.

The Merchants exchange, while badly gutted, can be repaired at an expenditure of about $200,000 or $300,000. The building cost $6,000,000. The front of the Rialto building will stand, but the rear was dynamited.

Other buildings in the burned district that have withstood the ravages of the flames to admit of rebuilding are: The James Flood, the Union Trust, the New Chronicle, the Call, the Mutual Savings bank, the Crocker-Woolworth and the St. Francis hospital.

Buildings that are practically undamaged are: The new postoffice, the mint and the old custom house. Lindgren has volunteered to clear a way through Market street for traffic.

LOCAL RELIEF FUND IS STILL GROWING RAPIDLY

Churches Help the Cause While General Contributions Are Suspended Over Sunday. Firemen Donate $500.

Aside from the contributions made in various local churches but little increase was made to the general Pittsburgh California Relief fund yesterday, but today's accumulated mail is expected to show a revival of the liberal donations made last week. Contributions made to Mayor Guthrie and the committee co-operating with him, which were received in yesterday's mail, were not announced yesterday.

CATHOLIC MASS OVER GRAVES OF JEWISH DEAD

No Distinction as to Sect or Denomination in Sunday Services in San Francisco.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—On the steps of the shattered churches and on the green slopes of parks and cemeteries the people of San Francisco assembled at the usual hours for religious services. Grateful for the opportunity to publicly express thanks for their preservation and anxious for the words of cheer and comfort that will carry them through future trials, the people assembled today, in even larger numbers than is customary.

There was no distinction as to sect or denomination, the gatherings including as a rule a large percentage of the families camping or residing in the vicinity. Catholic clergymen celebrated masses in the Jewish cemetery and every creed knelt and bowed heads while the services were in progress.

On the steps of St. Mary's cathedral and on the upheaved pavement of Golden Gate avenue, overlooking the blackened waste that commenced just across the street, Archbishop Montgomery celebrated mass at 8 o'clock. The service was attended by thousands, covering the church steps and extending well up and down the street in either direction. The archbishop's words and his reference to the death of Fire Chief Sullivan affected the entire assemblage, tears streaming down hundreds of faces upturned to the tiny altar in the open doorway of the vestibule.

Five masses were celebrated at St. Mary's cathedral. The archbishop in his sermon recommended to the people that they be at all times submissive to the authorities, civil and military.

Close to the graves in Calvary cemetery, on the narrow porch of a tiny house that stands within the graveyard enclosure, three masses were celebrated for the congregation of Holy Cross church. They were largely attended and the theme of the sermons was hope and courage in the face of adversity.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—Twenty-five Russian authors, headed by M. Cherekoff, author of the drama, "The Jews," and M. Kuprin, author of "The Duel," today published a resolution condemning Americans for their treatment of Maxim Gorky.

GUTHRIE AIMS AT BIG GAME IN VICE CRUSADE

Informations Expected Today Against Landlords of Resorts and a Councilman.

Mayor Guthrie and Director Ridgway are after much bigger game than that bagged in the general police raid of the disorderly resorts in the Second and Sixth wards Saturday night. It was announced last night that informations would be made today against real estate firms and landlords renting houses to the women caught in the Saturday night raid and that warrants would also be sworn out for other parties, including a well-known councilman.

Mayor Guthrie's edict is that the dives must go, that they must be rooted out and none permitted to exist in any part of the city. The raid planned by the mayor and Director Ridgway was the greatest in Pittsburgh's history. Over 500 men and women were caught in the police drag-net, and rigorous sentences were imposed on them. It is announced by the police that this is only a beginning and that other raids and several hundred more arrests are to follow.

To Punish All Who Profit.

The landlords of disorderly houses who exact enormous rentals, the promoters who get fortunes out of the dens of vice, the concessionaires who make a rich living by preying upon women and the politicians who collect graft are said to be the special objects of the crusade inaugurated by the administration.

Testimony at the hearing yesterday is to be used by the administration and is expected to lead to more sensational disclosures and the arrest and prosecution of well-known parties. One councilman is involved by the testimony of a culprit at the hearing yesterday and evidence against another councilman is expected from raids to follow.

Director Ridgway and Superintendent of Police McQuaide are gathering evidence for future use. They attended the hearings yesterday of the hundreds of men and women caught in the Saturday night raid and sat for several hours taking notes of vital points.

Hearings Lasted All Day.

The hearing was conducted by Magistrate Kirby at Central station, began at 8 o'clock in the morning, and lasted all day. The raid Saturday night was restricted to disorderly houses in the Second ward, and in the Sixth ward out Second avenue to the South Tenth street bridge.

The court room was jammed, the corridors and the alleys leading to the entrance of the station being blocked with a curious crowd unable to get inside. The prisoners were brought before the magistrate, a bunch from each house, as they had been arrested. The proprietresses were each fined $100 or $50 and costs, the inmates $25 and costs, while the visitors got off with $1 and costs. Magistrate Kirby warned the proprietresses to move from the ward or to take chances of being caught in a second swish of the net.

The women were questioned concerning the amount of rent they paid, who owned the houses in which they lived, how long they had been in business, and their age. Another question always asked was where the beer sold in their houses had

TRIP THROUGH THE RUINS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Had it not been for the sight of the rude altars set up in the open air wherever San Francisco's homeless thousands were camped, one would have had some difficulty in finding any of the peaceful associations of the Sabbath in this city today. Everywhere throughout the city there was the greatest activity. Streets were being cleared of debris, laborers were repairing broken water pipes, sewers and gas mains, electricians everywhere were seeking to untangle the confusion of wires—in fact San Francisco was in the first stages of its regeneration.

There are no hungry people tonight, the gaunt specter of starvation has been banished by the magnificent response of the people of California in particular, and by the entire nation in general to the appeals that went out for assistance. Food by the carload and boatload poured into Oakland last night and today, in sufficient quantities to overwhelm the committee which has in charge its distribution. So great was the volume of foodstuffs brought into the general depot at Oakland Mole that the general committee today made an appeal for skilled labor in the handling of these supplies. Grocers, butchers and commissary men have been requested to secure men who are familiar in the handling of foodstuffs in order that the distribution at the scores of stations established might go on without confusion.

Now Have Variety of Food.

The homeless people are no longer obliged to subsist upon bread and canned stuff entirely, as they had been during the previous days of their trying experience, but today received hot coffee, canned meats and even cakes and oranges. Oranges have come in plentiful supply from southern California, and the sight of California's famous product was everywhere hailed with delight.

It must not be understood by the charitable people of the country that there is a surfeit of food for the sufferers. While the supply is abundant at this time, it is well for the public to remember that the homeless thousands must be fed and cared for by the organized relief committees for an indefinite period. It is desired, therefore, that contributions be continued everywhere until the people rendered helpless and destitute by the city's misfortune can care for themselves.

The water situation, while causing inconvenience to the people, is no longer such a problem. About two-thirds of the section of the city not burned is being supplied with sufficient water for the pressing domestic needs, but of course, there is not yet enough to be had for fire fighting purposes. Because of this fact, the most stringent orders have been issued by the military and civil authorities that no fires shall be built within any house and no lights, not even a candle light, can be shown at night in the houses. All cooking for the present must be done on the sidewalks or in the open streets and in daylight.

Systematic Work Progresses.

One of the noteworthy features of the situation is the remarkable promptness with which the work of systematically caring for the homeless has been thoroughly organized and put into operation.

The administration of the city's affairs is progressing most harmoniously. Mayor Schmitz and Gen. Funston are working in perfect accord. The system put into force by the Mayor and Gen. Funston today is working order out of confusion and the city is as orderly as before the fire.

Contributions continue to be made from every part of the United States. Chairman James D. Phelan of the finance committee today reported additional subscriptions of about $182,000, the largest of these being one of $100,000 by the Chicago Commercial association. The finance committee will tomorrow adopt some plan for the use of the large sum of money which will soon be available for the relief of the sufferers.

The total number of bodies recovered and buried up to Sunday night is 500. No complete record can be had at this time as many bodies have been buried without permits from the coroner and the board of health. The searchers of the coroners and the board of health department found not more than 20 bodies today. They were buried immediately.

It is impossible at the present time to obtain any sort of death list or even to make a reliable estimate of the number of casualties. Whenever a body is found it is buried immediately without any formality whatever, and these burials have been made at widely separated parts of the city by different bodies of searchers, who do not even make a prompt report to headquarters, considerable confusion has resulted in estimating the number of casualties and exaggerated reports have resulted.

Few Cases of Pneumonia.

The health of the scores of thousands camped in the open air is, under the circumstances remarkably good. There have, of course, been several cases of pneumonia reported and colds are quite common, but there is nothing like an epidemic of pulmonary troubles. The board of health reported that there is very little contagious diseases. For the treatment of these cases hospitals have been provided. An interesting item from the Gate Park district today was the report of the birth of 18 babes. These cases have received prompt and effective attention and the mothers and children removed to the various maternity hospitals.

Vigorous measures are being taken by the board of health and the board of public works to improve the sanitary conditions throughout the city. Eight temporary structures 150 feet in length by 28 feet wide and 13 feet high have been erected at Golden Gate park and in these sheds thousands found reasonably comfortable shelter tonight, and more of these buildings will be ready tomorrow. The buildings have been divided into compartments large enough to house a family. Those without tent shelter received first consideration in the selection of occupants for these temporary buildings.

The circumference of the area of the great conflagration as near as can be ascertained by the marking of a cyclometer, is 26 miles and comprises the entire business district and a large section of the residence district, all of which was densely populated.

It was estimated today, by competent authorities, that the loss will aggregate $300,000,000 and on this vast amount of property the insurance companies carried approximately $175,000,000 insurance.

Tour of Burned District.

The fire having exhausted itself with the exception of the still flaming embers in a thousand places here and there through the burned district, the Associated Press for the purpose of determining with accuracy the boundaries of the conflagration, sent out an automobile today, which skirted the fire on its four sides. This area included the financial, commercial and most of the densely populated portion of the residence district, with all the splendid institutions and mansions that had grown up with the progress of the city.

The start of the tour was made from the Pacific Mail dock at the corner of First and Brannan streets. Traveling along the north line of Brannan the fire ate its way to Second, where it crossed the street and consumed the warehouse of the great wine firm of Lachman & Jacobi, at the southeast corner of Brannan and Second. Thence it moved along the west side of Second to Townsend and along the north line of Townsend to Seventh. On this particular front it licked up the great building of the Southern Pacific at the corner of Fourth and Townsend streets. Of its contents only the records were saved. Directly in front of the ruins 100 men were clearing the debris from Fourth street. The freight and passenger depots along the southerly side of Townsend street as far east as Third, though built in the most fragile manner and of the most perishable materials were not scorched. Standing at the corner of Fourth and Townsend streets, one's eye caught the ruins of the great brick Catholic church of St. Rose, one block distant on Brannan, near Fourth. From Townsend at the corner of Seventh the fire burned along the east line of Seventh northerly half way to Brannan, where it crossed and burned half the block on the southerly line of Brannan between Seventh and Eighth.

Course of the Flames.

Thence, crossing Brannan, still in a northerly direction, it burned along the east line of Eighth to Bryant, thence along the south line of Bryant half way to Ninth, thence along the north line of Bryant to Juniper, a small street half way distant between Tenth and Eleventh, sparing the northeast corner of Eleventh and Bryant. Thence along the east line of Juniper to Harrison, along the east line of Harrison to Fourteenth and along the north line of Fourteenth to Folsom, jumping the street at this point to lick up the building at the southeast corner of Folsom and Fourteenth; thence half way along the west line of Folsom to Fifteenth, but leaving intact the structure at the northwest corner of Fifteenth and Folsom. Along the north line of Fourteenth it ate its way to Shotwell and along the west line of Shotwell to Fifteenth, skirting the north line of Fifteenth, it traveled to Howard and along the west line of Howard to Eighteenth, where it again diverged northerly along the north line of Eighteenth as far as Capp and thence along the west line of Capp.

In this immediate district the block bounded by Seventeenth and Eighteenth, and Howard and Shotwell, though spared by the flames, had been terribly shaken by the quake.

Streets Sunk Eight Feet.

In some instances the houses were a mass of ruins. The frame Catholic church of St. Charles at Shotwell and Eighteenth appeared to be unsafe. The streets in this vicinity were sunk from six to eight feet in places and the earth opens in great gaps while the rails of the car system were twisted and broken.

The conflagration consumed all the dwellings along the west line of Capp street to a point half way between Nineteenth and Twentieth, leaving intact the row of residences fronting on the northerly line of Twentieth between Capp and the Mission; thence it burned along the north line of Twentieth to Dolores, at which point it was stayed by the great openings which were formerly the Jewish cemeteries of this city, but have been purchased by the municipality and were being converted into a pleasure ground. Here are encamped thousands of the homeless.

An independent fire was started Wednesday morning immediately after the earthquake in the drygoods store at Lipman, at the corner of Twenty-second and Mission. This burned over an area of 150x200 feet.

Traveling northerly, or Dolores, from Twentieth, there was nothing but a waste to be seen on the east line of Dolores, scarcely a vestige remaining of the handsome structure erected by the Sisters of Notre Dame. At the northerly end of Dolores, where it meets the extension of Market street, the flames were diverted by the great care cut at that point, eating easterly, thence along the south line of Clinton park to Guerrero and along the east line of Guerrero, ruining in their course the half constructed hospital of St. Katherine, to Market, whence they spread along the southerly side of that thoroughfare easterly to Gough.

Ruined Spreckel's Home.

Thence along the east line of Gough to Page, along the north line of Page half way to Octavia, sparing the row of buildings along the easterly line of Octavia as far as Fell, where they reached to the easterly line of Octavia and along that line northerly to Fulton. Along the southerly line of McAllister the flames made their way to Gough. Thence along the easterly line of Gough to Golden Gate avenue, thence along the southerly line of Golden Gate avenue to Van Ness and along the easterly line of Van Ness to Sutter, where they crossed to the west side and burned the blocks from the north line of Sutter and the east line of Franklin through to Clay. In this district were included some of the most splendid mansions of the city, chief among which was the home of Claus Spreckels at the southwest corner of Clay and Van Ness. This still stands, though blackened and divested of all its beauty.

Still burning along the easterly side of Van Ness toward Fort Mason, the fire reached Greenwich, along the south line of which it spread to Larkin and along the east line of Larkin to Lombard. Thence along the south line of Lombard to Hyde and along the east line of Hyde to Chestnut, easterly thence along the south line of Chestnut to Taylor, thence along the east line of Taylor to Bay, along the south line of Bay to Mason and down the east side of Mason to city front.

Some 300 houses lying on the south and east slopes of Telegraph Hill remain. In this quarter the Italians saved their abodes by a free use of the red wine stored in their cellars. The red walls of the houses show the stains where the claret-soaked sacks had been used to cool the heated walls of the buildings.

The one remaining spot unburned within the district is bounded by Montgomery, Battery, Jackson and Washington. Within this district is the United States appraisers' building, in which is stored some half million dollars' worth of valuable wares belonging to the importing merchants of San Francisco. The saving of this and the adjoining buildings is ascribed to the heroic efforts of Captain Wolf and his men of Company D, Twenty-second United States infantry who succeeded in fighting off the devouring element.

GOV. PARDEE DECLARES SITUATION IS GOOD AS COULD BE EXPECTED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OAKLAND, CAL., April 22.—Gov. George C. Pardee said today:

"The situation is as good as could be expected considering the greatness of the calamity that has befallen us. The nation and the world are taking great interest in our welfare and giving material and financial aid.

"The matter of a special session of the legislature is still under consideration. What we need especially is medical stores, clothing and shelter for the refugees. Of course, food will be needed in considerable quantities for some time to come.

"An epidemic does not exist at present. It is not probable that there will be any necessity for ordering a quarantine. The work of rebuilding San Francisco has commenced and I expect to see the great metropolis replaced on a much grander scale than ever."

DELAYED TELEGRAMS WILL SOON HAVE CHANGE

Overworked Operators at Oakland to Be Relieved and New Apparatus Supplied.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., April 22.—Many easterners are doubtless worried because they cannot get answers to telegrams. These two interviews will explain why. The night chief operator of the Western Union said:

"We have four wires and could get more if we could use them, but we are short of instruments and operators at Oakland. A carload of instruments and accessories left Chicago on Thursday so that by Monday I think we will be in fairly good shape.

"On east-bound messages we are about 15 hours behind and on San Francisco business there is no telling how far we are behind. Oakland has three wires, one to New York, one to Portland and one to Chicago. I suppose there are from 10,000 to 15,000 messages at Oakland."

Wire Chief Stevenson of the Postal said:

"We have just installed our phantoplex apparatus, which will help us out. It is now working on the Denver wire. This device gives one wire the capacity of three. We have a fresh force of men coming from Chicago, which will relieve us. Many of our men have worked 48 hours without rest. Superintendent Lewis left last night for San Francisco with a trunk full of messages and he will be back tomorrow with all he can bring to go east. Our limit is 40 messages an hour and we have been working up to that point since the earthquake."

SOCIETY WOMEN TO AID IN RAISING RELIEF FUNDS

Will Act as Patronesses for Amateur Theatrical Performance to Be Given Here This Week.

Announcement was made last night that the famous war drama "Shenandoah," which was produced twice last week in Sewickley by amateurs from the ranks of the society set, will be reproduced in one of the local theaters some afternoon this week, probably Thursday, for the benefit of the California relief fund.

The production is to be given under the patronage of the most prominent Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Sewickley society women as a graceful means of contributing to the cause. Military connoisseurs who saw the performance last week pronounced it a most realistic stage battle, with flawless tactics, and was worked up by Spanish-American war veterans. Further announcement of the date of the production and the theater will be made in The Gazette.

CONTRIBUTIONS ARE MADE IN MANY CITIES

NEW YORK.—New York city's fund was greatly increased today. In nearly all the Protestant churches the offerings were set aside for San Francisco. The Catholic churches will take up special collections next Sunday. The total of the funds raised in the churches was considerable, one estimate places it at $40,000.

SHONTS RETURNS FROM THE PANAMA CANAL ZONE

Chairman of the Committee Says There Are Nearly Eighteen Thousand People at Work.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 22.—Theodore P. Shontz, chairman of the Panama canal committee, who arrived from the isthmus last night on the steamer Colon, went to Washington this afternoon. In an interview today Mr. Shontz spoke enthusiastically of the condition of affairs in the canal zone and highly praised the work of Chief Engineer Stevens. The effective working force on the canal April 1 numbered 17,681 persons. Health conditions, Mr. Shontz said, are most satisfactory, the sick rate being 29 in 1,000. There were 450 vacant beds in the hospital during March.

Mr. Shontz said owing to the prolonged dry season, the streams supplying Colon with water were low, but the reservoirs supplying Panama, Empire, Gorgona and Bas Obispo had sufficient supplies for many months to come. When the supply at Colon was reduced to 2,000,000 gallons, it was decided to haul water into Colon for daily consumption, so as to reserve as much as possible of the reservior supply for an emergency.

Accordingly, a water train has been equipped, three water stations established, and 250,000 gallons a day brought into Colon. This will continue until the beginning of the rainy season fills the reservoirs. As in the case of the Panama water supply, water is furnished free to the people of Colon.

MAKES SURE HIS WIFE WILL NOT FOLLOW HIM

WILKES-BARRE, PA., April 22.—(Special.)—Andrew Patrick of Trescow, near here, who left his wife and four small children forever today, took no chances about his spouse following him and tied her securely to the bedpost before he left this morning. He told her she would never see him again, packed his clothes and took what money and valuables he could find. Three hours later, with her neck and arms bruised and bleeding where they were cut by the ropes, Mrs. Patrick rushed to the police station. The police, however, have found no trace of Patrick.

JUMP OUT OF WINDOWS WHEN POLICE APPEAR

Bennett Club in Second Avenue Raided and 83 Men Captured. Three Other Raids.

A dozen men jumped out of a second-story window, followed by the police, last night when the Bennett club, at 548 Second avenue and Burlington street, was raided. Capt. John Callan and Lieut. Andrew J. Mellett led the squad of police. The police captured 83 men and about 30 escaped. Lieut. Mellett jumped out of the window and captured the dozen men in the back yard.

A fat man attempted to get through a hole in a board fence, but stuck fast, and 20 others thus found their exit cut off and fell into the hands of the police. Another visitor at the club was found concealed in the dummy waiter. Thomas Parks and W. H. Reese, the alleged proprietors of the club, are charged with keeping a disorderly house, selling liquor without a license and selling on Sunday. Fifteen kegs of beer were confiscated.

Inspector Bailey, Capt. Emmett and squad raided a club at 712 Hamilton avenue last night. John R. Rowe, the alleged proprietor, and 35 visitors were arrested. A charge of gambling and selling liquor illegally were placed against Rowe.

The South Side police made two raids yesterday morning at 4 o'clock. Fourteen men were arrested at the house of Nick Dockenwiski, 2824 Carson street, and six men were caught in a raid at the home of Louis Oberwick, 2829 Carson street. Each prisoner was fined $5 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct.

BERLIN AMERICAN CHURCH AND THE WORK IT IS DOING

Excellent Results Attained in the German Capital Told by Dr. John S. Dickie.

Interesting information regarding the work being accomplished in the German capital was given by the Rev. Dr. John S. Dickie, pastor of the American church in Berlin, in his sermon last night at Grace Reformed church, Dithridge and Bayard streets. He spoke on the theme, "Doing Good," and he told of the influence his church had on the lives of the Americans who, far from home and friends, come within its sphere. At the Berlin university are many students from this country, and they especially are helped and benefited by the church associations.

The church itself is a beautiful structure built at a cost of $105,000, all of which was contributed by Americans. Some of the Pittsburghers who gave liberally to it were James L. Buchanan, Benjamin Thaw and H. C. Frick. Among the Americans who were attendants during their student days in Berlin were Secretary Taft, Secretary Root and Dr. Henry Van Dyke, and from Pittsburgh Mrs. O. F. Hershman of Dithridge street, and Sidney Watt, who is now in Harvard Law school. Congregations in cities throughout the United States maintain pews in the church for the American students. After the service last night, while no effort in this direction was made by Dr. Dickie, members of Grace church made a gift of enough to endow a pew. Dr. Dickie, who preached yesterday morning in the Point Breeze Presbyterian church, returns today to his former home in Detroit. He sails on May 12 for Germany to resume his charge.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE.

Two Women Are Thrown Out and Hurt, and Their Machine Is Upset.

While Mrs. H. W. Gleffer, wife of H. W. Gleffer, treasurer of the Union Trust Company, and her aged mother-in-law were driving to church yesterday morning in their automobile, they were run into at Kentucky avenue and Bellefonte street by a large touring automobile, driven by Chauffeur C. H. Martin, and containing Dr. J. R. Wilson of the Wallace building, Center avenue, and Dr. H. W. Taylor of 303 College avenue. The automobile containing the two women was pushed over, throwing out the occupants and tearing off one of its wheels.

Mrs. Martha Gleffer, who is 74, had her neck and one leg badly wrenched, and her daughter-in-law was also badly bruised about the body. None of the occupants of the other automobile was injured. The injured women were then taken to their home, at 921 Bellefonte street. While the elder woman's injuries are painful, they are not serious.

MACK ISSUES STATEMENT.

Philadelphia Politician Denies Everything Which Has Been Said Against Him.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—John M. Mack has been forced to do what he never did before—issue a formal statement. He denies specifically that he is interested in Philadelphia's political affairs. He says he fears the public, whose interest he has always had at heart, will be grossly misled into believing he has dictated political deals.

He wishes to let every one know he has neither dictated nor suggested municipal or councilmanic committee appointments and he does not purpose now or at any future time to take any part, active or consultive, in political affairs of any kind. Then to show just how far apart he is from any wickedness he declares he is not after any contract and he will not go after any.

TWO FIRES IN ONE HOUSE.

Truck Breaks an Axle Responding to Second Alarm.

Fire was discovered at 10:30 last night in a double two-story frame house, owned by Mary A. Dunbaker, at 1105 and 1107 Bingham street, South Side, and an alarm was sent in. The fire was extinguished. Shortly after midnight fire was again discovered in the house and another alarm was sent in. The partition between the two houses was ablaze when the fire department arrived. The damage will amount to $200. The cause of the fire is unknown.

While the truck at No. 12 engine house was responding to the alarm it attempted to pull out from a street car at South Twentieth street. The rear axle was broken on the truck. None of the men were injured.

PASSAIC, N. J., April 22.—Stanley Gertz, a wealthy resident of this city, today shot his daughter, Mrs. Walter Peters, shot at her husband and then killed himself. The daughter's condition is grave. The trouble arose, it is said, over family differences. Mrs. Gertz recently returned to Germany to live and had turned over all her affairs to her daughter and son-in-law.

MISS TIBBALS TELLS OF ESCAPE

Erie Woman Flees from Hotel to Parks and Endures Many Hardships.

HAS TWO TERRIBLE DAYS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DENVER, COL., April 22.—Miss Martha S. Tibbals of Erie, Pa., and Mrs. D. M. Johnson of Utica, N. Y., worn out by the dangers, exposure, hardships and terrors in their two days' effort to escape from San Francisco, passed through Denver today on their way home. Miss Tibbals said:

"The first that we knew of the earthquake was when we were awakened in our room at the Randolph hotel Wednesday morning by a terrific shaking, which broke loose fragments of the ceiling. There followed a tremendous shock, which shook the building sideways and tossed it about with something like a spiral motion. When we reached the street people were running hither and thither.

"Some passing advised us to get on as high ground as possible, and we started walking as fast as possible to the high parks back of the city.

"Fire was breaking out in hundreds of places over the city and the streets were becoming crowded with hurrying refugees. Where they were unable to procure horses, men and women had harnessed themselves to carriages and were drawing their belongings to places of safety. As we passed through the residence district, where wealthy people lived, we saw automobiles drawn up and loaded before houses. Their owners remained until the flames came too near, and then getting into the machines, made for the hills.

"We saw one man pay $2,000 for an automobile in which to take his family to a place of safety.

"Before night we reached the summit of the Alta plaza. People, half-clad, unfed, hysterical, searching for loved ones, crowded the ground. Beneath lay the burning city, and as nightfall came on it presented a scene indescribable.

"We passed the night sleepless with a panic-stricken multitude. In the morning (Thursday) we started toward the harbor, with the assistance of soldiers from the Presidio, who had already been on duty 24 hours. We got to the wharf and hoped to get a launch to Oakland. We were unable to do so, but we were kindly treated by an old skipper, who was himself in deep grief because his mother had been crushed to death in their little house. He gave us coffee—the only nourishment we had had, excepting a few crackers, in 24 hours.

"The skipper saw the government boat coming in the bay and said if we could reach the Presidio wharf we could escape on the government boat.

"We therefore hurried toward the Presidio wharf, greatly impeded by fissures, which stretched long distances and around which we had to make our way. At the Presidio wharf we were taken on board with other refugees and a short time later we were safe in Oakland.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., April 22.—Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Williams of Norristown, Pa., survivors of the disaster at San Francisco, are at the Antlers hotel here. Their experiences were similar to those of the other survivors.

DEAN HODGES PREACHES SERMON IN NEW CHURCH

Aids in St. Andrews Dedicatory Services—Misses Earthquake by Just Two Days.

The Rev. Dr. George Hodges, dean of the Cambridge, Mass., Theological school, who left San Francisco only two days before the earthquake, preached the special sermon at the opening service of the new St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, Hampton street and Euclid avenue, yesterday afternoon, at which a special collection of between $200 and $300 was taken for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers. Dr. Hodges was formerly rector of Calvary Episcopal church of Pittsburgh, and his sermon was largely reminiscent of when he had charge of that parish.

The service was very largely attended. Assisting the rectors, the Rev. Dr. John Crocker White and the Rev. Alexander Vance, D. D., were Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead of the Pittsburgh diocese, the Rev. Dr. Coleman E. Byram, the Rev. D. F. Ferris and the Rev. Dr. R. W. Grange. A feature of the service was special music rendered by a choir composed of Miss Gertrude Clark and Miss Emma J. Baumann, sopranos; Mrs. Gertrude Schumann Thomas and Mrs. J. Christopher Marks, contraltos; W. C. Ernest and A. J. Elliott, tenors, and D. S. Harris and H. J. White, bassos. The choir was under the direction of J. Christopher Marks, organist and choirmaster of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, and the principal number rendered was the sacred cantata, "The Inheritance Divine."

The St. Andrews congregation, one of the oldest in the city, formerly worshipped on Ninth street. Some time ago the congregation divided, about half of the members uniting with Christ Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny. The others erected the beautiful stone edifice which was opened yesterday, the cost of which was about $80,000. The formal dedication of the church will not, it is stated, take place until the fall, and the date to be chosen may be that of St. Andrew's Day, November 30. While not stated authoritatively, it is said the rector, Dr. White, who has been in charge of the parish for the last 30 years, may spend the coming summer in Europe, returning in time to participate in the dedicatory exercises in the fall.

CHURCH IS DEDICATED.

Congregation Subscribes $8,000, Nearly Paying Off the Debt.

With three special services, which were largely attended by members of all denominations, the new Ross Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in Wilkinsburg was dedicated yesterday. The dedicatory sermon was preached in the evening by Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, D.D., of Philadelphia.

At the evening service $8,000 was subscribed toward the debt on the new building, leaving $5,000 still due. The congregation, which is an offshoot from the South Avenue church, starts with a membership of 175. The building, which is of stone, is at Ross and Swissvale avenues.

ACQUITTED OF ONE CHARGE IS HELD ON ANOTHER

At the hearings at No. 4 station house yesterday morning Peter Kolar was acquitted of the charge of attempting to pass counterfeit money, but was committed to jail for three days on a charge of resisting an officer. Kolar was arrested Saturday when, it is alleged, he tried to pass a counterfeit half dollar on Mike Jerkovic. He put up a valiant struggle before submitting.

PAPAL BLESSING ON THE JUBILEE

Message from Rome Is Read at Monster Meeting of German Knights of St. George.

GREAT GROWTH OF ORDER

With distinguished members of the clergy and a large number of delegates from the branches of the order in attendance, the silver jubilee celebration of the founding of the German Catholic Knights of St. George opened yesterday, a special feature being a telegram from Rome extending the Papal blessing on the members and upon the proceedings. This morning at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem will be sung in St. Augustine's church, Thirty-seventh street, and this evening the jubilee banquet will be held in St. Augustine's hall.

The celebration began yesterday with a short parade of the local societies and delegates, followed at 10 o'clock by the celebration at St. Philomena's church of pontifical high mass by Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee. The Rev. Fr. Charles, provincial of the Capuchins, acted as arch priest; the Rev. Fr. John Otten, Sharpsburg, as deacon; the Rev. Fr. Anselm, O. S. B., as sub-deacon; the Rev. Fr. Krauss, C. S. S. R., as master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Adam Tonner of McKees Rocks and the Rev. Fr. Ferdinand, C. P., as deacons of honor. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Fr. H. J. Goebel. Other priests taking part were the Rev. Fathers Ritter, Wernert, Denges and Schnoor, C. S. S. R., from St. Philomena's, and the Capuchin Fathers Joseph Hermann, Gabriel, Christopher, Paul, Ignatius and Bernard. The church was elaborately decorated and special music was rendered by the choir under the direction of Prof. Louis Imgrund, with Prof. John Vogel as organist.

A monster meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Bijou theater, with prelates of the church, officers of the order and the choir occupying places on the stage. In addition to Archbishop Messmer there were present the Rt. Rev. Carroll, bishop of Helena, Mont.; the Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin, bishop of Pittsburgh; the Rev. Father P. Bonaventure, O. P., of Berlin, Germany, and numerous priests from surrounding cities and towns.

Grand President Joseph H. Lelman presided and delivered an address recounting the history of the order from its inception at St. Philomena's church, with 30 members, to its present day greatness of 64 branches and a total of 7,500 members.

Archbishop Messmer read the telegram from Rome extending the Papal blessing and followed this with an address urging members of the church to unite with the order in affording protection to their families in case of sickness or death. Bishop Canevin spoke on the principles of the order, the education of Catholic men in Catholic principles, thereby making them better heads of families, better citizens of the Republic and better members of the church. He said there must be unity of faith among Catholics the world over; no fragmentary or partial form of belief will do. The faith, he said, must be and is the same from the supreme pontiff to the humblest laborer.

Addresses were also made by the Rev. Fr. Bonaventure and Attorney Herman L. Hegar and several numbers were rendered by the festival choir under the direction of Prof. Louis Imgrund.

RAILROADS' BIG GIFT.

Transportation Furnished Free Would Have Commercial Value of $3,000,000.

CHICAGO, April 23.—In helping to relieve the suffering in California the railroads of the United States are performing free of cost a service which would have a commercial value of at least $3,450,000. The relief will cost the railroads in the system controlled by E. H. Harriman at least $75,000 daily for the next 30 days. This would make a total of $2,250,000.

The estimate for the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, which has its own lines from Chicago to San Francisco, is at least $25,000 daily, including the lines which turn over traffic to it at Chicago.

The contributions of the Gould system, together with the lines which deliver traffic to it, is estimated to be $15,000 daily. The railroads are performing free of cost a service daily which has a commercial value of at least $115,000, and this service will continue for at least 30 days. The relief trains are being run on passenger train schedules, thus adding to the expense. To transport a train of provisions from Chicago to San Francisco on this sort of a schedule would cost a shipper between $9,000 and $12,000.

OPERA COMPANY SINGERS HAVE REACHED CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 22.—A score or more persons who were in San Francisco on the morning of the earthquake reached Chicago today. Miss Marion Weed and Miss Josephine Jacoby of the Metropolitan opera company being among the number. Others of the company will reach Chicago tomorrow morning, and will leave in the afternoon on the Twentieth Century limited for New York.

PEOPLE FIGHT LIKE ANIMALS

Refugees from Stricken City Tell of Groans and Cries of Those Pinned Under Timbers.

FLAMES, ROARS AND CRIES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DENVER, COL., April 22.—Every incoming train from the west brings refugees from San Francisco, who tell harrowing stories of their experiences and give graphic descriptions of the horrors that followed the earthquake and fire.

"I climbed over dead bodies, picked my way around flaming debris and went over almost insurmountable obstacles to get out of San Francisco," said C. C. Kendal, a retired Omaha capitalist, upon his arrival here. "I arrive in San Francisco the night previous to the earthquake. I was awakened about 5:15 in the morning by being thrown out of my bed in the Palace Annex. I rushed to the window and looked out. The houses were reeling and tumbling like playthings. I hurried on clothing and ran into the street. Here I saw many dead and the debris was piled up along Market street.

"I went to the office of the Palace hotel and there men, women and children were rushing about, crazed and frantic in their night clothes. The first shock lasted only 28 seconds, but it seemed to me two hours.

"A few minutes after I reached the Palace hotel office, the second shock came. It was light, compared with the first, but it brought to the ground many of the buildings that the first shock had unsettled.

"Fires were breaking out in every direction. Market street had sunk at least four feet. I started for the ferry. It is only a few blocks from the Palace Annex to the ferry, but it took me from 6 a. m. until 10:15 a. m. to cover the space.

"Men and women fought about the entrance of the ferry like a band of infuriated animals.

"I made my escape—I do not remember how, for I was as desperate as any of them. As the boat pulled over the bay the smoke and flames rose sky high and the roar of falling buildings and the cries of the people filled the air."

"The first I remember of the earthquake was finding myself in the middle of the floor, where, with chairs and other bits of furniture, I had been thrown," said G. F. Burgner, a business man of Osceola, Wis. With his wife and two daughters he had registered at the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco the night before the disaster.

"With my family I rushed down stairs. We pushed our way through the crowded streets, where everyone was hurrying here and there. Some were pulling trunks behind them. Bricks, stones and all sorts of debris filled the roadway, and we had a difficult time making our way to the water front. An electric launch was moored there and on it we escaped to Oakland.

"The groans and cries of those pinned under the timbers of the collapsing buildings were pitiful to hear, and the worst of it was that nothing could be done to save them."

WINE TO FIGHT FIRE IS USED IN LATIN QUARTER

When Water Supply Is Exhausted Cellars Are Broken Open and Barrels Dragged Forth.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—An incident of the fire in the Latin quarter on the slope of Telegraph hill, was the use of wine instead of water in fighting the fire. The only available water supply was found in a well dug in early days. At a critical moment the pump suddenly sucked dry and the water in the well was exhausted.

Italian residents crashed in their cellar doors with axes, and calling for assistance began rolling out barrels of red wine. The cellars gave forth barrel after barrel until there was fully 500 gallons ready for use. The barrel heads were smashed in and the bucket brigade turned from water to wine. Sacks were dipped in the wine and used for beating out the fire. Beds were stripped of their blankets and these were soaked in the wine and hung over the exposed portions of the cottages, and men on the roofs drenched the shingles and sides of the house with wine. The wine won and the plucky firefighters saved their homes.

FIRE DESTROYS POWER HOUSE

Franklin and Oil City Will Be in Darkness and Without Street Car Service.

OIL CITY, PA., April 22.—(Special.)—The central power house of the Venango Power and Traction Company in this city, controlling all the electric lighting and street car systems of Oil City, Franklin and their suburbs, was destroyed by fire this morning, entailing a loss of $350,000, with insurance of $75,000. The flames originated in the boiler room.

The destruction of the power house will cause a suspension of street car traffic in Venango county for at least three weeks. The officers of the company expect to have street lights in operation in Franklin and Oil City within a week. In the meantime the streets and those business houses which are not equipped with private electrical plants will be in darkness.

SUICIDE EPIDEMIC CONTINUES AT FRANKLIN

FRANKLIN, PA., April 22.—(Special.)—Franklin's sixth suicide within eleven weeks occurred today. Charles B. Henderson, 40 years old, killed himself at the Grant house, while suffering from insomnia. Of the six suicides, three have been by the gas method. A newspaper here has refused to print further details of such cases, declaring their publication leads others to end their lives.

GEN. FUNSTON IS MAN OF THE HOUR

Perfect Harmony Exists Between Mayor Schmitz and Army Officer in Command.

BOTH ARE DOING GREAT WORK

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Secretary Taft's attention having been directed to the reports that friction existed at San Francisco between Gen. Funston and Mayor Schmitz, he sent a message to Gen. Funston asking for the facts in the case. Gen. Funston's reply was received at the war department today and read as follows:

"Report of disagreement between Mayor Schmitz and myself must be based on the excited imagination of some overworked newspaper correspondent. Mayor Schmitz and myself have been working together in the unity of doing great work, and we are helping to the extent of our ability, and apparently to the satisfaction of every friend of the community and all unfortunate people of the city."

The department also received today two telegrams from Mayor Schmitz on this subject. The first one, which was dated yesterday, follows:

"Report of conflict between Gen. Funston and myself absolutely without foundation. We are not only without difference, but are co-operating in the utmost friendship and harmony. Gen. Funston's excellent work, his good judgment and his zeal in our cause by day and by night are appreciated by the people of San Francisco in this hour of great distress. The army and nation are to be congratulated on the possession of such officers as Gen. Funston."

The second dispatch from Mayor Schmitz, which is dated today, follows:

"Supplementing my telegram of yesterday, I wish again, even in the midst of our great troubles, to express my indignation at the remarkably malicious and decidedly untruthful suggestion that a conflict exists between Gen. Funston and myself. I wish to emphasize the pleasantness and harmony of our relations and co-operation."

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR MONSTER BENEFIT

Theatrical Managers Meet and Conclude Arrangements for Big Performance to Be Given Friday.

Local theatrical managers met yesterday afternoon and concluded plans for the monster San Francisco benefit performance to be given in the Nixon theater Friday afternoon. It was decided to begin the performance at 1 o'clock sharp owing to the fact that the bill will be of considerable length. Thomas Kirk, manager of the Nixon theater, was elected chairman, and the performance will be under the personal direction of J. A. Reed, manager of the Belasco theater. Prof Oscar Radin was appointed musical director and will have the aid of all local theater orchestras, combining 50 musicians.

Tickets will be placed on sale this morning at the box offices of all the theaters and hotels, cigar stores, railroad ticket offices and at the prominent business houses of Pittsburgh. The committee has already received three subscriptions of $100 each for boxes, but as they are to be sold at auction these subscriptions will represent bids to that amount. Should, however, the bids be in excess of this amount, the offer will be extended to orchestra seats.

The entertainment will be of a diversified character, in fact it will be the biggest of its kind ever held in Pittsburgh. Miss Olga Nethersole, supported by her company, will be seen in the fourth act of "Camille." Cyril Scott & Co. will present the first act from "Prince Chap." James Lackaye and company will present one act from "The Funny Mr. Dooley," introducing popular hits from that musical comedy. Headliners from the Academy, through the courtesy of Harry Williams, will introduce vaudeville specialties. The feature acts from the Gaiety will also be seen.

No definite arrangements have been concluded with Mr. Harry Davis for the reason that on the same evening he gives a matinee benefit at the Grand for the same purpose, but as this comes in regular form it is to be inferred that acts from his theater will also be seen at the Nixon. Volunteers will also be seen from attractions playing within a range of 100 miles of Pittsburgh.

RECEIVE FOODSTUFFS FOR STRICKEN CHINAMEN

Pacific Mail Steamer China With a Large Cargo from Orient Docked and Distribution Starts.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The Pacific Mail steamer China, with a cargo, including a large quantity of food stuffs, arrived from the orient and was docked at Oakland in order that the supplies be distributed there. The shipping of San Francisco is at a standstill and such will be the state of affairs while the city is in the least endangered.

The United States cruisers Chicago and Marblehead are stationed off Meiggs wharf and prevent every vessel, whether foreign or domestic, from sailing out of the harbor. The vessels are being held here to be ready for any emergency that may arise.

The federal authorities removed all the customs restrictions from the cargo of the steamer China as soon as possible, and the rice, tea, and other food stuffs from the orient were taken off the vessel and sent to the aid of the stricken Chinese. Until next Monday the foreign vessels will be examined merely to pass upon health of the vessel.

LESS THAN 300 DEAD, SAYS LEACH

Superintendent of Mint Believes the Fatalities Have Been Greatly Overestimated.

PEOPLE NOW GET INTO RUINS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The loss of life at San Francisco is estimated at less than 300, in a telegram addressed to the secretary of the treasury by Superintendent of Mint Leach. The telegram is dated at Oakland yesterday, and is as follows:

"Stories of loss of life greatly exaggerated. Have been in it every day from the first. Have men reporting to me continually from all parts of city, and I do not believe the list will reach 400. My estimate from statements to me will not reach 300. The fire did not travel fast and the authorities took trouble to keep ahead of flames, notifying people of the danger and caring for the helpless.

"The homeless are being cared for in Oakland and other suburban places. Thousands are camped out in the park and other open country south of the city. People are being able to get into the ruins in places, especially from Market street, and I am informed that some of the modern buildings like the Spreckels, Crocker, Union Trust, Mutual Savings, all of which having been banking institutions, can be fixed so as to be able to allow banks to resume in a few days.

"In the matter of the establishment of a bureau of information, suggested by you, I find relief committees in both cities are trying to accomplish this purpose, with the aid of the Associated Press. Had talk with the manager of the Western Union, who thinks it impracticable at this time to try to get through such information, as wires are more than 48 hours behind with private and official messages. Would suggest that reassuring telegrams be spread through the country that the stories of loss of life have been most grossly exaggerated. Loss of life and list of injured is exceedingly small, considering the extent of the disaster."

Other messages given out at the treasury department today announce that Assistant United States Treasurer Jacobs and his deputy will make temporary quarters at the Mint Monday, and that they will make limited payments from funds supplied by Supt. Leach. All the sub-treasury stationery, blanks, forms, books and check books were destroyed. Collector of Customs Stratton telegraphed:

"Appraisers' stores and customs house completely saved, business handled easily; but commercial interests in utmost confusion. Please send mail and telegrams to 1301 Harrison street, Oakland."

SOLDIERS LEAVE FOR WEST.

Detachment of United States Troops Being Rushed to the Stricken City.

CHICAGO, April 22.—A detachment of United States troops, about 100 in number, from Washington, D. C., destined for San Francisco, left here over the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at 1 o'clock today. They will be rushed through on fast passenger schedules time.

A train load of supplies contributed in Chicago, including meats and provisions of all kinds as well as tents, blankets and other necessaries, will also leave over the Northwestern at 5 o'clock today. This train will be sent out on passenger schedule and every effort made to rush it through to the stricken city.

NO SERIOUS CASE OF SICKNESS IN GOLDEN GATE PARK CAMP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Maj. Frank Y. Keesling, in charge of Golden Gate park today, made this report to Gen. Funston: "I beg to advise you that not a case of serious sickness exists in this park. All rumors to the contrary are false and malicious. I will promptly advise you if there is any change, or if anything of a serious nature occurs."

It never disappoints. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

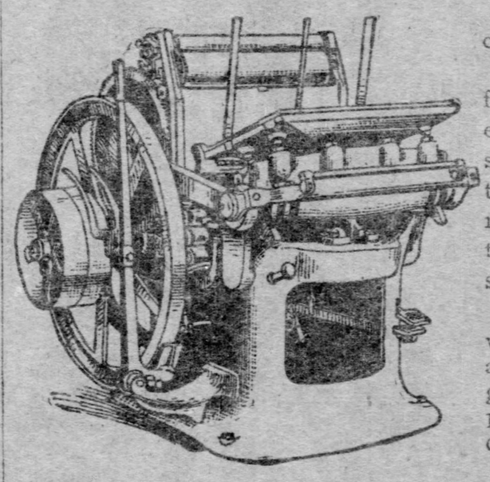
Opening of Our Industrial Exposition This Morning.

As already mentioned this store begins this morning an Industrial Exposition in which the leading purpose is to give store visitors an insight into the manufacture of certain lines of goods.



The exhibit is also for the purpose of showing how Pittsburg will become the greatest industrial city in the world, in the way of light manufacturing.

This exhibit will continue daily until further notice. It will be very interesting to everybody, especially people who have never seen silk looms and looms for weaving woolen and cotton goods in operation—but there is scarcely any need of singling out those special manufactures, as the whole Industrial Display will be an interesting study to every person who visits it.

Every floor, from fifth down to basement, will have its special exhibit of machinery in operation. The locations of the different Exhibits were given in our news of Saturday evening. At the printing press, in operation in Book Store, visitors can secure handbooks showing where the different exhibits are located.

Amidst the noise of manufacture, not too noisy, however, to drown conversation, we will have special sales from day to day which means newest goods at specially reduced prices.

We will also have in different divisions of the store demonstrations of certain lines of goods, which will prove attractive to visitors, especially those demonstrations that tend to lessen the drudgery of household work. These are features of the House Furnishing Division, West Basement.

At some of the places where manufacture is going on there will be souvenirs presented to visitors, notably at the Wood Turning Exhibit in 5th floor, West, and at the Printing Press in Book Store.

Altogether it is to be hoped that this endeavor of ours to interest the people of Pittsburg and the surrounding towns in what constitutes the notoriety of Pittsburg, will be appreciated, and next to that we hope our special sales for special underprices will be appreciated from an economical standpoint.

Illustrative of our Underprices of Yardage Goods, the following news taken from our Industrial Bulletin of Saturday evening is again published this morning.

The Sunday Gazette's Half-Tone Section Scores Another Triumph

Another triumph of the printer's art was given to readers of The Sunday Gazette in its half-tone section. What marvellous changes have been made in modern American newspapers in the past decade. How the art has advanced, from the little four-page daily to the complete up-to-date magazine which is now issued to the reading public for the same price paid for the unsatisfactory journal of not so far back. And in this progression toward the perfect newspaper no journal has made more potent strides than The Gazette. Yesterday's half-tone section tells of the possibilities. No other paper in the Pittsburgh district can go quite so far. Skill must be exercised in the selection of the subjects for the half-tone section. Will any of The Gazette readers say that the selections have not been made with rare discrimination? It requires a workman of the most consummate delicacy of touch to bring about that photographic appearance which characterizes the half-tones in The Sunday Gazette, and that workman is found right in The Gazette office. Every line is brought out with distinctness, each picture standing out with the boldness which reveals the work of the true artist.

The Home Journal section of The Gazette held right up to its usual high standard. George Ade is still in Cairo and he tells of it in his airy, breezy manner. There is a story by Seumas McManus; another by Hill Ronan, and a tale about "Garden Tools and How They Grew," by W. Frank McClure, particularly applicable at this season. Arletta Burroughs insists that it is "Easy Enough to Manage a Husband," and gives a few hints as to how it can best be done. The Housewives' Congress deals with "The Serving of Spring Greens," and contains some useful hints for the household.

The Comic Section is full of hilarity. Mister Coon, the Wish Twins, Sammy Sneeze and Little Jimmy are all on hand, as usual, and the irrepressible Buster Brown, with Tige, manage to make things hum, as only they know how.

The request of the Allegheny Bar association for the re-indexing of deeds should be given consideration. With the present system it is a mighty labor to run a title, or to final data necessary in many legal proceedings. It answered the purpose well enough years ago, but the tremendous growth of population in subdivision of lands and in values, together with the constant increase in questions relative to ownership renders a new system necessary.

This year's contributions of the schools to the hospitals will be fully as large as that of last year. It is practically the only collection of funds permitted in the public schools of this city. There is good reason for the exception being made, for this cause has educational value as well as practical result. The necessity for hospitals should be understood by every child, and there is no beter way to impress it than by participation in the contributions essential to their maintenance.

If there is to be a test of the constitutionality of the new senatorial apportionment, the action should be begun without delay to avoid complications. The season of primaries and conventions is at hand in many districts and the electors ought to know who are to be their candidates. An amicable action may be begun in any district to determine the question. If postponed until nominations are made the proceeding cannot be of an amicable nature and may cause much inconvenience and trouble.

Mayor Kirschler's reform in the matter of baseball passes is notable. The mayor has nothing against the national game, be it understood, but is solicitous for the health of the aunts and grandmothers of the employes about city hall. His exception in favor of the heads of departments, while not conducive to the ill health, real or mythical, is the weak spot in his reform. The directors might have been left on duty to see to it that clerks do not spend the afternoons mourning for the passes that come not.

Two huge liners are to be added to the Cunard equipment, the British government having loaned the company $10,000,000 to be used in their construction. They will be propelled by steam turbines at the maximum speed of 24 knots an hour. Their size may be judged by the fact they will be 88 feet beam, the first ships to exceed the 83-feet beam of the Great Eastern. They will be of gross tonnage 35,000 each and have capacity for 3,000 passengers. Thus it is seen how other governments encourage shipbuilding, while our own does not.

Two Johnstown girls, masquerading in male attire, have been caught in Allegheny and are willing, even anxious, to go home with their experience. There is a moral in this incident if applied by the right persons. There are many young girls restive under proper restraint who might learn something from the experience of others. Boys do not always have a good time. But boys and girls have nothing to gain by going out on an escapade in this manner. Honest industry will bring reward and years will bring regret for youthful folly.

A number of Russian authors have taken the trouble to meet and pass resolutions disapproving the American attitude toward Maxim Gorky and his female companion. Possibly the Russian authors do not quite understand the case. If they do, so much the worse for them. If they hold the easy views of Gorky about the marital relation, and if their resolutions of disapproval portend their refusal to honor this country with their own presence, so much the better, for us. We prefer the American standard and will be glad of an opportunity to improve it without foreign interference.

Somebody has been imposing on that staid and sober publication, the Canadian Manufacturer. It seriously announces that a certain Professor Muller has started a whale dairy on a large scale in Newfoundland. He is said to have 50 cow whales already corralled, and it requires 60 men to manufacture butter, cheese and other lacteal products from this remarkably tractable marine herd. Of course, as a whale is not a fish, the narrative printed by the Manufacturer cannot be classed under the head of fish stories, but it is nevertheless the scaliest piece of imposition ever perpetrated on a confiding journal. It is a whale story.

A Democratic contemporary, discussing President Roosevelt's proposition for a progressive tax on huge fortunes, says if the tariff is reduced to a revenue basis such tax will be unnecessary. It refers feelingly to the income tax provision of the Wilson tariff bill. For once we are inclined to agree with our Democratic contemporary on the main proposition. A Democratic tariff will prevent the accumulation of great fortunes. We object, however, to the remedy, because it would be worse than the disease. Under such a regime the plain people would starve to death. The income tax was not the worst provision of the Wilson bill.

It is announced that one of the most important bills under consideration at the present session of the Canadian parliament is a government measure dealing with the observance of the Sabbath. In its present form it is extremely drastic. It prohibits every form of labor except that entailed in keeping railroad trains moving. It is claimed that unless an amendment is made to the measure it will be impossible in Canada to operate street cars, distribute perishable necessities, publish a Sunday newspaper, or do the Sunday work necessary for the production of a Monday morning paper. It would appear the advocates of rational observance of the Sabbath in the Dominion have become irrational.

Speaker Cannon Accused.

It is whispered in Washington that Joseph G. Cannon is the one man who stands in the way of enactment at this session of a bill to further restrict immigration. A careful canvass of the house makes it practically certain the Gardner bill would have a pronounced majority if allowed to come to a vote. Inquiry develops a strong sentiment in that body favorable to the Gardner bill. To get any bill through requires a rule and here is where the question appears to narrow down to the speaker. He is said to oppose the rule, though John Dalzell and Gen. Grosvenor admit privately they favor its adoption.

We regret to entertain this view, even as a rumor. Speaker Cannon is usually noted for his good common sense and his political acumen. If this whisper be true, however, he is committing the most serious mistake of his career. There may be no decided opinion in the Eighteenth congressional district of Illinois on this subject, but there is feeling enough elsewhere to afford a surplus for Mr. Cannon's bailiwick. There can be no question about what is the sentiment of the country at large on this question and it is an earnest sentiment.

There is no issue before the country in which the plain people are taking more interest than in this. They may forget the insurance scandals and overlook the immunity oaths, but they are going to remember the flood of unrestricted immigration, because they have daily reminder of it and daily suffering from it. The men who pioneered across this country to the west, who opened its vast resources, and their descendants do not propose to be crowded over the edge, into the Pacific ocean, by a horde of new comers, brought by the flaunting prospectuses of foreign steamship companies, aided by governments that have no use for them at home.

It may be possible for Speaker Cannon to keep the gates open during the life of this congress, but certainly not longer. If he does it so long he will regret it. In former years there were always protests against restriction. There are none this time. Even the comparatively recent arrivals are protesting against the flood in those sections that are being deluged. The prevailing extraordinary prosperity is doing much to absorb the influx, but this condition cannot continue forever. The gates cannot be closed too soon. Even though the majority find some employment, hundreds of thousands are of the undesirable kind, incapable and unwilling to become good citizens.

We express the hope again that Speaker Cannon is not standing in the way, as reported. He is too sturdy an American and apostle of optimism to favor a lowering of the standard of living in this country. It would be the shattering of an idol for the people to learn that "Uncle Joe" is protectionist on only one side.

Tom Johnson, Showman.

Tom L. Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, has started on another campaign tour, this time with theatrical accessories. A few years ago he toured Ohio with a circus tent in the interest of the candidacy of the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, candidate for secretary of state. This year he is traveling with advance agents and three-sheet posters. As Mr. Johnson pays his own expenses, he is fully privileged to take his vacations in this manner if he likes it.

Tom L. Johnson is a unique figure in politics. Since his advent in congress, as a free trade disciple of Frank Hurd, though engaged in a protected industry, Mr. Johnson has attracted much attention. From free trade he has gone to the adoption of free silver, single tax and other isms. After disposing of large street railway interests he became the champion of 3-cent fares. What he will advocate on the present theatrical tour remains to be seen, but it will be something interesting.

Mr. Johnson would have made a successful showman. He has a good appreciation of novelty, and no convictions deep enough to seriously interfere with exploitation of a new fad. As a politician he has been but moderately successful. He has won a few personal campaigns by a combination of geniality and bizarre reform promises. He has not now much else. However, being rich, he can afford the diversion, and Ohio will always be amused while he is on the road.

Earthquake Theories.

Professor Matteucci of the Vesuvius observatory and Professor Milne of England represent the opposite theories concerning the earthquake at San Francisco. Matteucci is of opinion they are separate manifestations of the same cause; Milne is of the opinion the Pacific coast disturbance had its origin in the Sierras. Yet they are not as far apart as they appear.

Professor Matteucci does not say there is any direct connection between Vesuvius and San Francisco. He says they are due primarily to the same cause. He would probably include the disturbances in Formosa, and he is surprised that Mont Pelee and La Soufriere have shown no activity. Professor Milne does not deny the existence of one cause, but flouts the notion of direct connection. Matteucci, however, evidently believes the whole interior of the earth to be molten, while Milne leaves the inference of doubt on that score.

In regard to Professor Matteucci's reference to Mont Pelee it may be recalled it was in mild action at about the time Vesuvius first threatened an eruption and La Soufriere was frightening the islanders. Similarly when Mont Pelee destroyed St. Pierre, Vesuvius was mildly aroused. Vesuvius was agitated during the period when Krakatoa annihilated itself, and, one at least, of the volcanoes of Japan erupted at the same time. The weight of evidence favors Matteucci's belief in a common cause, but fails to point out that cause.

The most stable region, that is, the one least disturbed by earthquakes, is that in which we live. Geologists agree the first continent embraced the region adjacent to Lake Ontario, and the whole Appalachian formation appeared ages before the upheaval of the Rocky mountains, while the Sierras came later still. It is not impossible that serious earthquakes may occur here, but it is a remote probability, whether we accept the Matteucci or the Milne theory.

A Wholesale Raid.

Pittsburgh has been fairly startled by the magnitude of the police raid upon disorderly houses made Saturday night and yesterday morning. It passed all records in that line, yielding over 500 prisoners. A significant feature of the case is the positive warning to proprietors to not reopen their establishments and another was the pertinent and persistent inquiry where they purchased their supplies of liquor.

Obviously the new administration means to abate the vice nuisance and suppress the illegal sale of liquor, by no gentle measures. This intent will be applauded by all good citizens and the vigorous inauguration of the reform will be commended. Naturally the courts will take note of the disclosures, including the sources of speak-easy intoxicants, so they will be prepared to act when cases come before them. The further development of the administration policy will be awaited with much interest by the general public, and some praise is due Mayor Kirschler of Allegheny for his firm declaration that Pittsburgh's vice shall not find asylum across the river, the North Side having too much already.

Earthquake and Fireproof.

Quite reliable information is now at hand as to how the various types of structure withstood the earthquake and fire in San Francisco. The Alameda building, of reinforced concrete, stood both shock and fire well. The ordinary steel frame structures lost some of their casing and plaster by the shock and were pretty well gutted by the flames. The heavy masonry of the government buildings, mint and postoffice, survived. Other structures succumbed readily to either shock or fire.

These facts afford clear indication of how San Francisco should be rebuilt. Steel frame buildings are tolerably reliable in masses, but not when surrounded by inflammables. Masonry walls are good when heavy, constructed with care and well cemented. Steel skeleton covered with good concrete is stable and fire-resistant. Brick and wood should be negligible quantities in that city. Concrete, with steel reinforcement, is likely to be popular, because it is cheap and good. Cement is largely manufactured in the west and Pittsburgh can supply the steel for both steel types.

Details on this subject will be awaited with interest. There is much rivalry between makers of building materials and the advocates of different styles of construction. The exact truth will be learned only after a careful investigation by impartial experts. The facts referred to above are but general principles. In any type of construction honesty is as important a factor as the materials used.

The Unknown Land.

Material contributions to geographical knowledge will be made by Mrs. Mina Hubbard and by Dillon Wallace, who have recently traveled unknown regions of Labrador. Mrs. Hubbard was impelled to her laborious and perilous undertaking to complete the work of exploration in which her husband lost his life, and she has been highly successful. Dillon Wallace is now journeying homeward and is far enough toward civilization to report the success of his mission.

Mrs. Hubbard's expedition enabled her to trace the course of the Nascaupee river to its source in the great lake Michikaman, and to ascertain that it is identical with the northwest river, the geographies having previously rated them as separate streams. She also located the headwaters of the George river, north of the divide and followed it, from a little stream, 300 miles to its mouth, where it is three miles wide.

This land is the great unknown area of the North American continent. Lake Michikaman has been known from tales told by the Indians and by trappers. Only recently it has been visited by whites. The region beyond was first successfully explored by Mrs. Hubbard. Now Dillon Wallace has gone over the trail and will have more information. Soon Michikaman will become the object of the vacation tourist listening to the "call of the wild." There is so little "out-of-doors" remaining that ice-bound regions offer attractions.

Gov. Pennypacker will have troubles of his own in picking the registration commissioners, but be sure he will make a good job of it.

Quiet Observations on Timely Topics

What an Odd Sort We Are as Viewed from Up a Tree.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Millions of dollars are pouring into San Francisco, and several big bunches of good coin are going to the Vesuvius sufferers.

We are an emotional people, not easily stampeded, but ever ready to take a hand in anything big and exciting.

This is a commendable spirit, a spirit without which victims of catastrophes would be allowed to drag along miserably or die, as in the very olden time.

We are more closely united than were the ancients. Their only mode of conveying news was by carriers, or runners, and these none of the fastest.

Think of getting news from San Francisco by carrier. We wouldn't have known of the disaster yet. Two hundred miles a day is fast for runners going by short relays. At that rate it would take about 20 days to get news from here to the Pacific coast, or from there here.

According to that we wouldn't hear of the disaster until about May 1. And then it would require two months at least to reach San Francisco with food and clothing, and fully a month before contributions of money could be delivered. In the meantime the worst sufferers would have died and the more fortunate survivors would have resumed business.

* * *

The funny, or rather the anamalous, part of the whole matter is, that we can witness want and suffering around us here at home and never once think of going down into our pockets, or even turning a hand to relieve them.

We meet a friend and neighbor on Wall street, take the roof from over his head, the last dollar from his pocket, the bread from the mouths of his children, all without a twinge of conscience.

And instead of giving this neighbor a share of his own that we had taken from him, or giving him a helping hand, we go on our way rejoicing in our good fortune. Should he, through human weakness, take to drink, or enter upon a course leading straight to hell, we would stop only long enough to say it is a pity that he should have struck such tough luck.

* * *

But let a steamboat burn, a dam break and drown a lot of people, a volcano open up and drive venturesome hordes from its possessions, or an earthquake play its pranks on its well-known playgrounds, we rush to the rescue with more money and more provisions for health and comfort than the sufferers really need.

Have we lost sight of the individual and see only the mass? Have we no longer consideration for a lone, lorn neighbor? Are we so hardened that we only see want in mass and not in the individual case?

Instances such as the one now engaging the attention of the people show that we can rise to any emergency, no matter how great. But, somehow, we can't recognize lesser emergencies, although none the less urgent.

Surely San Francisco will be rebuilt, and built stronger and better, yet it will be in the midst of the playgrounds of earthquakes, and danger will threaten it daily and nightly. It may be years and years, but the chances are that greater earthquakes will occur, and that the greater city will suffer even as the one just passed away.

But, then, we are a venturesome people, and have for our motto "Nothing ventured, nothing won." Being out to win, we take great chances of losing in hopes of being winners.

If each section of the country would rush to the aid of some particular section in case of threatened panic as they have rushed to assist and to support San Francisco, this nation would be a veritable financial Gibraltar.

* * *

Now that we have been brought so closely together by telegraph, telephone and rail, is it not possible that we will become more and more like one family and hold things more and more in common, as a well-regulated family should?

It seems so, really, and the time may not be distant more than five or six generations until all interests will be common, and the common aim of all will be the betterment of all, socially, morally and physically.

That we are capable of great generosity there can be no doubt, for we have shown it in many ways aside from contributing money, and stores to the needy. Have we not gone to the aid of the oppressed, and have we not forgotten those who would have rent our nation in twain and unfitted it for becoming the world power it now is?

* * *

It is for us now to learn that charity begins at home.

We can say that it does, and prate and poetize on the saying, but with most of us, by far the most, it is only a theory and not a condition of heart and mind.

Until we feel this great truth in our hearts as clearly as we see it in our minds we will not be a model family.

But when we do we will realize that each is his brother's keeper, and that each in a measure is responsible for his brother's success or failure.

It is to this desirable end that the times are tending, calamity-howlers and pessimists to the contrary notwithstanding.

Is it not written that the end of all law is to love God with all thy soul, and thy neighbor as thyself? And hath it not been written also that the trend of all teaching has been to this end?

* * *

And yet it is not an easy thing to forget the God we were taught to worship, nor the methods we were taught to reverence, nor the manners we were taught to observe.

It is well, therefore, that death is busy among us, for if men died not neither would their teachings and manners change, and instead of the world progressing it would remain as it was when the oldest in the land were young.

Occasional catastrophies arouse the generous impulses of our natures; failures now and again remind us that we are not all powerful, and seasons of prosperity show us that God reigns, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.

How Much Spiritual Energy Is Wasted?

In Physical Things as in Soul-Life by Far the Greater Power Is Lost.

By A MINISTER.

To abolish waste! This is one of the greatest, if not the very greatest of the problems in life. Scientific schools are turning out the choice young men of the time in response to this incessant clamor of industry and commerce that the fragments shall be gathered and nothing be lost.

Naturally the things of the physical world come first to the attention of men, but the same cry is heard from spiritual high places. In the endless range of energy, as it manifests itself in material things, and finally in the human spirit, the cry is ever the same. Waste nothing, for it is wrong to waste. There is a revulsion against waste and the failure to make fully use of the powers which surcharge the world.

The era is dawning when such words as rubbish and debris will cease to have any reputable meaning. Even the things which are least regarded, or it may be, despised, have their uses. It is the part of laboring genius to convert the hitherto useless and castoff of the universe into serviceable and efficient things. The unanimity with which this great undertaking engages some of the best men in the world is a magnificent tribute to the posey that there is "good in everything." The eternal usefulness of all things is confirmed in the simple law that matter is indestructible. A corollary of this law is that all things are also valuable and serviceable, and that it is a grievous error to look with indifference or contempt upon the unsightly and rejected objects of a duller vision.

It is a distressing fact that in the byways of these two sister cities are heaps of that which is called filth because the value of this offall is not appreciated by the citizens. Apart from the hundreds of dollars that annually go to grace or disgrace—many a vacant lot, and apart from the criminal violation of ordinary health laws thus practiced, is the even more lamentable blindness to the waste of materials and energy thus fostered.

* * *

In plant life also, better days are coming. The number of so-called weeds, or useles things of the fields, is constantly diminishing. The study of biology is making encroachments continually upon those specimens which once were trodden under foot as of no beauty or usefulness. The shortest way with many of them was to pluck them for the burning, or to turn them under the soil with the plowshare, and to allow them to decompose and fertilize the land. But even this was an unconscious tribute to their utility.

Whatever men do, they really render worship to the Creator, for the things which men think they destroy turn out to be advantages for the earth and for humanity. So this failure to employ for the best uses these energies in the world is not a complete failure, the Almighty correcting in large part the errors of those who misunderstand.

There is, however, less and less misunderstanding, and the story of growing discernment of the purpose and possibilities in the least of things, in the soil as in the soul, is a beautiful index pointing to the millenial time when all of the forces in the whole realm of God's nature will be controlled and employed to the full.

* * *

How far the world today is from realizing this feasible ideal is another story. So is the story of opportunity within the seizure of men and women of this and coming generations. A simple illustration will perhaps startle even the most proficient spiritual beings. In the making of electric light, coal is first used for the formation of steam, which in turn is converted into mechanical energy, and this into electrical energy, and the electrical energy finally into the energy of the light waves. Of the original energy stored by nature in the coal, less than one per cent is reproduced in the electric light. In other words, more than 99 per cent of the power that was stored in the coal is absolutely wasted.

No one but a blind and conceited person would long dispute that some such proportion of efficiency to waste obtains in the process of converting the energy which is abundantly stored in men's lives. Mr. Sankey's song, founded on the Biblical narrative of "the ninety and nine," suggesies a new song, in which the ninety and nine, and not the one, are lost. Surely this is more according to the facts, and the one thing before all others is to be true to the truth, however unpleasant that may be to men's preconceived ideas of things.

This business of reducing the 99 is a general problem at this time. School teachers and preachers are chiefly in travail with the surpassing dificulty. Spirit-values have had little show in the schools, and even in the church there is a lack of systematic training of the energies which go to make or mar a man. Prophets are bobbing up with their plans of salvation, but the world is still without anything satisfactory. One aspect of socialism has it that to right the economic wrongs would bring Utopia. But the world seems to shake its head, spite of its recognition of the gross wrongs that exist.

* * *

Men in general do not believe that a change in economic conditions will make a change in the character of men. Good wages are not as effective for spiritual life, or character, as wholesome spiritual life is effective in the business of increasing wages. And wages, most men agree, are not the fundamental thing, at any rate. The heart will always be greater than the purse.

It is a serious question whether anyone will ever come along with a universal and complete scheme for training the heart. The chief hope of the world is based upon the responsiveness of the soul to the commandments, the love for God and men. Even intellectual training is dependent not so much on schemes of education as on the love of truth, and the ability to impart that mystic quality.

* * *

Turning the hearts of men to the things which deserve the chief attention is the best way to decrease the deplorable 99. The neglect of the greatest energy, that, namely, in a human soul, and the preferment for converting the energy in the material realm, is a clinching argument that the world is not far advanced from the less than one per cent.

It would be interesting to know how many men in Pittsburgh, for example, are giving as much care to the converting of the spiritual energies of their children into the terms of love, joy, peace, justice, truth, as they are engrossed in the luxury-bringing struggles in the making of iron, steel, glass, and an infinite variety of things. Isn't human life really very cheap?

* * *

From the beginning of religion, which is the business of training and using spiritual energy, the church, or society of religionists, has been the most effective agency of diminishing the enormous quantity of wasted energy. The church, with all of her shortcomings and they have been many because her responsibilities have been greater by far than those of any other institution—has always been the one distinctive place where the laws of spiritual life have been pondered by the communion of believers; where men and women of all sorts and conditions have gathered with their various ideas and ways of living. She has been in a profound way a laboratory of spiritual energies in which each person has been glad to bring his experiences for the welfare of the whole. By comparing and systematizing the results, religious ideas have grown elaborate, but they have always been reducible to the simple elements about which the Great Religionist talked so plainly and convincingly.

* * *

Every man has religious experiences by his very nature, so it is his business, for the good of the church and religion, to get into touch with a church. In fact, no man is a true member of society who withholds his active membership from some religious organization. A man without a church is worse than a man without a country. No matter how superior he is, or how much he asks that the church shall give him, or whatever else may be his argument, he owes it to others and to himself to give what he has and is. That is the way the electrical engineer hopes to reduce the 99 per cent. He doesn't isolate himself. He joins an engineers' society. He knows that "one man is no man." The cry is: "Get together on this problem of conserving the energy of the spirit." This is everybody's business, for everybody is a soul. And the world needs the full fruits of religion.

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

Notes About People and Events in Pittsburghers Are Are Interested.

"There is something quite distinctive in my return to Pittsburgh," said Olga Nethersole last night, when seen at the Hotel Schenley. "You know it was here that I really received the first important impetus in my career."

It should be said that her brother and manager, Louis Nethersole, has always maintained that Pittsburgh really discovered Miss Nethersole.

"After an absence of six years," continued Miss Nethersole, "I am curious to know if the very pleasant recollection I have cherished these years of my cordial reception here is to be added to in like. I have since given very serious thought and effort to my art and would regard it as a distinct triumph if I succeed in winning a corresponding measure of approval here. I like plays with an ethical purpose. Those that deal in a serious way with serious subjects. For this reason I choose complex plays, those that I can agree with in their ethical purpose."

In the play with which she opens her engagement here tonight, "The Labyrinth," by Paul Her Vieu, the subject of divorce is dealt with. This is her newest vehicle. The author is one of the Forty Immortals and it was adapted by W. L. Courtney, editor of the Fortnightly Review. The argument is against divorce—that nothing can destroy the trinity of being of mother, father and child.

While here Miss Nethersole will be called upon by a number of those who are interested in the subject of tuberculosis, and the day will probably be Thursday. She is the founder of the Women's International Anti-Tuberculosis league, which will meet in Washington next month. The aim is to secure 100 members before the first of next year. While in Chicago last week Miss Nethersole gave the receipts of a matinee to the Tuberculosis dispensary, amounting to $2,070. During her stay there Mrs. Stoddard Hancock and Mrs. Frank Logan became members of the league which the actress is trying to establish. The queen of England has already indicated that she will receive Miss Nethersole when she returns to England on this subject and will probably join the league. The work of the league is educative, with a view of preventing the disease.

Arrange for Glass Conference.

Five members of the executive committee of the United States Window Glass Company met at the Fort Pitt yesterday and arranged for another conference in Atlantic City from May 1 to 4. This conference will be between representatives of the independents, representing nearly 2,000 pots, and the eastern jobbers.

"Lack of union among the independents has long resulted in a bad condition of trade and we have formed an organization that gives promise of permanence," said a Cleveland glass manufacturer after the meeting. "This result has encouraged us to attempt closer harmony with jobbers in order to maintain the higher schedule settled upon at our Pittsburgh conference last Friday."

Scenes in the Stations.

C. J. Fink, a banker of Chicago, went through Union station last night on a special car with a party of friends bound for Washington. Another special car contained P. Shields and a party of Detroiters, en route to Philadelphia.

The first tangible result of the 46,000 immigrants who landed in New York during the past week was seen in four trains loaded with immigrants that passed through Pittsburgh yesterday, all bound for western towns. A feature of the large importation was that not one immigrant of the large number left the train at Pittsburgh.

A Relieved San Franciscan.

"Those who have been frantically dispatching telegram after telegram to friends and relatives in San Francisco without eliciting any response, should not be disheartened at the silence of loved ones," said George A. Adams, a 'Frisco man at the Colonial last night. "During the three last days of dread I have sent fully 30 'wires' to my relatives in 'Frisco, and when my heart was gladdened by a telegram, announcing safety, it contained no intimation that any of those 30 messages had been received. Therefore, there is no reason for being prematurely disheartened, as the number of undelivered messages in 'Frisco must run into the thousands, even if they've had the luck to reach that city at all."

A welcome wire dated last evening at Oakland announced to Mr. Adams that his family and relatives were safe and his business property in Sierra county undamaged. Mr. Adams has been living at the Colonial hotel for the past two months. He is president of the First National Mining Company with offices at Lincoln and Willow streets, San Francisco.

One Relief Train Yesterday.

Only one relief train for San Francisco passed through Pittsburgh yesterday, and it was a small government train of eight cars bound from Washington. This train, exercising the right of way given it by the B. & O., is making splendid time and will form the nucleus of a larger government special that will be made up at Chicago today. No other relief trains passed through yesterday on other lines. One is making up at the B. & O.'s Camden station in Baltimore, and another under government supervision at Washington, and both will be en route today. The Pennsylvania has made arrangements to handle two trains from the east today.

Much of the generosity of the east is taking shape in more expeditious transfers of money to Chicago and more western points to be used in buying supplies and in starting relief trains from those points, because of the handicap the east suffers in its long distance from San Francisco.

Good Stories of Pith and Moment.

Chat and Anecdote of Entertaining and Instructive Character.

CULLED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Chairman Was Mixed.

The chairman of the committee was addressing a meeting at a teachers' institute.

"My friends, the school work is the bulhouse of civilization. I mean—ah——"

The chairman had stage fright.

"The bulhouse is the school work of civ——"

A smile began to make itself felt.

"The workhouse is the bulschool of——"

He was evidently twisted.

"The bulschool is the workhouse——"

An audible snicker spread over the audience.

"The bullschool——"

He was getting wild. So was his hearers. He mopped perspiration, gritted his teeth and made a fresh effort.

"The schoolhouse, my friends——"

A sigh of relief went up. Ah, now he had his feet under him again. He gazed suavely around. The light of triumphant self-confidence was enthroned up his brow.

"Is the woolbark——"

He gasped, and that was all.—Magazine of Fun.

His Little Liquor Bill.

Representative Nehemiah D. Sperry of Connecticut is the chairman of the house committee on the alcoholic liquor traffic, and, incidentally, he is the most pronounced prohibitionist in congress. He abhors intoxicants and is always ready to tell people to look not upon the wine while it is red.

This morning he was in his seat in the house with a worried look on his face. From his expression one would have thought he had all the weight of the universe on his prohibitionist shoulders. The anxious cast of his countenance remained unchanged for a long while. Evidently the chairman on alcoholic liquor traffic was wrestling with a problem.

Finally Delegate Smith of Arizona went over to Mr. Sperry's desk.

"What on earth is the matter?" asked Mr. Smith.

Mr. Sperry roused himself from his painful reverie.

"Well, you see," he began to explain, "I've a little liquor bill over in the senate, and——"

"Well, why in thunder don't you pay it?" broke in Mr. Smith with a laugh.

After the merriment of the members in the vicinity had subsided Mr. Sperry explained that it was a legislative bill he wanted the senate to pass—not a bill for liquor purchased.—Washington Times.

Nothing in It.

A certain young wife helps out her husband's somewhat slender income by doing dressmaking for her friends. Upon coming home one evening, he found her cutting up a piece of goods for a waist, and inquired:

"Well, dear, what do you expect to get out of that?"

"Oh, two dollars, I guess," was the reply.

Later on, the parents observed their little 5-year-old daughter engaged, with a pair of scissors in cutting into small fragments a scrap of the same goods.

"What are you doing—making your dolly a dress?" the father asked.

The little girl sighed.

"No; I was trying to get a penny out of it, but I haven't found it yet," was the disconsolate reply.—American Spectator.

Unsubdued.

There was a business man in a little western town who never had a good word for anybody. Every one held him in more or less fear and many disliked him strongly. He made no effort to cultivate friendships and at one time or another almost every inhabitant of the village had had a quarrel with him. One day the old lion tried to board a train which did not stop. He was thrown a great distance and fell in a heap on the track in the rear of the departing train. The group of villagers on the depot platform thought that their hereditary enemy had been killed before their eyes and were ready to drop all their bitter prejudices at the grave.

One ran up to where the fallen monarch lay, and, seeing signs of returning life, anxiously asked: "Are you badly hurt, captain?"

With the first short breath the fallen man was able to draw he gasped: "No, you d—— old fool! That's the way I always get off a train."—Kansas City Times.

"Brute!"

"Very well, madame."

"I repeat it. You are a brute. Here you come home and beat me when you know perfectly well that happy marriages are going to be the style this season. How am I ever to look the world in the face?"

And with this the wretched, mismated wife burst into a torrent of tears.—Puck.

INTERESTED CROWDS OUTSIDE CENTRAL STATION DURING THE HEARINGS

MAY SEND MORE FUNDS AWAY TODAY

Local Relief Committee Will Hold Meeting This Morning to Consider Matter.

WANT ARCHITECTS AT ONCE

Arrangements have been made by Mayor Guthrie and the committee of 21, in charge of the local California relief fund to hold a meeting in the mayor's office at 10 o'clock this morning to consider means by which to send further contributions to the stricken districts on the Pacific coast.

Mayor Guthrie received two important telegrams yesterday. The first was an appeal for architects to help rebuild the fallen and burned city. It was as follows:

How many architects or architectural draughtsmen can you furnish us and how quickly can they leave for San Francisco?

EUGENE L. SCHMITZ, Mayor.

The other message was from Portland, Ore., to which point the local relief committee has sent $25,000 to be applied for provisions for San Francisco. This message stated that the Portland relief committee has arranged to make daily shipments to San Francisco, and has opened communications with Gen. Funston and Mayor Schmitz. This committee has now $250,000 for the work and announces that the Wells-Fargo Express Company and the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will carry provisions free of charge.

Offer of Disinfectants.

In answer to the appeal sent out from San Francisco Saturday for disinfectant the American Disinfectant Company of this city called a special meeting of its board of directors yesterday, the result of which was the forwarding of the following letter:

PITTSBURGH, PA., April 22, 1906.

Hon. George W. Guthrie, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Dear Sir—In view of the dreadful sanitary conditions prevailing in San Francisco, and the urgent necessity for speedy relief, we have this day wired our representative at Seattle, Wash., to forward from that point, on behalf of your committee, sufficient creolol to make 2,500 gallons of germicide and disinfectant. Very respectfully yours,

W. A. GRIFFITH,
President American Disinfectant Co.

Mayor Guthrie announced last night that he would accept the contribution contingent upon the approbation of the committee.

President William Price of the Diamond National bank conferred with the mayor yesterday on the request made upon his bank to collect contributions for the National Red Cross society, and it was decided to do so, because of the belief that it would encourage smaller contributions. President Wilson A. Shaw of the Bank of Pittsburgh, National association, received a similar request from the Pennsylvania state branch of the Red Cross society, and will present the matter before the board of directors of that bank this morning.

Firemen Contribute $500.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh Firemen's Relief and Benevolent association, held Saturday night, $500 was voted to the relief fund and a check for that amount will be handed Mayor Guthrie by Chief Miles S. Humphreys this morning.

James Riley, proprietor of the Hotel Schenley, has given the use of the banquet hall of the hotel for next Saturday evening to the production of Prof. Silas G. Pratt's concert-lecture entitled, "From Pan to Wagner." The production is a transfiguration of a melody from the origin of the flute down through the ages to Wagner's music-drama, and has been produced in many of the large cities with great success. Prof. Pratt will have the assistance of Mrs. Emma Porter Makinson in the requisite vocal selections. Tickets will be placed on sale in all music stores, and the proceeds will go to the general relief fund. A feature of the performance will be the presentation of stereopticon views of famous masterpieces from the greatest painters.

NO MORE VISITORS WANTED.

Only People Willing to Work and Help Are Welcome, Says Chief of Police Dinan.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Chief of Police Dinan has sent the following notice to the sheriffs and chiefs of police of cities and towns adjoining this city:

"The number of visitors and sightseers who are coming to this city has become so great that it is impeding the work of the relief committee of this city. You will confer a great favor on the mayor and myself if you will have guards stationed at every train approaching this city and allow no one to board them unless on business of urgent necessity, or those who are absolutely known to be willing to assist in relief."

SANTA ROSA IS CUT OFF; CONDITIONS ARE UNKNOWN

WASHINGTON, April 22.—In response to inquiries regarding the conditions at Santa Rosa, Cal., the war department tonight received the following from Gen. Funston: "Telegram with reference to condition in Santa Rosa just received. Communication been entirely cut off. Nothing was known of the condition of the surrounding country. An officer will be detailed at once and sent to investigate conditions. All available means for relief will be taken."

SLAUGHTER DUE IN ALLEGHENY

Weeding-Out Process Starts This Week and 300 Changes Will Be Made.

DEMOCRATS ARE TO GET JOBS

The official ax will be used in Allegheny this week more freely than it has ever been before. It is said 300 heads will fall. Mayor Kirschler has had frequent conferences with his heads of departments during the last week, and a list of the doomed has been prepared. They will be employes of the police and fire bureaus, department of public works and bureau of health. Some will receive notice of their dismissal today, while others will be allowed to continue in office until May 1.

Mayor Kirschler has been slow to make this move, but it is said that he has been waiting to make a careful investigation, and retain those employes who were most fit. While it had been predicted that there were a number of heads to be chopped off in the departments of public safety and public works, it will be a surprise to many to learn that some of the employes in the bureau of health must go. Dr. Beatty, the director, is said to be opposed to any changes except for incompetency, but the pressure that is being brought to bear by ward politicians has made it necessary to find places for the faithful, and he has been asked to help.

The list of those slated to get the positions made vacant by the dismissals has been prepared, and on it there are 50 Democrats, who have been recommended by Assessor Robert Beck.

WITNESS BALL GAMES? NO! WORK, SAYS MAYOR

Allegheny City Hall Employes Are Bemoaning the Loss of Their Pass Books.

There is woe among the employes in the Allegheny City hall. And there are also some harsh things being said about Mayor Kirschler. It is all because they have learned that even they must suffer by the reform wave that has struck the North Side.

No more will they occupy "deadhead" seats in the grandstand at Exposition park, cheer the Pirates on to victory, and with a clear conscience present their monthly warrants to Treasurer Kepp. Mayor Kirschler has let it be understood that they will be expected to devote their entire time to their work in the future, and are not expected to attend ball games on working days. On Saturday and other holidays they may suit themselves, but they will pay for the enjoyment at regular box office rates.

In the past it has been the custom for city hall employes to be supplied with annual passbooks, or given some of the numberless daily passes which Barney Dreyfuss, out of the goodness of his heart, saw fit to send the mayor. But Mayor Kirschler inaugurated a new system. He asked for only enough books for himself and the directors of departments and it did not take the others long to learn that their presence at the ball games was not desired. Several tried to secure the coveted pass in a roundabout way, but discovered the president of the Pirates had taken his cue from the mayor, and there was "nothing doing." To express in print some of the remarks of the men would be an offense against the morals of the community.

ICE DRIVERS COMPLAIN.

Say Cool Weather Is Handicap in Their Fight Against Companies.

The striking icemen of Greater Pittsburgh held a meeting yesterday and decided to continue their fight against the Ice Dealers' league, which has locked them out. The weekly benefits were paid to the men. Manager Frank Poulson of the local union of drivers and helpers said last night that the cool weather has greatly handicapped them in their fight. With the coming of the hot days they expect to compel the companies to come to terms.

President T. A. Dunn of the Ice Dealers' league said last night that the strike was a dead issue. "We are serving our customers just as well as we did last April this time, and have no reason for keeping up a dispute with the drivers," he said. "If they want to return at their old wages and terms, we will take them back if the places are open for them."

CRUISER BRINGS BACK BODIES OF OFFICERS

NEW YORK, April 22.—The United States cruisers Maryland, Pennsylvania and Colorado arrived here today and anchored off Tompkinsville. The Maryland brought the bodies of the officers who were killed by the explosion of the battleship Kearsarge recently. The caskets were placed on a naval tug and taken to the Brooklyn navy yard, where the bodies were delivered to the relatives of the victims.

GUTHRIE AIMS AT BIG GAME IN CRUSADE

been bought. Director Ridgway made a note of the name of these liquor dealers.

Enormous Rents Are Paid.

It developed that several real estate firms are charging these women excessive rentals for houses they occupy. In many instances as much as $150 rent per month was paid for a house that would not rent for one-fourth the sum for any legitimate purpose. Many of the women were reticent in telling from whom they rented. Some claimed they did not know from whom they rented; that each month someone went to the house and collected the rent.

Rents have been advanced within the past month, and one woman's rent was raised $50 a month. An old shack at 834 Second avenue, occupied by Tennie Swartz, for which $10 a month would have been a big rental, rented for $50 a month. Annie Silverman, at 332 Third avenue, paid $150, and Mamie Smith, 106 Grant street, paid $100 a month for a few rooms. The house occupied by the Smith woman and several other houses in Second avenue were rented from real estate firms. Thousands of dollars were paid by the women for a little furniture and the good will of the house.

Borrowed from Councilman, She Says.

Myrtle Kane of 106 Grant street rented from a real estate firm and paid $125 a month. She has been in the house a few years and bought the furniture from her predecessor in the business for the sum of $3,000. She said she borrowed half the money, $1,500, from Common Councilman Samuel Frankel, and the other $1,500 from Abraham Levine. She had paid the money back. She was held for further examination.

A syndicate seems to have been doing business in the under world. Four houses in a row at the South Tenth street bridge were conducted under one head, but had different housekeepers.

The arrest of an alleged concessionaire caused a sensation during the hearing. Joseph Gotlieb was soliciting money in the court room to pay the fines of a Second avenue house and was taken into custody. He was searched and on him was found a notebook containing the names of women living in disorderly houses, with figures opposite, supposed to represent payments for hosiery which they had purchased at large prices. Gotlieb was fined $100 and costs.

Dressmaker Was Heavily Fined.

A dressmaker, Sadie Weiner of 208 Grant street, pleaded she was not an inmate, but was fined $50 and costs. It was shown that she got big prices for clothing.

One man seemed to have had the beer trade of the disorderly houses cornered. About 90 per cent of the proprietresses who confessed selling beer said they had bought it from John J. Sweeney of Second avenue, a former councilman and member of the legislature. The women said they had paid $1 10 and $1 20 a dozen quarts. It was remarked that the houses conducted by foreigners which sold liquor were in the minority, while practically all of the houses run by Americans dispensed the wet goods. No discrimination in this respect, however, was shown by the magistrate, the dry and wet houses faring alike.

The prisoners represented a variety of nationalities, including Americans, Jews, Italians, Slavs, negroes and one Chinaman. The Jews predominated, most of the proprietresses being of that race. In a few instances Jewish houses were conducted by American landladies. One Jewish landlady said her name was Sadie Burke. She was fined $100 and costs. The great majority of the visitors caught in the houses were Jews and foreigners.

A Fortune Paid in Fines.

Nearly all the prisoners paid their fines and were released. During the day the sum of $7,559 20 in fines and costs had been paid to the city. Lillie Welch of 834 Second avenue failed to appear at the hearing and forfeited $105 she had posted.

Supt. McQuaide placed Detective Cecil G. Rice in charge of the sergeant's desk to receive the fines and to keep a record of the releases. The public safety building, Sixth avenue in front of the building and Cherry alley, were thronged all day yesterday with men seeking the release of prisoners. Well-known saloonkeepers, ward politicians, and several councilmen were at the station house to secure the release of prisoners.

The prisoners suffered a great deal from the congested condition of the cells. In the women's department they were crowded like sardines in a box. Some fainted from being compelled to stand the entire night. Sallie Welsh, proprietress of a house in Third avenue, weighs about 450 pounds, and was too large to get through any of the doors of the cells for women.

One Prisoner Has a Fit.

The sergeants finally decided to allow her to remain in the court room. One man who had been confined in a cell with many others, was seized with a fit and was removed to the Homeopathic hospital. Several men became so exhausted that they had to be taken out into the corridors for relief.

The most comfortable of all the prisoners was the lone Chinaman, Yee See, who was arrested in a house in Grant street. The other prisoners, negro and white, refused to allow the "Chink" to be put in a cell with them. The police were putting Yee See in a cell with negroes when one cried: "If that Chink comes in here he dies." The police feared the Chinaman might suffer bodily harm and gave him a cell to himself.

Inspector Robinson says the crusade against the dives has only begun. "We have 22 other warrants to serve," he said. He said the next raid will be made in the district inhabited by the more fashionable resorts. The district below Wood street, where most of the higher class resorts are located was not invaded Saturday night.

How Information Was Secured.

The informations against these places are said to have been obtained by the best-looking officers of the force selected by Inspector Robinson. He gave them money to buy wine and beer in the "gilded dens," and also borrowed diamonds for them to wear while securing evidence. Women from Allegheny are alleged to have accompanied and assisted the detectives in their investigations. It is stated that in the next general raid gambling houses and speakeasies will also be visited. The police claim to have obtained evidence against parties living in some apartment houses of Fifth avenue and Oakland.

It is stated that the houses closed Saturday night will not be permitted to reopen. The women will be compelled to forfeit their leases, as they cannot afford to pay their present enormous rents. Some of the women told Inspector Robinson yesterday that they had spent from $2,000 to $5,000 to furnish their places, and would lose this money. They asked what they should do.

Told to Leave the City.

"Leave the city," was the inspector's advice. Some of the women are talking of going to Allegheny, but it is said Mayor Kirschler has declared none of them will be permitted to locate on the North Side.

The police raid early Sunday morning was extended into the Penn avenue district. Five houses were raided and 25 prisoners taken to the Penn avenue station, where they got a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Moke. The houses raided were those of Ida Davis, Liberty avenue; Laura Johnson, Twelfth street; Cora Elliott, Spring alley; Betsey Watson, Jones avenue; Mary Miller, Twelfth street. Each of the landladies was fined $50 and costs. Two of the inmates were fined each $25 and costs, and the others $5 and costs. The visitors were each fined $1 and costs.

ALLEGHENY TENDERLOIN IS VERY INHOSPITABLE

Refuses Shelter to Pittsburgh Unfortunates, After Orders to Go Forth from the Police.

Large numbers of the inmates of the disorderly houses who were without shelter because of the wholesale raids in Pittsburgh on Saturday night, drifted to the North Side yesterday, but received a cold reception. Orders were issued from the Allegheny police bureau to all hotelkeepers and disorderly house proprietors that they must not admit any of the women, and it was seen to that the orders were regarded.

The cheaper hotels and boarding houses of the First and Fourth wards were besieged by the unfortunates, and from early yesterday morning to late last night there was a continual stream of them crossing the river.

While no drastic measures are expected to be taken toward cleaning the "red light" district in Allegheny, it is said that the lowest of the dives have been tipped off that they might find other climes more suitable.

PASTORS PREACH ON EARTHQUAKE

Warning from God to Flee from Sinfulness and Turn to Righteousness.

LESSONS OF THE DISASTER

San Francisco's awful disaster was uppermost in the minds of pastors yesterday, and nearly all their sermons referred to it. In reply to the self-put question, "Why did God permit San Francisco to be shaken to ruins and burned to ashes?" the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young replied in the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church yesterday morning by "making five guesses." They were, in part, as follows:

Mankind needed to realize that no man-built city is secure. We had come to believe in the omnipotence of commerce. Our eyes were opened last Wednesday. Three minutes undid an unparalleled success. Is Pittsburgh any surer? Are you dazed with building more abiding houses and fortunes? Recall Lisbon in 1755—remember the shaking of the whole Mississippi valley in 1811—keep in mind Charleston.

Our whole country needed a baptism of sympathy. Times of matchless prosperity have united the heartstrings of the rich and poor. Did ever so many purses open in so brief a period? Nothing makes all humanity believe in all humanity so much as a mighty call of pity like this.

San Francisco and our nation required a startling Providence to awaken men from sin. Few will deny that the Golden Gate city was deeply iniquitous. Who is not glad that Chinatown is tumbled and purified by fire?

California and the republic needed to think of the continuing city, the city whose maker and builder is God, the Heavenly Jerusalem. Our citizenship is to be in Heaven.

Those Pacific regions and all the country needed a new-born purpose to seek that continuing city, to seek to make real right here and now that great city, the Holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God."

Lessons from the Calamity.

Under the sermon theme, "Lessons From the Great Calamity," the Rev. Dr. W. H. McMillan told from the pulpit of the Second United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, yesterday, the significance of the great disaster. He said in part:

There are some general principles which we should keep in mind in studying events like this, which have shocked the whole world. God is to be seen in the operations of nature because He controls nature. These events came to pass entirely through the forces of nature. No human agency was involved. Natural laws were in operation, but He who made the laws was behind their working and must be recognized, else we will miss the true meaning.

All human suffering is connected with human sin. God put man into a paradise when He made him, and wherever there is suffering in human lives it is because in some way sin has produced it. Not always the sin of the sufferer, but sin somewhere and somehow is the origin of human suffering.

The innocent are often made to suffer with the guilty. This is not unjust; it is because of the perversion of one of the most wise and beneficent of the laws of God implanted in our being, namely, the law that we are bound together in the bundle of life and one life necessarily affects every other in contact with it. We would not like to have that law repealed, for that would cut us off from many of the greatest blessings of life, though, when men sin, and then impart a curse instead of a blessing to others, it become a hardship.

The ends of justice are not fully met in this life. It will not do to conclude that because San Francisco is suffering more than other cities, therefore it is more wicked than others. God does not intend to administer justice to men fully in this life. There are to be rewards and punishments in the eternal world to make right what is not righted here.

With these principles before us we are prepared to look at some of the lessons to be learned from these sad events. The instability of earthly possessions, the folly of forgetting God, and the brotherhood of men so nobly manifested in the sympathy and help given to the sufferers by all classes of citizens.

Mutability of the Mundane.

"Lessons From the San Francisco Calamity," was the sermon theme of the Rev. George E. T. Stevenson in the pulpit of the Forty-sixth Street Baptist church last evening. The pastor dwelt upon the liberal and united responses of all creeds and classes to the call for relief, and said in part:

We learn from this awful calamity the uncertainty of things of this life. How perishable are the things of this world! We should labor for the things that are eternal and everlasting. "Be ye therefore ready also; for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not." God is no respecter of persons, the rich and poor are suffering together. How near we are together after all. Now is the time when we appreciate the doctrine of the brotherhood of man. How well this doctrine was illustrated in the rooms of the chamber of commerce on Thursday when rich and poor, Jew and Gentile, Roman Catholic and Protestant, vied with each other to give of what they possessed to alleviate the sufferings of their brethren.

Shows Weakness of Things Material.

The Rev. Dr. A. W. Arundel, rector of Trinity church, Sixth avenue, preached last evening on the earthquake at San Francisco, his subject being "Great Catastrophes—An Easter Lesson." The basis of his sermon was on the Collect: "O, God, the Protector of all that trust in Thee, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing holy; increase and multiply upon us Thy mercy; that, though being our Ruler and Guide, we may so pass through things temporal, that we finally lose not the things eternal."

Dr. Arundel brought out the idea that while calamities such as the one at San Francisco are dreadful things, they seem more dreadful to us than to God, because He does not lay so much emphasis on things material as we do. Such things only show the instability of temporalities; they show that skyscrapers are not the greatest nor the biggest things on this earth, nor is the loss of them the greatest calamity that can befall a people. Such events, Dr. Arundel said, are splendid for the development of sympathy and kindness, and the tears of a nation flow with those of families that are the sufferers. He spoke of the remarkable response from the country at large for the stricken people as indicative that the sense of brotherhood is stronger today than ever, and he held that the earthquake and its results will as a whole work together for good.

Providence in Life's Disasters.

"The Place of Providence in Life's Disasters," was the subject of the evening sermon preached yesterday by the Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, at the Shadyside Presbyterian church. Dr. Smith took his text from Luke xiii:4-5, "Or those eighteen on whom the tower of Siloam fell, think ye that they were sinners above all else that were in Jerusalem? I tell you, nay; but except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish." Dr. Smith said:

Through this disaster which happened in Jerusalem 2,000 years ago, Jesus throws a singular light on the calamities of life—the one at San Francisco and elsewhere. It is that great calamities are no sure sign of great guilt; that they are as likely to overtake the just as the unjust, the innocent as the guilty. We cannot judge by any special instance of disaster or suffering how much it was deserved or whether it was deserved at all. The final reason, the divine philosophy behind these startling episodes is sometimes made clear to man; more often it is not. God is in them somewhere; either as revelatory of His ultimate power over circumstances, or as punitive in judgment upon sin, or as a warning to the world of greater judgments on the impenitents, or as an ironic commentary on the pride of man in his own works, slaying him in horrible multitudes by the defects and errors of his own invention; or in some other monitory fashion making His over-ruling presence known to forgetful and self-willed mortals.

Secondly, all of life's afflictive visitations are equally providential, whether in the vast spectacular scale of the earthquake and fire-swept regions of the west, or in the private sorrows of the individual. Ten thousand lives engulfed in a great tidal wave or $500,000,000 of property destroyed in 48 hours do not mean that there is any more suffering and loss than there is in the separate accidents of a single ordinary day, taken one by one. The world is full of loss or suffering to innumerable individuals each passing day. The sudden loss of collected multitudes seems greater or more awful than these isolated instances, but they are not greater so. The providentiality of all human suffering and losses is seen again in the fact that whether they are punitive or not in their cause or origin, ultimately they turn out well for the human race. Human nature under these afflictive desperations exhibits its noblest characteristics and assumes its grandest aspects. These adversities and handicaps and obliterations of life and property do not in the end empty or enervate or deritalize humanity. They always enrich and develop it. The race which suffers most is always capable of the highest achievement.

Great Cities Suffer Greatly.

The Rev. Charles W. Blodgett, pastor of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, preached both morning and evening yesterday on the catastrophe on the Western coast. A special collection was also taken for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers. Dr. Blodgett said in part:

The history of every great catastrophe has proved that God had some voice in it. It is a remarkable fact that great cities that have been centers of great influence and corruption have suffered great conflagrations and many have been absolutely blotted out. This is no time to condemn the wickedness of the city by the Golden Gate. We deplore the great calamity that has come to our Western coast. We give to the afflicted thousands the greatest sympathy and prayers and material aid, but we would be recreant to our faith if we did not seek God's voice in it. In the new San Francisco there will be no leprous spot like the Chinese quarter, with its reeking filth, and French quarter that indicated a vileness too infamous even to name. San Francisco ought to be in the future one of the cleanest cities in the world.

This calamity touches the great heart of all our people, and we are fast learning what the brotherhood of man means. The commercial spirit is strong enough with us, but it has neither blotted out nor blunted our finer feelings. The wave of sympathy has touched every workman's cottage and the palace of president and capitalist. Were it necessary more millions would be cheerfully given than has gone up in flame.

We listen to the rumbling roar of the earth shaking and look at the fleeing thousands, and God seems to say: "I am the Lord Jehovah and beside me there is no one else."

RUSHING UP BUILDINGS TO HOUSE THE HOMELESS

San Francisco City Treasurer Resumes Official Duties With $6,500,000 in the Vaults.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The engineering department of the United States army having in charge the construction of temporary buildings in Golden Gate park for the housing of the homeless, reported today that eight buildings 150 feet long, 28 feet wide and 13 feet high will be finished by tomorrow.

These buildings will be cut into compartments large enough to furnish sleeping room for a family, and each compartment will have an entrance from the outside. Lumber is being delivered at the park in large quantities and 125 carpenters are at work on the temporary buildings.

The city auditor, the treasurer, the tax collector and the city attorney have established temporary headquarters and are now preparing to resume the work of their offices. The vaults of the treasurer, the auditor and the tax collector are intact. There is something like $6,500,000 in the vaults of the city treasurer.

The relief committee announced today that citizens no longer would be hindered in going through the city, that no passes are necessary.

HIGH PRICE FOR HACKS.

Seats Worth Anywhere from $25 to $50 and the Purchaser Lucky to Get Them.

DENVER, COL., April 22.—Arthur Woodson of Chicago, who was in the Palace hotel, San Francisco, at the time of the earthquake, said:

"After breakfast I hustled around to get over the bay to Oakland. A few hacks were in commission, and a regular auction was held over the seat sold to each passenger. The prices ranged from $20 to $100. I got a seat in one of the hacks for $25. There were three other men in it that paid $50 for seats. When we had covered several blocks two men hailed the driver and offered $100 apiece for seats. The driver took one up on the box with him, handed me my $25 and made me get out so that his $100 passenger could get into his carriage. I hailed the next hack that came along and got up on the box with the driver. Another fellow from the sidewalk called out that he would give $75 to be taken to the ferry, but I told the hack driver that I would throw him off the box if he stopped."

O. M. Nichols, a New York traveling salesman, fled from the Palace hotel, leaving a vest behind in the pocket of which was $200. He paid $20 to ride two blocks to the ferry in an automobile, and was one of a party who paid $250 for a tug to take them to Oakland.

HARRIS SEES HORRORS THAT OTHERS DREAM OF

After Being Compelled by Soldiers to Work, He Discovers Some Fearful Facts.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., April 22.—Sydney P. Harris, the musical composer, came in with the refugees. He was compelled by the soldiers to get down in the huge holes and work digging out the ruins sufficiently to excavate the ovens of the bakeries in order to bake bread for the famished people.

"It was terrible," said Mr. Harris. "I could not do anything but look on with wonder and fear and tremble, as did the rest of the terror-stricken inhabitants. The people were driven around the streets by soldiers as if they were wild beasts instead of human beings. I say were, because there are not many of them left.

"I saw people die from hunger and from the terrible dread. I saw many die from the agonies of suspense. There was no way of quieting the ravenous unfortunates, and they would cry like little babies for food. I was frightened as much as they. Every one was in the same condition, in fear of his life. Sometimes it was impossible to get across the huge fissures that the earthquake had forged in the streets. We had to obtain old planks to walk upon. Some of the breaks in the pavements are 18 and 20 feet wide and the bottoms are invisible."

OAKLAND CARES FOR 75,000 NOW

Number of Refugees Decreasing—Rockefeller Establishes Camp.

THE CHINESE SUFFER MOST

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OAKLAND, April 22.—Oakland tonight is caring for 75,000 persons rendered homeless by the San Francisco disaster. The height of the influx has been reached, and the number of the refugees is slightly decreasing. Although they are still coming in large numbers, more are leaving on every train for different points. Requests for free transportation are investigated as closely as possible, and all the deserving are sent away. Women and children and married men who wish to join their families in different parts of the state are given the preference. The transportation bureau is on a street corner, where a man stands on a box and calls the names of those who are entitled to passes.

No one goes hungry, and few lack shelter. At the First Presbyterian church, 1,800 were fed today, and 1,000 people will sleep there tonight. Pews have been turned into beds. Cots are in the aisles, in the gallery and in the Sunday school room. Every available inch of space is occupied by some substitute for a bed. A maternity hospital has been established at Emeryville.

John D. Rockefeller has sent money for the establishment of a new camp which will bear his name.

Los Angeles has provided for a camp in Oakland, to accommodate 1,000 people, and has sent 60 physicians and nurses to look after the sick in it.

There is an employment bureau where work is provided when possible.

A wedding took place at the relief bureau at midnight last night. Despite the fact that the groom had only $1.20, the newly married couple looked cheerfully on the prospect that confronted them and departed happy and hopeful.

A relief bureau especially for theatrical people is situated on Broadway, near Twelfth, and transportation has been furnished to 200 people. One hundred are being fed at the Bell theater and will be given tickets out of town as soon as possible.

The Chinese fared worst of all the San Francisco refugees. Some got out with their belongings at the first alarm of fire, but others remained until the afternoon. Then as the flames came closer they were driven out by the soldiers without being allowed to gather food or clothing. A hasty guard shot one as he was going into his own store for goods. Nearly 10,000 of them have arrived here, and the majority have been cared for in the local Chinatown. Nearly all of them are absolutely destitute and it was impossible until this morning to provide any adequate way for feeding them. Many are going to other towns.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

Chief Executive Believes the Red Cross Society Should Have Charge of Relief.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The following statement was issued from the White House this afternoon:

To the Public:

After full consultation with Secretary Taft, the president of the American National Red Cross association, who also as secretary of war is controlling the army work and expenditure of all the money, probably two millions and a half, appropriated and to be appropriated by congress for the relief of San Francisco, I wish to make the following suggestion:

Contributions, both in money and its equivalent, are being given most generously for the relief of those who have suffered through this appalling calamity. Unless there is a proper organization for handling these contributions they will, in large part, be wasted and will, in large part, fail to reach the very people whom it is most to be desired they should reach. The American National Red Cross association has sent out to take charge of the relief work at San Francisco Dr. Edward T. Devine, general secretary of the Charity Organization society of New York, whose experience has been very large in work of this kind.

Dr. Devine will work in conjunction with Judge Morrow, United States circuit judge of the Ninth circuit, and the head of the California Red Cross association. Gen. Funston has already been directed to cooperate with Dr. Devine and has advised the secretary of war that he will do so. Secretary Metcalf, who is on his way to the Pacific slope, will at once put himself in touch with Dr. Devine as well as with Judge Morrow, the governor of California and the mayor of San Francisco, to see if there is anything else the administration can do, and he will assist in all possible ways in the effort to systematize what is being done.

I recommend all charitable and relief organizations and individuals who desire to contribute to do so through the Red Cross association and where provisions and supplies are sent they be consigned to Dr. Devine, Red Cross, San Francisco, and that Dr. Devine be notified by telegraph of the consignments. At the same time Mr. Jacob H. Schiff, the treasurer of the New York Red Cross association in New York, may be notified that the consignments have been sent to Dr Devine, or else the notification can be sent to the Hon. Charles H. Keep, assistant secretary of the treasury, Washington, D. C., and treasurer of the American National Red Cross association.

I also suggest that all contributions that have already been forwarded be brought to the attention of Dr. Devine by telegraph, and the telegram should give the name and address of the consignee and the amount and nature of the consignment. It is better to send all moneys to Mr. Keep or Mr. Schiff; they will then be telegraphed to Dr. Devine as the money is needed.

LIBERAL OFFERINGS ARE MADE BY CHURCHES

Collections Aggregating $7,000 Are Raised for the San Francisco Sufferers.

Upwards of $7,000 was raised yesterday in the churches of the two cities to be applied to the relief of the sufferers from the Pacific coast disasters. In many churches the announcement was made that collections for this purpose will be taken up next Sunday, while other congregations waited to learn the result of ministerial association conferences to be held on the matter this morning.

Not only will these associations consider the matter of raising relief funds at today's sessions but they will also lay plans for the organization of denominational funds to help the congregations of San Francisco and other Pacific coast cities which have lost all their properties.

Large offerings were made in Calvary Protestant Episcopal and the Fourth Avenue Baptist churches yesterday morning, but the money was not counted yesterday and the result will be made known today. Many other congregations contributed and it will be several days until the full result can be determined. The reports of collections made to The Gazette last night is acknowledged in the general fund.

The Young Peoples' society of the Shady Avenue Baptist church is arranging to give a benefit performance next week in the Duquesne Garden auditorium at which it is expected to net $1,000.

Collections were taken at the Protestant churches in Braddock. At the First Methodist Episcopal church $43 64 was raised, and at the First United Presbyterian church $60.

ABANDONS LOS ANGELES.

Imperial Council of Mystic Shrine Will Meet in Chicago or Cincinnati in June.

The committee in charge of the excursion to Los Angeles, planned for Syria temple of the Mystic Shrine, put an end to all further consideration of the trip by sending the money back to the subscribers yesterday.

H. A. Collins, the imperial potentate, is a resident of Toronto, Canada. The long-distance telephone was used yesterday, and he told the committee the meeting of the imperial council had been postponed until June. It will not be held in Los Angeles, then, and while the place has not been selected, it will be either Cincinnati or Chicago.

The Pittsburgh party was to have started next Wednesday morning. That there might be no misunderstanding, stenographers were called in, a letter writen to each subscriber and, with a return check covering the subscription, these were mailed last night.

WHARF RATS DIE WHILE YET DRUNK

J. C. Gill Says Scenes on Day of Earthquake Were Sickening and Indescribable.

ESCAPES WITH DIFFICULTY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., April 22.—J. C. Gill, a retired member of the firm of King, Hillman & Gill of Philadelphia, arrived in this city today from San Francisco where, with his party, he passed through the horrors of the earthquake and subsequent fire. Mr. Gill and his wife and several prominent Philadelphians, spent the winter in Honolulu and on the coast. The party were guests at the St. Francis hotel Wednesday morning. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Gill there were in the party Mr. W. E. Aumont, a retired officer of the Girard Trust Company of Philadelphia, Mrs. Aumont, Miss Florence Aumont, Miss A. M. Haehnlen and J. Millard Kessler.

"Mrs. Gill and myself were in a room on the third floor of the hotel," said Mr. Gill. "We were awakened by the rocking of our beds. Then they seemed to be lifted from their legs, suspended in the air and as suddenly dropped, while the plaster began cracking and falling. We arose and left our room after putting on a few clothes. We felt that with every step we were treading on glass and that the ten stories above us would fall, not allowing us to escape alive. But once outside the building and with our friends I began to realize what had happened.

"I made my way back to the room and carefully packed our suit cases. I came across a valuable necklace and pearls that my wife in her haste, had left behind.

"With hundreds of others we roamed in the park in front of the hotel several hours. When we saw the fire hemming in the lower part of the city, we walked toward the outskirts and were sheltered for a time at No. 1217 Jones street, by a Miss McEwen. Early next morning we decided to leave the city and started to the ferry. Policemen would stop us and it was with difficulty and most trepidation that we walked through the burned district and arrived at the wharf at 5:15, just 15 minutes before the boat left.

"The scenes we passed through were sickening and indescribable. I fancy that scores of men, wharf rats, who had looted wholesale liquor houses and were maudlin drunk, were burned to death without being the wiser, because of their condition."

The Gill party after reaching Oakland took the first train for the east and will continue their journey to Philadelphia today. They lost several thousand dollars' worth of baggage which they were forced to abandon at the hotel.

Walter V. Marsh and party are among the survivors who have reached Colorado Springs. Marsh is in charge of the National Express Company's business at New York, and with his wife was stopping at the Savoy, opposite the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco. The sensation felt by Mr. and Mrs. Marsh was unlike that described by other refugees who have reached here. They made their escape only half clad and arrived in Colorado Springs with no belongings.

INCREASE IN WEDDINGS CAUSED BY EARTHQUAKE

Women Who Have Lost All Their Property Become Brides in Order to Win Supporters.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Weddings in great number have resulted from the recent disaster. Women driven out of their homes and left destitute have appealed to the men to whom they were engaged, and immediately marriages have been effected.

Since the first day of the disaster an increase in the number of marriage licenses issued was noticed by County Clerk Cook. This increase is getting greater. Yesterday morning seven marriage licenses were issued in an hour. Cook himself has been on duty much of the time, as has his deputy, Paul Wuthe, although no other business has been transacted.

"I don't live anywhere," is the answer given in many cases when the applicant for a license is asked where his residence is. "I used to live in San Francisco."

STEAMERS CAN BE UNLOADED.

Loss on Water Front Proper Is Comparatively Small and Wharves Are Accessible.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—South of Market street the loss on the water front is comparatively small. Several sheds will have to be entirely reconstructed, but beyond this the property loss is insignificant. There is nothing to interfere with the unloading of ships and steamers south of the Ferry building.

Large quantities of coal, sufficient to supply all present needs of the city, are stored in bunkers south of Market street. Additional supplies of coal are in the harbor and in a few days the coal-laden vessels will be towed to their docks and unloaded.

Mrs. Caesar Young Saves Nothing.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 22.—Mrs. Caesar Young of New York, who with Lottie Millan, was in the St. Francis hotel when San Francisco was shaken, passed through here today with other refugees en route to New York. They saved nothing except the clothes they wore.

Union Ferry Tower is Unsafe.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The tower of the Union ferry building has been condemned as unsafe by a board of United States army engineers and is being taken down.

THE RECORD FOR HONORABLE DEALING AND PROMPT PAYMENT MADE BY THE HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY AT CHICAGO, BOSTON AND BALTIMORE WILL BE CONTINUED AT SAN FRANCISCO. THERE IS REASON TO BELIEVE THAT THE SURPLUS OF THE COMPANY IS AMPLY SUFFICIENT TO PAY ALL DEMANDS LIKELY TO BE MADE UPON IT. NEVERTHELESS THE DIRECTORS OF THE COMPANY HAVE ALREADY TAKEN ACTION PROVIDING FOR THE PROMPT PAYMENT OF ALL LOSSES INCURRED, HOWEVER GREAT THEY MAY PROVE TO BE, AND FOR THE ACTIVE PROSECUTION OF BUSINESS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE HITHERTO LIBERAL POLICY OF THE COMPANY UNDER CONDITIONS OF FINANCIAL SECURITY. AGENTS AND POLICYHOLDERS MAY CONTINUE TO RELY UPON THE HARTFORD IN THE FUTURE, AS IN THE PAST; IT WILL CONTINUE TO AFFORD UNSURPASSED FACILITIES FOR HANDLING DESIRABLE BUSINESS OF ALL CLASSES. GEORGE L. CHASE, PRESIDENT.

SANITARY WORK IS IMPERATIVE

Repair of Sewers and Prevention of Disease Furnish Perplexing Problem in 'Frisco.

NEED PLUMBERS AND LIME

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The board of health reports a very encouraging health condition, considering the circumstances. Sickness is constantly on the decrease. There are very few contagious diseases and these are being attended at Deer Lodge in Golden Gate park. Sanitary conditions in the residence districts are being improved.

The inspection of the sewers made today by the board of public works shows that in the district south of Market street, few if any systems remain. President Maestretti of the board of public works describes the condition as "deplorable." The outlets to the systems in the residence section remaining unburned are all in good condition save two.

In the business district no inspection has as yet been made.

The work of repairing the sewers needed at once is now under way. Gangs of workmen are being sent out. Teams and wagons have been secured, and some sort of order is being established.

Plumbers and doctors are needed. Some are volunteering, but the demand far exceeds the supply. The sanitation problem is becoming increasingly difficult. Householders and campers have been ordered to remove garbage and refuse to the curb lines on the street. The health department has impressed the wagons into service to cart away this debris. The supply of chloride of lime is nearly exhausted. Cesspools are being dug.

Most of the sickness is among the people who are living out of doors, and it is upon these cases that the board of health is concentrating most of its attention. Hundreds of volunteer doctors, dentists, nurses and helpers are at work allaying suffering. Since the fire broke out there has been no lack of volunteers for every kind of work.

Maj. Torrey of the United States army, and Dr. Foster of the state bard of health have charge of the work among the people who are out of doors, and Dr. Hasaler is at the head of the sanitary work.

Oakland has furnished an engineering corps to assist in restoration of the water supply and another that will aid in cleaning the streets.

Dr. K. A. L. Mackenzie, chief surgeon of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, has reached here in charge of 20 physicians, a number of nurses and plenty of hospital supplies. Dr. W. E. Garl of the Oregon state national guard, has arrived, in addition to the entire third hospital corps of Oregon.

DESPERATE FIGHT SAVES THE MINT

Heroes Face Fire, Smoke and Danger of Death in Protecting Government Building.

FIERCE FLAMES ABOUT THEM

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—A landmark of San Francisco that escaped destruction, though every building surrounding it was destroyed, is the United States mint, at the corner of Fifth and Mission streets. This splendid granite building was erected by the government in 1874. Harold French, an employe of the mint, gave a graphic account of how the flames were successfully fought. He said:

"Nearly $50,000,000 in coin and bullion are stored in the vaults of the mint, and for the preservation of this prize a devoted band of employes, reinforced by regular soldiers, fought until they baffled the flames.

"For seven hours a sea of fire surged around the mint and its little garrison was cut off from retreat for hours at a time. After the fire had swept past the Mission street side, and the certainty of its returning from the north became apparent, Captain of the Watch Laws ordered everything on the roof that would burn thrown into the yard. Soldiers and mint employes worked with utmost haste throwing the timbers and tank staves into the court.

"Here are located some 50 tanks of blue vitroil, the surfaces of which were soon covered with debris into which increasing showers of cinders fell. Fortunately the mint possesses a good well and Engineer Brady, at his post, pumped water to the fire fighters assembled on the roof. Of these, 50 were mint employes and they were aided by a company of coast artillery.

Surrounded by Raging Fire.

"As the fire swept up Fifth street the heat increased to a dangerous degree, as, one by one, the Metropolitan hall and the historic Lincoln school bursted into flame, reinforced by the roaring furnace of the Emporia. On the west the block bounded by Sixth and Market street on the north, gave the gravest concern, for from this quarter the fire was certain to rage in its fury. Fanned by a roaring northerly wind, the flames rioted through the structures stretching from the Windsor hotel to the Spreckels building, sheets of fire of 200 feet in height licking up the intervening houses on Mint avenue. Augmented by these tinder boxes the blast of fire bursted fiercely on the northwest corner of the mint.

"A few desperate fighters under former Chief Kennedy of Oakland were driven from between the tottering chimneys where the determined man had been throwing buckets of water upon the blazing roof over the refinery. It is largely due to the experience of former Chief Kennedy that the tar covered roof, the weakest spot of all, was saturated with sufficient water to stay the flames.

"When the fire leaped Mint avenue in solid masses of flames the refinery men stuck to their windows as long as the glass remained in the frames. Seventy-five feet of an inch hose played a slender stream upon the blazing window sill, while the floor was awash with diluted sulphic acid. Ankle deep in this, soldiers and employes stuck to the floor until the windows shattered and the inner walls began to burn.

Saved by Desperate Fight.

"Blinding and suffocating smoke necessitated the abandonment of the hose and the fighters retreated to the floor below. Down in the treasure vaults where untold wealth is so well safeguarded, artillerymen armed with blanket rolls and leaning on their rifles coughed in the strangling smoke. Then came a lull; the walls of brick buildings across the street had fallen in. There was yet a fighting chance, so back to the upper story the fire fighters returned, led by Superintendent Leach, who by example and words, encouraged his men to extinguish the blazing inner woodwork of the refinery.

"The roof was next swept by a hose, cooling the copper sheathing surface until it became passable for wet, acid-soaked feet. An army officer, axe in hand, tore up sections of blazing roof, beneath which a stream of water was directed. At length the mint was pronounced out of danger and a handful of exhausted but exultant employes stumbled out on the hot cobblestones to learn the fate of some of their homes.

"The mint presents a scorched and glassless front on the north and west, and the towering smokestacks are to be torn down, but the building is intact and the plant is unharmed and ready for a resumption of work.

"There were rumors of an attack of thieves on the mint, in which 14 were killed in the attempt, but is is needless to say that the garrison of the mint is equal to any emergency that may arise."

TUMBLING LUMBER IS CAUSE OF QUAKE SCARE

Report of Another Shock in San Francisco Grows from Simple, but Noisy Fall.

Since the last eruption of Vesuvius and the earthquake and fire in San Francisco, people are in an exceedingly nervous condition. Any convulsion of nature would not surprise many of them. Even an ordinary thunderstorm in Pittsburgh late yesterday afternoon convinced many that the end of the world was at hand. In the East End streets people rushed from their houses to carefully inspect the lowering sky and discuss the probability of an earthquake or other catastrophe being impending.

Throughout the country the same conditions exist. Flashing over all the telegraph wires at 6:23 o'clock last evening came a message that there had been another shock of earthquake in San Francisco. Quickly this report was put into circulation in this and other cities. Its denial and the explanation for the report have not yet reached many.

The fact is, that the telegraph operators at Oakland, Cal., heard a pile of lumber falling and, after flashing abroad the intimation that another earthquake had shaken San Francisco, jumped from their seats and fled from the building. Finding the real cause of the noise they returned and sent out the correction.

PREACHES FAREWELL SERMON.

Large Audience Bids Goodbye to Popular Braddock Minister.

The Rev. William Reagle, for 13 years pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Braddock, preached his farewell sermon last evening, following his acceptance of a call from the Central Presbyterian church of Philadelphia. Every seat in the church was filled and 200 stood. The pulpit was banked with roses and Easter lilies.

In a talk of 20 minutes the Rev. Mr. Reagle thanked the congregation for the support which had been accorded him, and expressed good wishes for the future of the church. A farewell reception will be given for the pastor and his family tomorrow evening, and on the following day the Rev. Mr. Reagle will go to Philadelphia. Next Sunday the Braddock pulpit will be declared vacant.

Mrs. Mary Greenway, 33 years old, of Market street, McKeesport, was struck by a Baltimore & Ohio railroad train yesterday and seriously injured. She is at the McKeesport hospital suffering from a contusion of the hip and lacerations of the head. William Grewin, aged 28, a railroad man, had a leg cut off at the Central street crossing of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road, McKeesport, and is at the McKeesport hospital in a critical condition.

CLIFF HOUSE WILL SHELTER MANY

Is Practically Unharmed and the Same Is True of the Famous Sutso Baths.

BEACH DISTRICT HURT LEAST

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—A thorough inspection by a representative of the Associated Press, who made the trip in an automobile, shows that comparatively little damage was done in the vicinity of the Cliff. The Cliff house not only stands, but the damage sustained by it from the earthquake will not exceed $500.

The famous Sutro baths, located near the Cliff house, with its hundreds of thousands of square feet of glass roofing, also was practically unharmed. Only a few of the windows in the Sutro baths and in the Cliff house were broken, and the lofty chimney of the pumping plant of the former establishment was cracked only slightly.

Manager Wilkins of the Cliff house notified the general relief committee that he would turn over his establishment, as well as the immense stables of his resort, which are unharmed, to the housing of the homeless. The only difficulty about the acceptance of this tender will be the difficulty of the carting of supplies that distance. The water in the vicinity of the Cliff house has been cut off, but it is expected that an independent supply will be arranged for some time today.

The entire district lying west of Golden Gate park and along the beach from Golden Gate southward suffered less from the earthquake than probably any other section of the San Francisco peninsula.

FOUR MEN LOSE LIVES IN CONEY ISLAND FIRE

Stable and Row of Three-Story Frame Houses Destroyed and Thirty Families Are Homeless.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 22.—Four lives were lost early today in a fire which swept away a stable and a row of three-story frame flat houses in West Second street, near Park Place, Coney Island, and nearly 30 families were rendered homeless.

The dead are: Dennis McGrath, aged 75; Peter McGrath, his son, 35; John Brown, 34, and James Garvin, 28.

McGrath and his son were partners in the trucking business and Brown and Garvin were employed by them as teamsters and stablemen. They made their home in an extension adjoining the rear of the stable. The positions of the bodies when discovered by the firemen, several hours after the outbreak, indicated that the victims had been awakened by the intense heat, but were overcome while trying to reach the doors.

TWO BISHOPS PRESENT.

Make Addresses at Meeting of C. M. B. A. Advisory Council.

Two bishops honored the advisory council of the C. M. B. A. by attending its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, Bishop Canevin of Pittsburgh and Bishop Carroll of Helena, Mont. Bishop Canevin thanked the organization for its generosity towards the new cathedral, for which it made a donation of $1,000. Bishop Carroll made an address in which he highly complimented the C. M. B. A. on its work.

There was an unusually large attendance of delegates. The principal business was the consideration of several constitutional amendments to be proposed at the grand convention in Harrisburg next September. Chief among these is the questions of increasing the representation from the various grand councils and the creation of a permanent disability fund.

A resolution expressing sympathy with the sufferers in San Francisco was adopted. The treasurer was directed to forward $100 to the Archbishop of San Francisco to be distributed among the afflicted of his diocese as he may think best.

Prominent Editor Dies Suddenly.

READING, April 22.—John D. Missimer, aged 59, one of the leading newspaper men of Eastern Pennsylvania, died suddenly today while preparing to go to church. Death was due to heart disease. Mr. Missimer was for over 35 years connected with the Reading Eagle, during the last 25 years of which he was managing editor.

Fall Downstairs Is Fatal.

Balzey Clentis, aged 62, died at the South Side hospital, at 1:15 o'clock, this morning, from injuries received in falling down stairs at his home at 1030 Scott street, Mt. Oliver. The accident happened last evening at 6:30, when Clentis fell the entire length of the stairs, fracturing his skull.

MANY MILLION GALLONS OF WATER A DAY ASSURED

Reservoir Supply Is Ample and the Rapid Repair of Pipes Will Soon Make San Francisco Again Habitable.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Experts of the Spring Valley Water Company, who have been engaged in making a thorough examination of the mains and reservoirs of the system, have reported that the company has in its reservoirs enough water to supply the city at the regular rate of 25,000,000 gallons a day for a period of 900 days. The only immediate problem is that of getting this supply of water into the city.

Already pipes have been repaired in certain sections and a supply of 7,000,000 gallons per day is coming in through Ocean View from Lake Merced. About 1,000,000 gallons of this is being consumed daily by Ocean View and the other towns along the pipe lines, but 6,000,000 gallons daily are reaching and will continue to reach the city proper.

Within a few hours another supply of 6,000,000 gallons daily will be poured into the city from College hills. This will furnish water to the northern section of the city. Already water is being supplied to the Black Point and Pacific Heights districts and, with an additional supply of 4,000,000 gallons daily, which is assured from lines that will be repaired within a day or two, the city will within four days be receiving a daily supply of between 10,000,000 and 11,000,000 gallons, which is practically equivalent to half the amount that was being furnished to the entire city prior to the earthquake.

This makes it certain that the city will be habitable again almost immediately, a food supply already being assured.

CHIEF SULLIVAN DIES FROM HIS INJURIES

Head of 'Frisco Fire Department Expires Without Knowing of the Destruction.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Chief D. J. Sullivan of the San Francisco fire department, died this morning from the effects of injuries received on the morning of the earthquake. Chief Sullivan and his wife were sleeping in the fire house adjoining the California hotel on Bush street. The earthquake shook down the chimney of the hotel and sent it crashing through the fire house.

Chief Sullivan and his wife were carried with the debris two stories to the ground floor, where they were extricated after great difficulty. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan were at once taken to the Southern Pacific hospital, but when the flames reached the Mission they were again moved, this time to the General hospital at the Presidio. It was found Mr. Sullivan was suffering from a fractured skull, four broken ribs, and other injuries.

"Eddie" Graney, the well-known sporting referee, was with Chief Sullivan from the time the wounded man was removed from the fire house until Mr. Sullivan's death. Mr. Graney today stated Chief Sullivan never knew there was a fire.

YOUNG COUPLE WILL WED.

New Castle Society Awaits Marriage of Popular Member of Swell Set in Early Summer.

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 22.—A nuptial event which is arousing interest in social circles of this city is the approaching marriage of Miss Maud M. Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Daugherty of New Castle, and Harry C. Patterson of Saltsburg. Although there has been no formal announcement of the engagement of the young couple, it has been understood for a long time among their friends that it existed. No date has been set for the wedding, but it will likely take place in the early summer.

Miss Daugherty is one of New Castle's most popular society women and a member of the Mikado club, beside being a finished musician. Mr. Patterson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Patterson of Saltsburg, and is connected with the Patterson Milling Company of that town. He is a graduate of Princeton and well-known in Western Pennsylvania society. He is a member of the Utopia club of Saltsburg.

FOUR BISHOPS HERE.

Officials in Methodist Episcopal Church Conduct Local Services.

Four bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church presided at services in the Pittsburgh district yesterday. Bishop W. F. Oldham of India delivered a sermon to his former congregation in the Butler Street church last evening, and was tendered a reception after the service.

Bishop Cyrus Foss of Philadelphia officiated at the dedication of the First church in McKeesport and also attended the dedication of the Ross Avenue church, Wilkinsburg. Bishop C. C. McCabe delivered an address at the anniversay exercises in the First church, Vandergrift, and Bishop Andrews of New York preached in the Perrysville Avenue church, Allegheny.

Largest and Smallest Circus.

Shortly after its opening Luna park will present simultaneously the largest and the smallest circus features in existence today. These are respectively the Barlow troupe of trained elephants and Anfrichtig's troupe of educated fleas. The former has been a feature at the New York Hippodrome since its opening, a year and a half ago, and the latter by its uniqueness has earned itself a high place in the list of circus attractions.

WOMAN RUSHES FROM SHELTER TO HER DEATH

Is Frightened by Lightning During Storm and Dashes in Front of Car.

The short but heavy thunderstorm of yesterday afternoon was indirectly the cause of one death and the means of inflicting considerable damage in this vicinity. While the storm was at its height Mrs. Lucy Culvert, aged 42, of Buena Vista, sought shelter under a tree in Small Grove, near Boston, when a flash of lightning startled her and she ran out directly in front of a McKeesport and Connellsville car. She was struck and instantly killed.

Shortly after 6 o'clock a flash of lightning traveled along an electric wire and into the restaurant of Peter Zucca, 112 Fourth avenue. About 200 Greeks were assembled in the room as a pyrotechnical display burst forth and the greatest excitement prevailed. The woodwork of the establishment caught fire, but was soon extinguished.

During the storm the fuses in the Allegheny fire alarm office were blown out and the service crippled for a short time. The electric light service was also affected and a number of street lights could not be operated.

Lightning struck a wire leading into the store of the Pittsburgh Upholstering Company, Broad street and Collins avenue, last evening and set fire to the wood work around the show window. Damage was fixed at $50.

FIRST OF THE SNAKE STORIES.

Workmen Unearth a Nest of Blacksnakes While Blasting Five Live Ones Are Captured.

MONONGAHELA, PA., April 22.—(Special.)—While laborers working under the direction of Roadmaster William Abbot were blasting out stone in Carroll township yesterday they were astonished, upon setting off a dynamite charge in the crevice of a rock, to see sections of snakes flying through the air.

Investigation showed the blast had uncovered a den of blacksnakes, knotted together in a ball, and all in a comatose condition. Out of nearly 50 of the reptiles all but five were killed by the explosion. These five, ranging in length from four to six feet, were captured and placed in a box. Last year nine copperheads were killed at the same place.

PITTSBURGHERS ESCAPE.

Mrs. Kate Gracey and Her Family and Dr. J. C. McNeil and His Mother Are Safe.

Mrs. Kate Gracey of Hazelwood, who is visiting her son, William, and his family at San Francisco, yesterday notified her friends here that she, her son and his family had escaped the earthquake and are now safe in Oakland.

Donald McNeil of Grant street yesterday received a telegram from his brother, Dr. J. C. McNeil and his mother, both Pittsburghers, but who had been in San Francisco on a visit, and who were there on the day of the earthquake. The message is short, stating that both are well, and were not injured. They left the day after the calamity.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR LONG SESSION

Members of Congress Are Worried Over Probable Adjournment—Time Is Not Set.

HOUSE IS UP WITH ITS WORK

Special Telegram From
E. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Members of congress, who are eager to be free of their legislative duties here and get out into their districts to begin hustling for the fall election, are worried over the prospects of a much longer session than previously had been anticipated. The best authorities on the question of a date for adjournment of congress agree it cannot be had before June 1, even though the senate reaches a vote on the railroad rate bill by May 1. Some of the older members have cheerfully assured the younger colleagues they may even spend their Fourth of July in Washington.

Speaker Cannon has fixed the probable date at about the middle of June, though he admits much depends upon the celerity with which the senate takes up the important business that has been permitted to accumulate during the consideration of the rate bill.

Representative John Dalzell said this evening he did not see how an adjournment could be reached before June 1, under any circumstance, and he thought it probable congress would continue in session until the middle of June, and possibly until the end of the month.

"The house is right up with its work," said Mr. Dalzell. "We have most of the appropriation bills out of the way. The agricultural bill will be taken up this week and the naval bill probably next week. All the other important business of the session has been about disposed of so far as we are concerned. These matters are now pending before the senate, and it remains for that branch to determine how much time it will spend in transacting this business."

HOLD MEMORIAL MEETING FOR PHYSICAL DIRECTOR

Y. M. C. A. of Sharpsburg and Etna Pays Honor to Memory of W. Ellis Crane.

The large auditorium of the Sharpsburg and Etna Y. M. C. A. building was crowded yesterday afternoon, when memorial services were held for the late W. Ellis Crane, physical director of the institution, who was drowned in a canoe accident in the Allegheny river more than a week ago. J. A. Kellar presided and a memorial sermon was preached by the Rev. J. A. Duff of the Aspinwall United Presbyterian church. Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. H. Main, pastor of the English Lutheran church of Sharpsburg. Music was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. quartet and a mixed chorus composed of members of the association.

A letter was read from the father of Mr. Crane, whose home is in Southbridge, Mass., in which he thanked the members and directors of the Y. M. C. A. for the efforts that have been made to recover his son's body. He said: "I have prayed and I believe that God will give me back his clay the coming Sunday."

Every means has been futilely employed to find the body, and a reward of $100 has been offered by a special committee of the Y. M. C. A. The association gymnasium and bowling alleys have been closed since Mr. Crane's death.

SCHOOL TEACHER SAVES THE LIFE OF HER MOTHER

WOOSTER, O., April 22.—(Special.)—Miss Anna Hoffman, a school teacher of Mt. Eaton, proved herself a heroine and although badly burned herself, managed to save her mother from being cremated. Mrs. Hoffman tried to light a fire with coal oil. An explosion followed and her clothing took fire. The daughter dragged the mother to a spring near the home, pushed her into the water and thus extinguished the ames. Mrs. Hoffman was frightfully burned about the head and breast, and the daughter's hands were burned.

BID FAREWELL TO OLD THIRD CHURCH

The Rev. Dr. McCrory and Congregation to Leave House of Worship in Diamond Street.

MUST VACATE MAY FIRST

To mark the farewell of the congregation from their house of worship, occupied for over half a century, the Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory preached a special sermon at the Third United Presbyterian church, Diamond street, yesterday morning, taking for his subject, "Retrospect and Prospect." The congregation sometime ago sold its property to the county and will have to vacate on May 1. Dr. McCrory said in part:

Connected with these last services in this house, which has echoed with the glad tidings for more than 50 years, there is an interest and pathos that is unusual. As the psalmist sang about the ancient temple, "her very dust to us is dear." The surroundings may appear very plain, but like a mother's face, there is something here beyond any merely earthly charm. But we must say farewell to these surroundings and these scenes. And as we are going forth under the divine providence we will not lament, but go trusting in the divine direction and care.

Seventy years ago the 15th day of this month a small band of believers in Jesus Christ took possession of this territory as a part of their spiritual heritage. Like the Hebrews when they took possession of the territory east of the Jordan, they located here because they were providentially directed. This was the natural gathering place from which they should begin the conquest of this community for Christ and righteousness. This was at that time the center of opportunity. Along these streets and avenues and in these byways lived the people for whom the church was to be the place of worship, and for whom the pastor, as a faithful under shepherd, was to watch and care. For 70 years now this work has been faithfully and let us say with humility, with some efficiency, prosecuted.

But the field of opportunity has immensely widened. From a little half mile square of territory it has increased at least fifty-fold, until there are more than 25 square miles covered by this great city. The villages, also, of life and business has shifted the center of population, and in this way the providence of God has issued His mandate to move on and possess the new land. The history of the little band of 30 of 70 years ago is full of encouragement for the future. Notwithstanding the constant drain for more than half its history by the movement of its membership out of its immediate bounds, it has never ceased to grow, both in numbers and in the graces of the Christian life. The last quarter of its history, for example, have been the most fruitful 18 years it has ever known. During these years its membership and contributions have been larger and its missionary enterprises more varied than ever in its history. For that time it has maintained its own foreign missionary and contributed over $30,000 to foreign missions and about $25,000 to missions in the home fields.

But at last we hear a call that we dare not disregard to move into a larger field and occupy a new center from which larger enterprises may be undertaken. The field at first occupied must not be abandoned, but the work must needs be carried on in a different manner. But there must be no departure from the faith of the fathers. The great doctrines of the gospel must be maintained in their purity and in their simplicity, and then we may be assured that they will still possess the old time power and continue to produce glorious results.

MORE DOG SHOW ENTRIES.

Fine Specimens Added to the Long List Already Made Public.

Money Donations.

A number of donations have been made to the Farmington society in connection with its benefit, a toy dog show at the Hotel Schenley on Wednesday next. Some of those who have sent money donations are Mrs. P. Herbert Hostetter, Mrs. Herbert DuPuy, Mrs. J. J. Vandegrift and Mrs. W. S. Flower.

A number of unreported entries have been made. Mrs. J. A. Glesenkamp has entered her toy Dalmatian, Yorkie. This is said to be a particularly fine specimen of the type.

An entry that will attract much attention is a Griffon Bruxellois. It has been entered by Miss E. McGuire. Florida is a recent importation. It is doubtful if any of this breed has ever been seen in Pittsburgh shows.

Miss Mary Lawrence, who returned on Saturday from California, took advantage of the reservations made for her and entered her fine black French poodle, Mouflou. Miss Lawrence has also entered her fox terrier, Dick.

Another to make a late entry is Miss A. A. Collins, who has entered a fox terrier.

Members of the Farmington society will go out to the Hotel Schenley this afternoon and make arrangements for the benching. The work of installing booths and decorating the ballroom will also be mapped out this afternoon.

Dedicate Church at McKeesport.

Foss of Philadelphia, Dr. Appleton Bash, Beaver Falls; the Rev. H. L. Chapman, former pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, McKeesport, and Dr. J. F. Murray, presiding elder of the McKeesport district.

EXCURSION SEASON OPENS.

The Island Queen, of the Klein Line, Makes Two Trips to Coraopolis.

The excursion season on the Ohio river was inaugurated yesterday when the Island Queen made two trips to Coraopolis and return. The first crowd consisted of about 500 people. From this time on excursions will be run every Sunday.

The John E. Kline, tow boat, which has been out of commission for some time with a broken shaft is back on the river again, working in the upper pools.

On next Saturday evening the Virginia will leave the local wharf with a large passenger list, many bound for the spring festival, which is the Mardi Gras of Cincinnati. On the evening of May 5 they will board the Queen City for the return trip. There will be about 50 from Pittsburgh on the trip.

The river is still falling and no coal is being taken out of the pools. Another few days of mild weather and the stage will be too low for the largest packets. Rain would be welcomed at this time by the rivermen, as practically no coal has been shipped during the past week, and a great deal has accumulated.

You can always depend upon it. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

LECTURES ON THE "MAN WITH THE MUCK-RAKE"

The Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy Declares America Is in Need of More Than Millionaires.

"The Man With the Muck-Rake" was the lecture theme of the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy before the reform congregation Rodeph Shalom in Allegheny Carnegie music hall yesterday morning. He said in part:

"I am preaching no gospel of asceticism, neither do I advocate a life unmarked by self-restraint or self-control. I do not ask those whom I may be able to influence to take St. Palmer or St. Simon Stylites as their models, neither do I desire that they should regard the boulevardier as their example. A sane view of life can be taken by those who realize that within every man there is a spirit which proclaims him a child of God, and lives may be called successful when wings are given to that spirit and opportunity is afforded it to grow and develop and make its presence felt.

"It is the judicious commingling of looking down and realizing man's end, of looking up and realizing man's divine origin, or, again, of looking down and remembering that on the physical side man is of the earth, earthy, and of looking up and realizing that on the spiritual side man partakes of the divine nature; it is thus that we may be able to reach the truest and the highest ideal of human destiny.

"We are surrounded by evidences that the man with the muck-rake lives in our midst and I do not refer to any one creed or section of this community. Fortunes have been made within recent years with such rapidity that the moral perspective has become blurred. Men measure human success by monetary standards. He who is supposed to have a large bank account is called 'good' on the market and frequently considered 'good' in the churches. We must honor men for what they are, rather than for their material possessions. We must teach the child that they alone are worthy of respect whose hands are clean and whose hearts are pure and that with God it is all one whether man be rich or poor. We must treat the man with the muck-rake as we treat any other animal incapable of moral improvement. He will be the greatest benefactor of modern times who will bring home to the consciousness of this one time Puritan people that America needs more than millionaires to make her great."

FINANCIAL WORLD HAS A NEW PROBLEM TO SOLVE

San Francisco Catastrophe Will Have a Wonderful Effect on the Money Market of the Entire World.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 22.—In the appalling catastrophe at San Francisco a new problem has been raised for the financial and commercial world. That it will be solved, or work out its own solution in time, is self-evident, but the manner in which that solution will come, and its effects upon the world's markets, particularly the money market, between now and the end of the year, is at present a mystery. The one thing certain is that there will be some readjustment, not necessarily accomplished in a violent manner, but none the less effective, because of slow and orderly procedure.

No one, with the possible exception of some heedless stock speculators, can seriously believe that any interests, financial, commercial or industrial, have as yet taken the full measure of or determined the effect of the great losses sustained through the earthquake and fire, which devastated one of the country's great cities and some contagious territory on the Pacific coast. It is altogether proper to take a hopeful view. San Francisco will assuredly rise again. It is not to be blotted from the map, despite its loss of $350,000,000, more or less, its 25 square miles of smouldering ruins, and its 200,000 homeless and penniless citizens.

It is a national calamity that has befallen the country, in the San Francisco disaster, one coming in a swift and terrible way, and calculated to have a sobering effect upon the nation. Nothing, with the possible exception of the civil war, in this country's history, is comparable with it, in point of material wealth destroyed—destroyed, for the larger part, as effectually as though taken in the form of treasure and sunk in the sea.

No disaster in modern times is comparable with it, aside from war, and in the case of wars, which have destroyed wealth of equal amount, the losses have been financed along slowly, apportioned among many persons, even shared by future generations. This one comes in a period of three days, at most, and aside from the persons of the stricken city, is extended directly to comparatively few others, the fire underwriting companies and their shareholders, being the most conspicuous. Indirectly, however, if not immediate, then, within the near future, many other persons are likely to feel some of its influence.

In the judgment of sober financiers and merchants the appalling disaster at San Francisco is calculated to have a sobering effect upon the entire country. The city was in the midst of a great real estate and building boom—the greatest in its history, and it was engaged also in the prevailing mining promotion and speculating craze such as has been raging elsewhere. Like other cities which have participated in the great era of prosperity, its bank loans and deposits had expanded largely, and its clearances, which ranged from around $25,000,000 to $28,000,000 weekly in 1904, had risen to from $47,000,000 to $46,000,000 in recent months.

It seems impossible that a disaster such as has befallen the city at a time of business activity and rampant speculation everywhere, can fail to impress bankers who are speeding to San Francisco from all directions to study the situation on the spot.

It is in the money market that the first effects of the San Francisco disaster will be noted. Complicated as that situation, foreign and domestic, already is, the destruction of so great a sum as even the smallest amount named, complicates the situation the more. Even though it result in slowing down business and speculation activity in securities, commodities, real estate, mines and building operations, and thus work for the improvement of the money market the needs of the San Franciscans are vast and immediate. Their bankers are drawing down their balances everywhere and their demand for actual currency falls upon New York, partly in consequence of direct shipment or transfer to the Pacific coast, and partly to replenish balances drawn down by the Pacific coast at other interior points.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, April 22.—How different is the situation on 'change from what was anticipated after Easter. The week was badly cut into by the holidays, and the appalling disaster in California had the effect, it need hardly be said, of causing stagnation in business all around and of completely killing it in the American section, though taking into account the terrible character of the great debacle, the fall in prices of stock exchange securities has not been what one could term heavy.

Another disturbing element has been the appearance of Kaiser Wilhelm as a stormy petrel in European politics, his telegram to Count Goluschokski having very considerably disturbed the equanimity into which the markets were preparing to settle down after the long drawn out anxieties of the Algeciras conference.

Then the definite announcement of the Russian loan, coupled with the fact Germany will take no part in the issue, is another disturbing element. At the same time there is no real alarm. The general fall has been mainly caused by sales of individuals and companies having to meet obligations arising out of the San Francisco disaster.

This loss of wealth, which is entailed thereby, will, it is feared, have its effect in holding back new issues which were waiting to obtain capital. All sections, as already indicated, have suffered from the fall in prices, although no important fall was anticipated.

The close of the week saw on the whole an improvement in the tone of the American market after its severe depression, which is considered as of good augury, though most of the declines remain still severe enough.

There has been a good deal of disturbance in the money market during the past week, and it now stands in a somewhat straitened condition. This is mainly in consequence of the very sudden and certainly most unexpected withdrawal of large amounts of Japanese money which had been deposited in London banks and which were required for repayment of the various liabilities of the Japanese government.

There have, of course, also been further withdrawals of gold for New York, and in view of the disaster at San Francisco, in regard to which British fire insurance offices are heavily involved, a further movement of gold in that direction is expected.

In the Oil Fields.

The fine weather has brightened the prospects for an early resumption of operations in the fields. Holders of territory not fully developed are casting about for new locations, and some are contemplating trying conclusions outside of the old beaten paths and, if possible, discover some strictly new producing territory.

The recent advance of 3 cents in the credit balance market has encouraged many to think that it will not be long till another advance will follow. It is the consensus of opinion that the present production of high grade crude will have to be increased to meet the demand, and an advance in the market will be the greatest incentive to make operators redouble their efforts to find new territory and put forth every effort to make the old wells do a little better. The increase from the old fields must necessarily be small for the reason that shooting no longer stimulates them to any appreciable degree, and all that remains is to keep them cleaned out and in the best possible shape to do their utmost.

In the lower southwest the year promises to be fruitful in the discovery of small pools. There are many localities that have in the past been regarded as condemned that will be tested, and congested pools discovered. The Keener sand pool, on Point Pleasant creek, Tyler county, is an illustration of what may be found if a diligent search is made. In addition to discoveries of that kind, there is a chance for finding extensions to some of the old fields. In Butler county operators have been finding small pools for many years, no fewer than five having been discovered within the past 12 months. There is no reason for thinking that lower southwest operators cannot have as good success. All of the deep sand districts have not been fully developed, and if the market is advanced to a point that will justify the investment, operators will again take to the undeveloped territory. The market must be such as to make it an object to drill for a five-barrel well.

In the shallow sand districts there will be renewed activity as soon as the roads are in better condition. Much new work has been mapped out and Ritchie county promises to be in the lead with new work of an experimental nature. At this time there is a greater amount of test work starting and under way than in any other county in the lower southwest, in Pleasants county operators will pursue the "hit or miss" policy. A dry hole in that county, as has been demonstrated, does not condemn more than one location.

The extreme lower southwest will receive more attention this year than at any time in the past. A large scope of territory has been leased for an advance of present producing limits and an unprecedented effort will be made to locate strictly new producing territory. The most discouraging feature in the past has been that in many instances none of the recognized producing formations was encountered. The experienced operator is aware that many more wildcats are dusters than producers, but if he can find a producing sand that looks good he will not be discouraged when the well comes in a duster. When no sand is found he is ready to quit.

Neither the lower southwest nor the southeastern Ohio fields furnished any strikes out of the ordinary during the past week. The average size of the wells in the West Virginia fields was smaller than has been the rule for some time. The Keener sand pool in Tyler county, located on Point Pleasant creek, failed to get to the front with any large producers. Several of the wells first completed were given shots and the production increased. The production of the pool has declined almost a half within the past two weeks, and unless some of the wells now drilling and due to get the sand in a few days come in large producers, the production of the pool will continue to decline. This is now one of the most interesting developments in the lower southwest. The producing area has not been defined and the advance wells nearing the sand will furnish some information as to what may be expected as to extending the field.

In the deep sand districts all of the completions came in light or dry. Developments have reached that stage where the work is of no particular importance, except to those interested in a financial way.

In the Yellow Creek district in Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Company had quite a surprise when it drilled in its No. 15 on the H. I. Jackson farm and it started to flow at the rate of 15 barrels an hour. The size and actions of the well was a reminder of the days when good producers were the rule in that development. It is inside defined limits and is not expected to maintain a production of 100 or more barrels a day for any considerable time. Calhoun county has some undeveloped territory that will afford active operations during the spring. To the southwest of the Rowells run district in that county there is known to be some new territory, tested last year, and capable of furnishing wells good for 50 or more barrels a day.

On the Ohio side operators are getting ready to start new work. In a few districts work has been started and more contemplated. The best discovery of the week was the Carter Oil Company's test on the Gyser farm, near Lewisville, Monroe county. When drilled into the Keener the well got a big dose of salt water and it was put to pumping. After the salt water had been exhausted the well produced oil at the rate of 250 barrels a day and is still holding up at 200 barrels.

In the Beres grit development, in Noble county, there is more experimental work starting than in any other district. Some very good producers have been completed recently and leasing in that county has been fairly active.

The Burgettstown field, Washington county, is the only local development that shows any activity. The old wells are holding up very creditably and, with ordinary success when the new are completed, the production of the pool should show an increase.

THE PITTSBURG TONOPAH GOLD MINING COMPANY.

ORGANIZED IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS RELATING TO CORPORATIONS.

CAPITAL $1,500,000 Divided into 1,500,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each.

Full-Paid and Non-Assessable. No Preferred Stock, No Bonds, No Debts.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

ROBERT Y. SLATER, President.....Pittsburg, Pa.
COTTER T. BRIDE, Vice President.....Washington, D. C.
ALBERT H. SCOTT, Sec'y and Treasurer.....Washington, D. C.

WM. T. LAWRENCE, Pittsburg, Pa. WOODWORTH CLUM, Washington, D. C.
RUTHERFORD CORBIN, Washington, D. C. H. W. SCHELD, Tonopah, Nev.
HON. HENRY H. GILFRY, Portland, Ore. JOHN G. SLATER, Washington, D. C.

THE PITTSBURG TONOPAH GOLD MINING COMPANY owns four claims of 80 acres in all, in the Bonanza Ore Zone of Tonopah, which has developed many of the greatest gold mines known to the world.

IN THIS ZONE are the Mizpah, Tonopah, Belmont, Tonopah Extension, Golden Anchor, North Star, Montana, Midway, Jim Butler, West End, Little Tonopah, Tonopah Standard, etc.—mines that have already produced over $30,000,000, and in which expert mining engineers estimate that there is in sight today not less than $360,000,000 more.

IN THIS SAME ZONE, and on the direct line of both the famous Mizpah and the King Tonopah veins, are the Pittsburg Tonopah Company's properties, which are being actively developed, and thus far with exceptionally favorable conditions.

IN ALL PRODUCING TONOPAH MINES PORPHYRY IS FIRST FOUND, and then, between a hanging wall and a foot wall of this porphyry, is found the gold-bearing vein. The depth at which this gold-bearing vein is struck varies. The Tonopah Extension sunk 874 feet through the lava capping before striking the porphyry under which later they discovered the immense vein that has made the mine rich and famous. The Tonopah Midway spent $35,000 before reaching the ore, which was found at 550 feet depth. The West End struck ore at 315 feet; the North Star went 950 feet before finding ore; the Belmont 700 feet. The Pittsburg Tonopah Company, however, has been in the porphyry rock from 46 feet depth; is now down 80 feet, and all indications are that before they reach 200 feet depth they will strike the gold vein. As they are sinking at the rate of 2½ feet per day, less than 60 days will probably bring them to a pay basis.

IT IS WELL KNOWN that these Tonopah ores produce the highest grade bullion of any mining district in the world. U. S. Treasury Statistics on this point (Report on Production of Precious Metals in the U. S. for 1903, p. 164), shows that 2,534 tons of Tonopah ores netted $576,145.44, where the same amount from the Cecil Rhodes South African mines only nets $38,010, from the Homestake mine of South Dakota $8,399.44, and from the famous Treadwell mine of Alaska $4,814.60; yet the Homestake paid to its stockholders in 1905 $3,200,000 in dividends and the Treadwell $1,600,000. With such statistics before us, is it not reasonable to believe that greater fortunes will be made from Tonopah mines than even from the famous South African Rand?

THE PITTSBURG TONOPAH PROPERTIES are in the very heart of this great Tonopah camp. The title to these properties is perfect, and is vested in the company, which has no bonds, no preferred stock and no indebtedness of any kind whatever.

THE PITTSBURG TONOPAH has two material advantages over many other Tonopah mining companies. The first is that its development work promises much less sinking, and consequently much less expense in reaching pay ore, than almost any other mine in the district. The second, and one which will be fully appreciated by all who are mining-wise, is the fact that its largest stockholder, who is also its Secretary and Treasurer, is himself a practical mining engineer of large experience, investigated the properties thoroughly before taking an interest in them, and is personally in charge of operations on the ground. This makes an honest, careful, intelligent and energetic administration of the Company's affairs ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN. Mr. Scott is well known at his home in Washington as an able and shrewd business man of the highest integrity, and under his management all stockholders may rest assured of a square deal first, last and all the time.

BEFORE ACCEPTING the agency for this Company's stock our Mr. Chas. W. Slater went to Tonopah, made an exhaustive examination of the properties, which convinced us that the proposition is one of rare substantial merit, and we feel entirely justified and thoroughly satisfied in recommending this stock to our customers and to the public in general. We have taken the exclusive fiscal agency of the Company, and now offer a limited issue of the Treasury stock at the proceeds to be devoted to the furtherance of the development work under Mr. Scott's supervision.

IF FURTHER INFORMATION IS DESIRED, send for our "Tonopah, the Desert of Gold."

INVESTIGATE THE PROPOSITION THOROUGHLY, and you will find it one worthy of your careful consideration. Read the reports of Mr. Scott and Mr. Scheld; note how conservative and yet how favorable are their statements in regard to the properties—and then act on your own judgment.

THE PROBABILITIES ARE that within a few months this stock will be worth and bringing in the open market, par at least.

EXTRACT TWO BUCKSHOT FROM UNDER MAN'S SCALP

Joseph Stilzinger, aged 56 and married, of Downing street, Troy Hill, walked into the Allegheny General hospital yesterday morning and asked to have two buckshot removed from beneath his scalp. He said he and a friend were handling a shotgun Saturday afternoon in a quarry back of Troy Hill, when the weapon was accidentally discharged, two of the shot entering his scalp. He was placed in a surgical ward and the shot taken out. They had not penetrated the skull.

"Julie Bonbon" Coming.

Messrs. Shubert will present Louis Mann and Miss Clara Lipman at the Belasco theater next week in their great New York success, "Julie Bonbon," which enjoyed an extended run in New York city the present season, and which is said to be one of the most emphatic hits of the present theatrical offerings. Miss Lipman, who appears as Julie, is the author of the comedy, which has to deal with the love of a French milliner for a gentleman of rank.

MAIDENS TRY BEING MEN; PREFER THEIR OWN SEX

In Boy's Attire Two Johnstown Girls Masquerade for Four Days, and Travel on Freight Cars. Detective Lee Discovers Deception.

Dressed in natty blue serge suits, with patent leather shoes and derby hats, and with their hair cut close, two girls are locked up in the Allegheny Central police station charged with being runaways. The girls are Clara Creese and Mary Owens, aged 21 and 19, respectively, and are members of Johnstown, Pa., families. For four days they have been masquerading in masculine attire, successfully evading the scrutiny of many eyes during their travels.

It remained for Special Officer Lee of the Allegheny Police bureau to ferret out the deception. The young ladies applied at the police station for lodging Saturday night, and after registering as Charles Clark and Ralph Michner of Altoona, Sergt. Harper sent them back to the cell room. Detective Lee happened to be there, however, and one glance was sufficient for him to detect the feminine forms which even the boy's clothes could not disguise. "No! No!" said Lee; "you belong in the matron's department," and there they went, under protest. It was soon discovered that Lee had been right, and the girls told their story.

They said they had saved up some money and decided to try men's life. They purchased the suits, saying they were for their brothers, and Wednesday night took a freight train for Pittsburgh. They have been subsequently in Beaver, Conway and Freedom, and have obtained two positions, one in a machine shop and one driving a lumber team. Both proved too hard for their liking, however. They also shot a game of pool in a room filled with men, and assumed such a swagger air that no one suspected their sex. They came to Allegheny Saturday night, again using a "side door pullman," and being without money, applied at the police station for lodging.

"We have had a fair trial at being men, and have discovered that we like being girls best," said Miss Creese. "We are going home now and be good." Both girls are comely, Miss Creese being a blonde and Miss Owens a brunette. It is probable they will be supplied with feminine attire today and sent to their homes.

BIG FLOWER SHOW BREAKS RECORD

Display at Schenley Park Closes With Attendance of 100,000 in Three Weeks.

NEW ANIMALS FOR THE ZOO

The big flower show at Schenley park is over. Superintendent Burke estimated that fully 100,000 people viewed the blooms in the Phipps' conservatories during the past three weeks. This breaks all records. About 15,000 passed through the hot-houses yesterday, a double line of visitors extending far beyond the doors during the entire afternoon, in spite of the rain.

The exhibit will still be worth seeing for a week or two yet, but three of the principal attractions of the flower show closed last evening—the lily house, Holland bulb house and the rose house. Some of the plants from these three houses which are still blooming will be added to the other houses.

A large crowd went to the Highland zoo yesterday. Director Clark inspected both Schenley and Highland parks Saturday. He is planning the purchase of new animals for the zoo this summer and expects to get a contribution from the Pittsburgh Railways Company for the purpose. The traction company gets thousands of nickels every Sunday and during the week from the visitors to the zoo, and Director Clark believes that any investment that will add to the attractiveness of the zoo will profit the company financially. Among other additions it is proposed to buy an elephant, a male zebra, hippopotamus, and some lions. Superintendent Burke asked city councils this year for $10,000 to buy some animals, but it was cut out by the finance committee.

Director Clark contemplates raising money by subscription to give a series of open air concerts at Schenley park for two months during the summer. These concerts will probably be given twice a week in the evenings.

The innovation of allowing the public to walk on the grass and play lawn tennis will be limited to children, says Superintendent Burke.

"Except on the lawns in the front of the park, the people can walk on the grass now," he said. "You will not find a single 'keep off the grass' sign in Schenley park."

The openings of the Schenley oval or race track, the summer concerts, tennis games, fishing in Carnegie lake and other health sports for the children are expected to greatly increase the popularity of the two big parks during the coming summer.

DOUBLE EXECUTION IS OFF.

John Williams Gets a Stay, and Cornelius Combs Has Already Appealed to Higher Court.

Sheriff Dickson received a telegram late Saturday night from Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee, saying a warrant recalling the death warrant in the case of John Williams had been mailed on Saturday night. Williams is under sentence of death for the murder of Lizzie Dickson of McKeesport, whom he shot in February. His attorney appealed to Gov. Pennypacker for a stay of execution, pending an appeal for a new trial to the superior court.

Williams and Cornelius Combs were to have been hanged tomorrow, but a stay was secured for Combs last Friday. He was convicted of killing Mamie Quincy, his mother-in-law, last September at her home in Arthur street.

ALLEGHENY CITY POLICE DON'T LIKE HIS ACTIONS

Jacob Anderson, who says he has no home, was sent from the Allegheny Central station yesterday morning to the workhouse for 30 days. He was found on the Ft. Wayne railroad bridge late Saturday night, pretending he was very drunk. The police watched him cross over to the Pittsburgh side and then slip back. Several holdups and robberies have been made on the bridge lately, and the police are of the opinion that Anderson may have had a hand in them.

THE MARATHON MYSTERY

By BURTON E. STEVENSON,

Author of "The Holladay Case," "Cadets of Gascony," Etc.

Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt & Co.

"I have to move in tomorrow," I answered, and I told him briefly why. "May I look at this apartment?"

He hesitated yet a moment, then straightened up with a sudden resolution. "You kin see it if you want to, sir," he said; "but first, I must tell you that it's soot fourteen, where they was a—a murder two days ago."

"A murder?" I repeated. "Oh, yes; I did see something about it in the papers. Well, that doesn't make any difference; I'm not afraid of ghosts."

"Then that's all right, sir," he said, with a sigh of relief, and motioned toward the elevator. "I didn't believe we'd find it so easy t' rent that soot as'in," he added, as we started upward, "though I see now that I was foolish; for really, it don't make no difference——"

The car stopped and he led the way down the hall without troubling to finish the sentence.

"Here we are," he added, pausing before a door and producing a bunch of keys. "Which reminds me that I'll have t' git a key for you—the other tenant lost his—leastways, it wasn't found on him. Or mebbe you'd rather I'd change th' lock?"

"Oh, no," I assured him. "Another key will do," and we entered together.

I examined the room with keen interest. Evidently everything had been left just as it was on the night of the crime; only the body had been removed, and it, I knew, was at the morgue, waiting identification. Higgins was busy pointing out to me the advantages of the apartment, but I confess I did not hear him. I reconstructed the picture which had met Godfrey's eye when he burst into the room; I tried in vain to discern some point of evidence which he had overlooked. The furniture was of the commonest kind and consisted of only the most necessary articles.

Higgins led the way into the bedroom and opened the door of the bathroom beyond.

"I shall bring my own furniture," I said. "But I haven't any carpets. Perhaps I can buy these. They seem pretty good."

"They are, sir," agreed Higgins. "They're good carpets and as good as th' day they was put down. It 'ill make it lots easier for us if we don't have t' take 'em up."

"All right," I agreed. "Find out what they're worth. When can you have the rooms ready?"

He looked at me and scratched his head again; then, remembering suddenly the nature of janitors, I took out my purse and tipped him.

"Have them ready by tomorrow afternoon," I said. "Get a man to help you if necessary. I'll expect to be at home here tomorrow night."

His face cleared instantly.

"I'll do it, sir," he agreed, as he pocketed the money. "I'll see that everything gets in all right. You kin sign th' rent agreement tomorrow—th' soot rents fer forty a month."

"Very well," I said, and followed him into the outer room, smiling to myself at the thought that I had forgotten to ask for this important detail. "Would you mind if I sat down and took a smoke, while I decide how I'll arrange my furniture?"

"That's all right, sir," he assured me instantly; and just then the elevator bell rang. "There," he added, "it's them confounded artists, too lazy t' walk down stairs. I'll be back in a minute, sir."

It took me but an instant to light my cigar, then I whirled my chair around to the table before which it stood. The table had a single drawer. I opened it. It was absolutely empty. I went quickly to the bedroom and opened the closet, but not even a piece of clothing hung there. Then I turned to the dresser, but its three drawers, too, were empty. Evidently all of Thompson's belongings had been removed by the police. Of course they had searched through every nook and cranny; it was foolish of me to expect to find anything now.

I returned to my chair and looked again about the room. There was the corner where Miss Croydon had cowered, and from which she had shot at Thompson's assailant; there was the spot where Thompson himself had fallen; he had lain extended on the carpet, while the——what was that? A tiny sparkle caught my eye, a reflection of the light overhead. I sprang from my chair and stooped above the place, but could see nothing. I returned to my chair, and again caught the reflection. This time, I marked it exactly in the pattern of the carpet, went to it carefully; put down my hand—nothing—yes, a little hard point pressed into the carpet, so minute I could not pick it up. I moistened my finger, and an instant later, under the light, I saw that I had found a diamond!

I wrapped it carefully in a scrap of paper and stowed it away safely in my pocketbook. Then I went back to my chair. How came the diamond there? A stone so minute must have been set in a piece of jewelry; perhaps was only one of many stones forming a cluster, or a border to a large jewel. If one could only discover the piece from which it had fallen, there would be a clew——

"Well, have y' got it all fixed, sir?" asked a voice from the door, and I turned with a start to see Higgins standing there.

"Yes," I answered, rousing myself with an effort; and I gave him such directions as occurred to me. "Has anyone else been in the rooms?" I asked.

"Not since yesterday mornin', sir, when th' coroner brought his jury t' look 'em over. They've been locked since then."

"I thought perhaps somebody might have wanted to rent them," I explained. "Say, that's funny!" he cried. "I'd purty nigh fergot it. Early this mornin' they was somebody—a woman." He came close to me and dropped his voice to a hoarse whisper. "D' y' know who I think it was? That Croydon woman!"

I stared at him in amazement.

"Weren't you sure?"

"No; she had a veil wrapped around her head an' she was dressed different. But it was her—I know it."

"And what did she want?" I asked, more and more astonished.

"She wanted t' see th' rooms; but I told her they was closed. I tell you, I was dead afeard t' come up here with her. How'd I know but she'd take a shot at me? Then she wanted t' rent 'em sight unseen, an' offered a month's rent in advance—but I told her we didn't rent soots o' single women, which is true. Mebbe I was kind o' rough, but I was a-skeered t' have her around, fer I kind o' believe she's crazy, so purty soon, after some more talkin', she give it up an' went away."

As we went down in the elevator, I pondered this remarkable story. Could it really have been Miss Croydon? But what possible reason could she have for wishing to rent the rooms? How could she nerve herself to enter them again? Was it the rooms and not the man that had brought her to the Marathon? Did they hold the key to the mystery? Did they contain some secret——

The car stopped. A man and woman were waiting to be taken up. At the man I did not even glance, for his companion held my eyes. Such fierce, dark, passionate beauty I had never seen before, and my nerves were still tingling with the sight of it as I left the building and turned westward toward my rooms.

CHAPTER II.

A Cry for Help.

For three days Thompson's body lay enthroned on its couch at the morgue, but of the thousands of people who filed past it, not one could give a single clew to its identity. Godfrey's emissaries went from end to end of the docks, loitering in sailors' saloons and eating places, provided innumerable drinks, but nowhere did they meet anyone who recognized the rough, bearded face which the camera had reproduced. The officers of every ship that had arrived within a week were interviewed, but none of them knew Thompson. It would seem that he had dropped from the clouds and that no one had witnessed his descent. It was an altogether puzzling state of affairs, and made impossible any further real progress in the investigation of the crime.

The police worked in a desultory fashion along the usual lines. Various theories were built up and exploded; various clews were laboriously followed and found to lead nowhere; various suspects were arrested and afterward released; a close and utterly futile watch was kept on the movements of Jimmy the Dude. It was plainly apparent that the authorities were all at sea, and it seemed altogether likely that the affair would soon be written down with New York's other unsolved mysteries.

New Castle Man Starves to Death.

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 22.—(Special.)—Starvation caused the death last night of Norman Schoaff, as disclosed by the autopsy. His stomach had become so contracted it could scarcely hold any food and the patient died from lack of nourishment. He was terribly emaciated. He was 30 years old and leaves a widow and child.

You can always depend upon it. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

FLOUR ADVANCES IN SYMPATHY WITH WEST

Onion Sets Are Dearer, as the Planting Season Arrives. Butter Is Firmer.

In sympathy with the wheat market, flour took an upward turn Saturday and showed an advance on winter patents of 5 cents a barrel. This was expected for some time and close followers of the market were not surprised at the turn. It is very probable that still another advance will be made soon.

Onion sets are getting dearer as the planting season is nearing its height. They took an upward turn of $1 a bushel Saturday and are now quoted at $2.50 and $3 for Ohio varieties. There is still a good demand for them and the supply seems to be limited.

Eggs and butter are firm. There may be a half cent advance this afternoon, as the Elgin market shows some strength. Little butter is being brought in from local producers and this quality cuts but little figure in the market.

Saturday was a dull day all along the line. In the morning there was the usual Sunday business to take care of, but in the afternoon it was very dull, and receipts were smaller than for many Saturdays past.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined yesterday were: Pennsylvania 29 cars hay, 10 cars oats, 1 car rye, 2 cars straw, 2 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio 9 cars hay and 5 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie 2 cars hay and 2 cars oats.

The receipts were larger yesterday than for a few days past, but still not large enough to all the demand. There were no changes noticeable, but there is no reason to believe that prices will be lower in the near future.

CAROLINA PERFECTO

The Best Known FINE CIGAR in the World

Actual size.—See that the band has the word "PERFECTO" across the medals. Price 25 cents everywhere.

This cigar has long been recognized as the standard of value in fine imported Havana cigars. The sale of Carolina Perfectos has increased a million and a half during the past year in the United States, making more sold than all other Imported Perfectos combined. Carolina Perfecto is a guarantee of uniform quality, full weight, and superiority of workmanship. Made of ripe, mellow, perfectly cured tobacco. The reputation of this cigar tempts some retailers to offer substitutes instead of the genuine Carolina Perfecto.

For value insist on having the Carolina Perfecto.

SPECIAL NOTICE—The long-continued heavy rains during last December and January destroyed more than half of this year's tobacco crop in Cuba. This will not, however, affect the high quality of Carolina Perfectos, as the Havana Tobacco Company holds a sufficient supply of fine, ripe, perfectly matured tobaccos to continue its output of Carolina Perfectos for two years.

THE HAVANA TOBACCO COMPANY EXPORTS MORE HAVANA CIGARS FROM CUBA THAN ALL OTHER MANUFACTURERS COMBINED

GAMES TODAY.

Brooklyn at New York, Philadelphia at Boston, St. Louis at Cincinnati.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 22.—J. Evers, the lightweight product of Troy, N. Y., was the big hero of the West Side baseball game this afternoon, batting in two of the three runs the Cubs secured and tallied himself a moment after he had knocked the ball into the crowd in center field for three bases. As a result of the work of his stingy little bat, Fred Clarke's scrappy Pirates wafted back to their bus trying to swallow a 3 to 1 defeat. It was their first appearance of the season here and the team is the same scrappy aggregation of years gone by.

The Troy man was not satisfied with what he did in the batting line but in the ninth inning got wild applause for a piece of circus fielding that stopped an incipient rally that looked dangerous for the moment. With a Pirate on first through a gift and one gone, Wagner knocked a slashing low-bounding grounder off to Evers' left hand. Johnny made a dive for it, knocked it down, went to his knees in the act and from that position found the ball and got it to Chance like a flash, just nipping Hahnus by an eyelash.

Wicker has not pitched better ball than he showed today against the leaders of the National league. Pitted as he was against Phillippe, the Pittsburgh star, he had to be at the top of his game to win, and he had to have good batting support and the best of fielding to score a win. He had all of that, so the victory is easy to account for. But he did not gain the point until all hands had worked their hardest. But six hits, one of them for extra bases, were secured off the big Bedford man, and he allowed but a pair of bases on balls.

Phillippe also allowed two walks, but the Cubs touched him up for eight safeties, two of which were for extra bases. But the Cubs bunched on him neatly in the second and sixth innings, and that is the whole story.

Both pitchers had perfect control, and considering the cold, windy day, showed remarkable form.

Each side was guilty of two errors, Wagner being guilty of both of Pittsburgh's, but strangely not one of the misplays cut any figure in the run-making. One of Phillippe's bases on balls, however, was fatal, for it was after that that Evers knocked out the three-bagger to center that finally settled the game.

It was a good game all the way through and so close that interest was maintained right up to the time that the last out was registered.

Those who went to the park expecting some sort of an argument were not disappointed, for Manager Fred Clarke got a great opening in the sixth inning. Phillippe, the first man up, rapped up a little fly to Sheckard. Jimmy ran almost to the base line for it and caught it—then dropped it. According to the rules, a ball held momentarily is a fair catch. Umpire Johnstone so decided and Clarke made a wild dash for him at the plate. Johnstone waved him away and a wordy argument of some length followed, winding up by Johnstone preemptorily ordering Clarke back. It looked as if Sheckard had dropped the ball while starting to snap it to Tinker from the position of the catch.

President Harry Pulliam of the National league saw part of the game, leaving at 5:30 o'clock for New York. He saw Sheckard's catch and muff of Phillippe's fly and said the decision of a fair catch was correct.

Frank Schulte made a marvelously good catch off Wagner's bat in the sixth, the same inning in which the argument came up. The drive was a hard, low one and Schulte misjudged it. It started over his head but he knocked it down with his gloved hand and caught it as it fell. It made the crowd gasp and then cheer noisily. The score:

SCHUMACHER IS THE CHAMPION

Leads the Bowlers of the Pittsburgh Section of the Allegheny County League.

INDIVIDUAL AND TEAM WORK

The official averages of the bowlers of the Pittsburgh section of the Allegheny County league gives Louis Schumacher of the Brunswick team the top place. He is champion of the section with an average of 182 flat. He has bowled consistently all season, his best average for three games being 195 1-3, and his poorest 164 1-3. He early in the season put the high score mark at 253. It stood until the first week of November, when Austin Smith of the Unity team raised it to 256. This was high mark until January 29, when Walker, of the Unity team, hung up 259, which is high score of the season in the section.

Scores of 200 were more numerous in the Pittsburgh section than in any of the two others. Two bowlers made records of rolling three 200 scores in a game. They are Silber of Unity (201, 208, 213), and Hartman of Brunswick (225, 203, 214). Two 200 scores in a game were made many times. Those who performed that feat are Kramer twice, Falkins, G. Gaus, Phelps, Schumacher twice, Walber, Frey, Hergenroeder, Schwinn, Nickel, Vincent, Val Meyers, Hopkins, M. Grath, M. Hungerman, Dienstbier and Austin Smith.

The best three-game average was made by John Hartman of the Brunswicks, who on February 12 made an average of 214 even. Others who made averages of 200 or better are Silber, 201 1-3; Nickel, 200 1-3, 203, 200; Walber, 205 2-3; Frey, 203 2-3; Falkins, 205; Kramer, 201 1-3, and Gaus, 200.

Four bowlers took part in every game scheduled for their teams during the season. They are Hergenroeder (who knocked down more pins than any other bowler), Silber, Hartman and Fatkins.

The Unger team won the championship of the section, finished a tie with the Unity team and won in the roll off, a series of six home-and-home games. The Ungers made the four highest scores of the season, 984, 978, 967 and 962. The next best score, 961, was made by the Brunswicks. The Ungers also made the best three game average, 925 2-3, which they reached twice. Only seven times was an average of 900 or better made during the season and the Ungers made it six times. The other 900 average was made by the Unitys who bowled 904.

The individual averages and the club records follow:

There has been some complaint because the averages of the County league were not published from time to time. There is no law or rule requiring the secretary to publish the averages at any time. He is required, though, to keep the official figures and submit the averages to the annual meeting. There is a rule, however, requiring the different team captains to forward the official scores to the secretary. The rule has not been lived up to by many of the teams of the three sections. In fact, the complete record of only two clubs of the Allegheny and only one club of the Pittsburgh section, has been received by the secretary. From some as few as four official sheets only were received. How the secretary, under the circumstances, can find it possible to compile an accurate official list, is something only his predecessors know. Resort must be had to scores published in the newspapers. At the annual meeting, as in former years, the figures submitted by the secretary will be declared official by motion.

The schedule for this week of the Friendship alleys' two-man team league is:

Monday—Tractions vs. Schiffs, Youngsters vs. Boglers.

Tuesday—Independent vs. Kellermans, Welsbeckers vs. Ungars.

Wednesday—Kellermans vs. Kellers, Crescents vs. Independents.

Thursday—Excelsiors vs. Sauers, Thomases vs. Schiffs.

Friday—Tractions vs. Youngsters, Boglers vs. Mayers.

The schedule of the week for the two-man team league on the Fifth avenue alleys is:

Monday—Hambly and Trees vs. Bell and MacPherson.

Tuesday—Rupp and Ramsey vs. McKenzie and Glendenning, Loos and Hewitt vs. Yingling and Bauman.

Wednesday—Gill and Maurer vs. Trucks and Petty; Ely and Haymaker vs. Maxson and Mooney.

Thursday—Bossler and G. Dimling, Jr., vs. H. Dimling and Pockalatik; Ormiston and Meisner vs. Maratta and Robertson.

Friday—Silber and Walber vs. Burns and Belmont; Soost and Riddle vs. Berry and Nuss.

The postponed matches are: Bell and MacPherson vs. MacKenzie and Glendenning, Loos and Hewitt vs. Ormiston and Melsner, Soost and Riddle vs. Yingling and Bauman, Gill and Maurer vs. Silber and Walber, Rupp and Ramsey vs. Bell and MacPherson, Davies and McMunn vs. Maxson and Mooney, Maratta and Robertson vs. Burns and Belmont, Trucks and Petty vs. MacKenzie and Glendenning, Ely and Haymaker vs. Bossler and G. Dimling, Jr., Hambly and Tress vs. Maxson and Mooney. These matches should be rolled just as soon as possible and regular report sent to the secretary. The schedule for the balance of the season has been printed and may be had upon application at the Fifth avenue alleys.

M'CRACKEN'S TEAM TO VISIT ATLANTIC CITY

The Pittsburgh Collegians will make their annual trip to Atlantic City this year. Alex. McCracken, the captain of the team, announced last night that games had been arranged to be played at Inlet park with the Atlantic City Collegians, August 10 and 11. The Pittsburghers were offered August 9 also, but this date was declined. The Boston National league club will follow the Pittsburghers at Atlantic City.

The Pittsburgh Collegians will make a week's trip of it east, and will play games around Philadelphia, possibly at Camden, and if there is a team at Ocean City, two games will be played there.

Capt. McCracken stated last night that his team will be a surprise. He said there will be at least three youngsters from prep. schools and the rest will be of older players. "Toots" Shultz, the Mercersburg crack, will be one of the pitchers, and there is a probability of Bill Matchineer, the Mercersburg second baseman, being Ling Moffett's successor at second.

BIG LEAGUER FOR WAYNESBURG TEAM

Milt Montgomery Gets Pitcher from Philadelphia American League.

ARCH OSBORNE SECURED

Milt. Montgomery is strengthening his already strong corp of pitchers for his Waynesburg P. O. M. league club. He has practically secured Howard Beckett, now with the Philadelphia American league club and Arch. Osborne from Harrisburg. Charlie Hickman, of the Washington American league club, asked the Athletics for one of their pitchers for Waynesburg and Beckett was given. Beckett has accepted the Waynesburg terms. He was with Wilmington in the Tri-State last year. Osborne is the Charleroi southpaw. He was turned over to Johnstown by Harrisburg but balks at the transfer.

Johnnie Yoedt, the Waynesburg pitcher, is coaching the Slippery Rock Normal school team. He will stay with the Normals until the P. O. M. opens its season.

Cumberland may get Nick Maddox, the champion pitcher of the Cumberland and George's Creek league last season. He is with Providence and it is expected he will be farmed out.

The Cumberland management has decided in change the color of the uniforms and instead of cream and blue, as was at first agreed upon, white and black will be the colors at home, and gray for abroad, with caps to match. The hosiery will be rather patriotic, the colors being black and yellow, the state colors.

Captain Calhoun's reputation as a pinch hitter again stood him well yesterday, as the first run in the second inning was due to his timely single to left field.—Harrisburg exchange.

Charley Starr, the shortstop of the Harrisburg team, who is ill with malarial fever, is somewhat better and will probably be in good shape to start the Tri-State season Wednesday.

CHAMPIONS TO FIGHT FOR 'FRISCO SUFFERERS

OLYMPIC GAMES HAVE COMMENCED

King George Declares Contests Opened—No Americans in the First Trials.

900 PICKED ATHLETES THERE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ATHENS, April 22.—Under glorious sunshine following a showery morning, the opening ceremony of the Olympic games was performed today by King George of Greece. The huge Stadium was already packed to its utmost capacity when the royal procession arrived to the strains of the Greek and British anthems.

First came a carriage containing King George and Queen Alexandra; then came a carriage with King Edward and Queen Olga. These were followed by carriages with Princess Victoria, the Prince and Princess of Wales and the members of the Greek royal family, with their brilliant suites, and representatives of the various European courts.

The procession traversed the whole length of the stadium amid vociferous cheering, and then dignataries took seats in a semi-circle. Then Crown Prince Constantine, Duke of Sparia, who is the president of the games, moved from the center of the arena, saluting King George, and read an address stating the objects of the meeting and expressing the hope that the victors, whatever their nationality, would remember that their victory had been acclaimed on the sacred soil of Athens by descendants of the ancient Hellenes. He concluded by begging King George to proclaim the opening.

King George arose and briefly declared the games opened.

All the participants in the games then moved in procession around the stadium, headed by bands of music. As the 900 picked athletes of the world moved past, presenting an imposing display, they were cheered to the echo. Passing the royal personages the standard bearer of each team impressively lowered the flag of his country, King George gravely returning the salute.

The games began with gymnastic displays and contests. No Americans participated today. The members of the royal families remained to the finish. Tonight the Acropolis was brilliantly illuminated.

Eli B. Parsons, New York Athletic club; Fay R. Moulton, Kansas City A. A.; James S. Mitchell and H. L. Hillman, New York A. C., are steadily improving and probably will be able to compete in the games.

BRIGHT TO CAPTAIN CHAMPION HOCKEY TEAM

On May 2 Yale will hold its first annual spring track meet, at which time the squad will be weeded out and the regular 'varsity team selected.

This is the first time that spring football practice has been gone into with any earnestness at Cornell and as a consequence a large number of men are taking an interest in it. Most of last year's freshmen team is out and the material contained in this eleven is exceptionally good.

Through its victory at Marshall field, Chicago, Wendell Phillips high school relay team will go to Philadelphia to defend its title won in the Penn carnival last year.

Reilly, Pollock, Burke, and Borden were the athletes who carried the Wendell Phillips colors to victory over Hyde Park, which was the contended, although some distance behind, at the finish. The time for the mile was 3:35 4-5, which is one-fifth slower than the trial was won in last year.

Michigan never sent as good a track aggregation east as that which stands ready to leave Ann Arbor Wednesday evening under Coach Fitzpatrick's guidance.

There is little worry over the four mile relay championship. It is thought if the quartet sent out there this spring cannot defend the thrice won pennant, no western team could keep the banner. Every man in the bunch can go a mile under 4:20 if the track is in good condition. All are strong and stayers.

Alan Bright has been chosen to again captain the Pittsburgh high school hockey team, the interscholastic champions of the United States and George Van Gorder, the center of the team, will captain the high school basketball team next season.

TWO MAN LEAGUE IS FORMED BY METZGAR

A two-man league was organized last evening on the Federal alleys with 15 teams. The season will begin next Monday night. Any team wishing to join should send its name to George A. Metzger, manager, before Wednesday night. There is room for five more teams. The teams in are: Dinkel and Guyer, Martin and Cready, Gersthrein and Houck, Suess and Metzger, Bechtel and Graham, Mawer and Shakley, Hunter and Bock, Robertson and Weber, Shadel and Hernberger, Logue and Neidhart, Kinser and Michel, Schad and Harris, Gormley and Taylor, Dugan and Peters, Fuhl and Hilson.

Talk of New League.

DUNBAR, PA., April 22.—(Special.)—Plans are under way for the organization of a trolley league in the coke region which will include some of the less pretentious teams, Mt. Braddock, Dunbar, Dawson, Sterlings of Mt. Pleasant, Fricks of Scottdale and May's of Connellsville will be in the league.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA IN BIG COLLEGE MEET

Local Teams Will Find Cracks of Country in Competition on the Franklin Field This Week at Philadelphia.

The Pittsburgh High school, W. and J. and other Western Pennsylvania schools and colleges will participate in America's intercollegiate track and field season inauguration this week with the University of Pennsylvania's twelfth annual relay carnival to be held on Franklin field, Philadelphia. It is impossible to magnify the importance of this meeting, for there will be more than 1,200 athletes in competition representing every university, college, school and academy of importance east of the Mississippi river.

The relay events alone have attracted more than 200 teams, which, counting four men to the team and at least one substitute, accounts for 1,000 individual athletes. To this number should be added more than 200 others, who are entered in the special events.

Never before in the history of these relays has there been so much interest taken in the three big championship relay events at one, two and four miles. As in previous years the four-mile race is to be the real thriller of the day, and will occupy the place of honor on the program. It will bring together more contestants than any of the big college relays. As was the case last year the University of Michigan will be the sole representative of the west, and if the Wolverines win they will undoubtedly have to beat their world record made a year ago.

Eastern teams make no secret of the fact that they are after the scalp of the Wolverines. All told, there are five eastern quartets which have been training for the sole purpose of beating Michigan. These are Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Brown, with the probability that Princeton will also be entered in this event. The first five-named teams are in better condition to give Michigan a battle than ever before. Cornell, Harvard and Pennsylvania are especially well fitted for the task. Cornell, with her championship cross-country team, has a big squad of fast milers. The most likely men for this team are Willgoose, Camp, McGoffin and Hemingway, and all are stars. Harvard has just discovered a fast miler in Miller, who ran the distance in 4:31 a few days ago under adverse conditions. With Howard, King and Turner for the rest of the team, the Crimson will be able to make the other teams run all the way.

Mike Murphy, the Pennsylvania trainer, has been doing remarkable things with the Quaker distance stars and now has four men who can run in 4:25 or better. These are Haskins, Jones, Root and McConnell, and they are sure to be in it at the finish. But when all this is said it is hard for the most optimistic easterner to see how Michigan, the three-times champion, can be beaten, for the Wolverines appear to have even a better team than a year ago. They still have three members of that 1905 quartet in Rowe, Ramey and Coe. The fourth man this year, who will probably be Maloney, a 4:30 man, is better than the fourth man of last year. There is no reason why this team, if pushed, should not still further lower its great record of a year ago.

The one-mile relay event is the other race which will attract the most attention. It will also be a battle between the east and west. Like in the four-mile race the west will have but a single entry. This will be the University of Chicago. For the east there will be at least four teams and possibly more. These will be Pennsylvania, Cornell, Harvard and Yale. Of the four Cornell and Pennsylvania look to be the strongest. The Quakers have a great team in Whitham, Polson, Fornack and Cartmell. Cartmell has a record of 51 seconds for 300 yards and is showing great speed for the full distance this year. Cornell's team, which consists of Rogers, French and Townsend as a nucleus, defeated Yale, Harvard and Princeton last winter, and is sure to be fast. There is not much rivalry in the two-mile race, which with Parsons, the Yale champion, absent, looks like a certain victory for Dartmouth.

The weight events will bring together a remarkable bunch of men. From the west will come Wesley Coe of Michigan, the holder of the world's record of 49 feet 8 inches, and Dunlap, his teammate, the western intercollegiate champion. Another man will be Capt. Parry, the western intercollegiate champion hammer thrower, of Chicago, with a record better than 156 feet. The east will have White of Cornell and White of Yale in the shot-put, and Shevlin of Yale and Thomas of Purdue in the hammer throw. Coe, it is announced, will try to better his present world record.

The high jump will be another big event. It will bring together Risley of Syracuse, with a record of 6:03; Marshall of Yale and Moffett of Pennsylvania, each of whom has done better than 6 feet. From the west will come Pinch of Michigan and Patterson of Detroit, both with records better than 6 feet. In the broad jump the best competitors will be Simons of Princeton, the intercollegiate champion; Mt. Pleasant, the phenomenal Indian athlete; Greene of Pennsylvania and French of Michigan for the west.

The pole vault will bring together Jackson and Phillips of Cornell; Gring of Harvard; Moore of Princeton and Swain of Pennsylvania, all of whom can do 11 feet 6 inches. The high hurdle race promises to be a fight between Ansler of Pennsylvania and Castleman of Colgate, who were first and second a year ago. The 100-yard dash will bring together the best sprinters of the east and west, and will probably be the first appearance in the east of Parsons, the Wisconsin champion.

ORGANIZED LABOR WILL SEEK CONTROL OF HOUSE

First Fight Will Be Made in the Ninth Ohio District Against Representative Southard—Gompers Is Directing the Campaign.

Special Telegram From
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Representative James H. Southard, of the Ninth Ohio district, is nervous for fear lest he is made the victim of organized labor's new departure in politics. On March 21 the presidents of international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor met in Washington and agreed that the order should take an active part in politics, especially with a view to either electing trades union men to office or friends of organized labor.

At about this time Frank L. Mulholland of Toledo made several trips to Washington for conferences with Samuel Gompers, head of the federation. Mulholland, as a lawyer, has been retained to represent Toledo unionists in many cases. He has also been a member of the Ohio legislature where he did his best to further legislation desired by the unions.

Now, since his conference with President Gompers and since the announcement the federation will take an active hand in politics, Mr. Mulholland has appeared in the field as a formidable candidate against Southard for the Republican nomination presumably with federation encouragement.

If this organization can nominate and elect a member of congress in Ohio that, in itself, will be an achievement. If it concentrates its efforts in similar fashion in other states, supporting men of either party indifferently if they are only federation men, the result is likely to be a formidable federation delegation in the next house.

WALKS OUT OF CHURCH AND IS KILLED BY CAR

Young Girl Meets Violent End. Death of Italian Found in Alley Is Mystery.

Mary Marhola, aged 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Marhola of First avenue, McKeesport, walked out of a church in Sixth avenue and was run over by a street car. Her right leg was crushed at the hip and she died at the McKeesport hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Charles G. Hager, a mill worker, of Penn avenue and Railroad street, McKeesport, was run over by a train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near his home, yesterday morning, and killed. He was 44 and married.

Antonia Cocciandello was found unconscious at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Dante alley by Officer Philip Eckert. The policeman thought the Italian was intoxicated and sent him to the Central police station. He revived and complained of pains in his abdomen and was sent to the Homeopathic hospital, where he died at 6 o'clock. The hospital physicians are mystified at the cause of his death. Papers were found upon him which indicated he had lived in Braddock, and had recently sent $100 to friends in Italy.

The body of Stanley Roboneck, aged 13, who lived in Welsh road, South Side, was recovered in the Monongahela river at the foot of South Seventeenth street yesterday afternoon. Roboneck, Andrew Pletross and Joseph Steponski, the latter also aged 13, were drowned last Wednesday while riding in a skiff at dam No. 1, the boat going over the dam. The bodies of the other two boys have not yet been found.

Joseph Menick, aged 36, died at the St. John's hospital yesterday morning from injuries received on Saturday at the American locomotive works. A bar or iron crushed his shoulder and broke several ribs. He resided at 22 Orchard street, Allegheny.

Blood poisoning, resulting from a foot being crushed at the Columbia bridge plant in Rankin, on April 11, caused the death yesterday of Joseph Meharnick, aged 21, of Rankin, at the Mercy hospital.

Joseph Retco, aged 32, was found on the Pittsburgh Junction railroad near Schenley park yesterday morning with both legs crushed. He was taken to Mercy hospital, where he died last night. He was married, and lived at 84 Ervine street.

BROTHER OF SILAR CARTER GETS INTO TROUBLE TOO

Peter Carter, a brother of Silas Carter, the negro who was last week convicted of killing Policeman Sheehey, is locked up in the Allegheny Central police station, and an information will be made against him this morning charging him with felonious cutting. During a quarrel between him and Edward Weber Saturday night, Carter is alleged to have made a lunge at Weber's heart. The blade penetrated Weber's arm and he is in the Allegheny General hospital. Carter was arrested near his home, 19 Federal street, early yesterday morning.

Nelson Aspires for Political Honors.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., April 22.—(Special.)—T. M. Nelson, the best-known business man in this region of Pennsylvania, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for auditor general. Mr. Nelson has always been an active Republican party worker and believes with him on the ticket the party strength will be solidified this fall. He is president of the Pittsburgh Bridge Company and formerly lived in Pittsburgh.

BOXERS TO MEET IN BIG TOURNEY

Jeffries and Other Top-Notchers Will Spar Tuesday Night for San Francisco Sufferers.

BIG RETURNS ARE EXPECTED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

In addition Jim Jeffries, retired heavyweight champion of the world, will appear in an exhibition bout during the evening. Battling Nelson, Aurelio and Mauro Herrera, Abe and Monte Attell, Kid Herman and Tommy Burns, all topnotchers in their class as well as several other prominent pugilists, will box for the cause of charity.

They have been paid off or as to make the scientific boxing possible. It is expected over $30,000 will be cleared.

Tomorrow night at East Pittsburgh there will be a big boxing show at which all the best known boxers in this part of the country will appear, among them being Jimmy Mason, Joe Alton, Johnny Mullen, Young Joe Grim, Kil Klause, Tommy Lynch, Kid Sykes, Mike Striker, the champion of the navy, and a score of others. The show has been well arranged by Yank McCormick and Thayer Torreyson who are looking after it for the benefit of John P. Coyle of Homestead.

Navy Challenges Harvard.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., April 22.—(Special.)—The naval academy has sent a challenge to Harvard for its second crew to row against the second crew of the navy at Annapolis either on May 19 or May 26.

The challenge has been sent through Mr. Newhall, of the Harvard varsity, who was in Annapolis Saturday, and it is believed that the race will be arranged. The race is to take the place of that between the second crews of the navy and Columbia which the latter cancelled.

Exhibition Game at Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, April 22.—The Brooklyn National league club played an exhibition game today between two nines made up of their own players and the second team beat the regulars by a score of 3 to 2 in ten innings. There was no charge for admission, subscription boxes being placed at all the entrances. About $1,200 was realized and this will be donated to the San Francisco relief fund.

Polo Officers Elected.

WARREN, O., April 22.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Interstate Roller Polo league here today the following officers were elected: President, J. L. McDermett, Niles; vice-presidents, Sam Marquis, New Castle, and J. F. Davis, Youngstown; secretary and treasurer, J. H. R. Williams, Warren. Applications for franchises for next year were received from Beaver Falls and Franklin, Pa.

Afraid of Jock Phenicie.

Not one of the many would-be fighters here have so far put up any cash for a fight with Jock Phenicie and it begins to look as if they don't want any of the little champion that Red Mason is looking after. Mason is ready to have his man fight any one here and give away some weight, but no one seems to want any of Phenicie.

THE GAZETTE PATTERN.

Where Beauty Courts Comfort.

A very charming negligee is shown here and though it is the acme of daintiness, the model is by no means expensive. It is made of pale blue dmity with lace insertions set into the skirt above a deep hem and a group of pin tucks. Lace is used generously in trimming the sleeves and fichu collar, while broad satin ribbon forms the belt and bow at the front.

For leisure hours there are many delightful robes shown in the shops, and a large majority of them are made of sheer white lawns and organdies. Of course one can run the gamut of extravagance in these house gowns, for the most exquisite hand-work is lavished upon them in addition to two or three kinds of laces and ribbons. Perishable designs in silk crepe, chiffon and all-over lace form the basis of many negligees duplicated in cheaper materials, and as a rule they are easy to make. The Empire effect is popular in house gowns, many of which have delicious little coats of lace or strips of ribbon joined by bands of lace. Silk linings are always luxurious, but some of the daintiest negligees have foundations of coarse lawn, which are as comfortable as they are inexpensive. Pale green is a favorite color for summer housegowns and in the new sheer materials is shown in three or four new tints.

A Strange Use for Wedding Trains.

The train of the wedding gown of the Princess Ena is being embroidered by Spanish workers—this gown and five others being by immemorial custom presented to the bride by the Spanish monarch. After it has served its initial purpose the wedding train will be bestowed upon some church for use as an altar cloth. This custom is also followed occasionally by Protestant brides. The grand duke of Hesse was married at an altar covered with the white satin that had served as the wedding robe of his aunt, Princess Anna of Hesse. Princess Beatrice's wedding gown was noticeable for being the first trimmed with the Honiton lace worn by Queen Victoria at her own wedding. This gown was not donated to a church, but still remains in the possession of the Princess Henry, together with much fine lace from the collection of her late majesty.

It never disappoints. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

LECTURE UPON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Hon. Clarence A. Buskirk Delivers Address Before Large Audience at the Nixon.

FAITH IN GOD THE KEYNOTE

A lecture upon Christian Science was given yesterday afternoon in the Nixon theater by the Hon. Clarence A. Buskirk, a member of the board of lectureship of the mother church in Boston. The lecture was given under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Clyde street, Pittsburgh, and a large and interested audience heard the discourse. The speaker was introduced by J. E. Patton, who said:

In order to correct erroneous conceptions and to rightly inform the public as to what Christian Science is, an authorized board of lectureship has been established by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, otherwise known as the mother church of our denomination. The people of Pittsburgh have in the past had several opportunities of hearing these lecturers but the gentleman who is to address you today has not been heard in this city. The subject of the lecture is "Christian Science and Its Doctrines."

Mr. Buskirk at once placed his hearers in close touch with his subject by a brief outline of the Christian Science movement, founded by the Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, and which now has over 900 churches and societies holding meetings in all parts of the civilized world. Three hundred and seventy thousand copies of the text book of the denomination, Science of Health, with Key to the Scriptures, have been printed and disposed of. Mrs. Eddy was born near the city of Concord, N. H., in which city she now resides. All her life she has been a devout Christian, a constant student of the Bible and a worker for the welfare of humanity. In 1866 she met with a serious accident and her physicians pronounced her case hopeless. In her extremity she resorted to prayer, and her recovery followed. After three years assiduous study of the Bible in trying to discover and make practical the scientific explanation of her recovery, she made the discovery and named it Christian Science or the Science of Christianity. In 1875 she published her Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures. The speaker said in part:

"We read in the Bible the declaration made by one of the apostles of Jesus that 'the prayer of faith shall save the sick.'

"Every well-informed Christian believer understands, of course, that he cannot consistently doubt or deny the utility and efficacy of prayer, and that there is nothing in the Bible which limits in any way the universal utility and efficiency of prayer.

How Prayer Operates.

"Christian Scientists sometimes are asked to explain the mode of operation or modus operandi, by which the prayer of faith can affect the body so as to overcome physical sickness.

First, let me say that when any process can be recognized as an accomplished fact, any failure fully to comprehend or explain its mode of operation does not tend in the least to falsify such fact.

"For example, Mr. Edison admits that he is so far short of satisfying explanation of the marvels accomplished through his electrical inventions that he is wholly unable to tell us even what electricity is.

"He finds that what we call electricity works along certain lines in certain ways, and he employs his inventive genius accordingly.

"He invents or discovers a process, and it becomes a boon to humanity notwithstanding that he may be unable to explain its modus operandi in answer to the ultimate questions respecting it.

"Is it to be expected that any one can fully explain the modus operandi of the process by which infinite Intelligence under the operation of the laws which govern us, has provided that "the prayer of faith" can overcome physical discords? Yet there are some considerations which may throw some useful light upon the subject.

"The office of prayer is to change man, not to change God, or influence God's ways, or interfere with the operation of God's eternal laws.

"When we pray aright we are communing with the true and only God, when we pray aright our thoughts, aspirations and emotions climb to the very highest tablelands they are capable of reaching.

"Why should not the benefits be manifested in all ways, and who can presume to measure or limit these benefits?

"Why is it not easily believable that in the divine relations forever existing between God and man there are eternal laws under whose constant operation prayer confers benefits, whose scope and activities no one has any basis for limiting?

God Is All in All.

"Christian Science teaches us that we must appeal to God as Spirit, and not to any manlike God; and that we must not appeal to a supposed God whom we regard as the author of evil in any of its phenomena, such as "in sickness, suffering and their like. If God be not the author of evil, and we appeal to a supposititious being whom we believe to be the author of evil, then it is plain that we appeal to a being who does not exist. I do not need to urge that such a prayer could not be expected to be effectual.

"Christian Science also teaches that all the phenomena of evil—sin, sickness, suffering and their like, are none of them the reality or truth of man's being—or man in his true individuality in the image and likeness of God. If this teaching is true, then the person whose consciousness is infected with the falsehood that evil is a part of the reality or truth of man's being cannot pray effectually for the removal of what God has ordained and created, and which exists by reason of God's eternal and unchanging laws as truth or reality.

"It is really unthinkable that the Creative Principle of the universe could be otherwise than God is described in the Bible to be, Spirit, Truth and Love. And it is unthinkable that such Creative Principle could create anything the opposite of His own divine nature. Hence, Christian Science discerns by the light of our highest reason, as well as by the authority of Scripture, that it is sublimely true that "God saw everything that He had made and, behold, it was very good." Not only good, but very good. Hence it has no teaching that admits or even suggests that God is the author of evil. It has no teaching which admits or suggests divine hate, cruelty or injustice. It is wholly incapable of drawing any portrait or suggesting any of the attributes of a satan and writing beneath it the name of God. Indeed, it is incapable of drawing any portrait of Deity at all except with the celestial colors of love, joy and promise.

The Doctrine of False Philosophy.

"A false philosophy has too long taught us to accept things for what they seem to be, instead of for what they really are. We have been taught, and have come to believe, that the little arc which we see and not the entire circle of which it forms so small a part, is the truth of being. But Christian Science teaches that all reality, all which truly exists in reality, not in seeming or as phenomena, is very good because nothing exists as reality which is not of God, of divine and infinite good).

"It is a false theology, contrary both to our highest reason and to the scripture, that the appearances of evil, the phenomena of sin, sickness, and suffering, are the creations of God. We must either reject God altogether, or we must recognize that it is really as unreasonable to say that infinite good creates evil as it is to say that infinite truth creates the falsehood that twice two is five. That we believe that sin, sickness and suffering are realities of man's true being does not make them so. Appearances belong to one category in sound reasoning, and truths belong to another and distinct category.

"A profound truth is encompassed in the scriptural statement: 'As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.' The conceptions which a person has of God exercise almost powerful influence over that person's character, conduct, habits of thinking and physical being. Indeed, it is impossible to measure or limit the activities and scope of these influences and their far-reaching effects. Christian Science has been a chief factor, in the last 25 years, in arousing the sleeping attention of mankind to the pressing importance of a constant recognition of these influences and effects.

"If we believe that God is the author of sin, we look upon sin as an unavoidable, ordained, indispensable part of the economy of the universe. Does not such view of sin tend to make us more tolerant of its presence in ourselves and others and to discourage the energies of our—its resistance against it? If we believe God to be the author of sickness, and that sickness is one of the dispensations of divine Providence (to use a phrase that was once much in fashion), what is the use of us taking any steps to get well? If we really believe that God intends and decrees us to be sick, can we expect that drugs, or prayers or faith, or anything else, will defeat the deific purpose? We can only become more hopeful in our efforts to overcome sin and sickness as we lose our belief in such a God. Thus our false belief that God is the author of sin or sickness teaches us doubt respecting God's existence and turns our discouraged thoughts toward the despair of atheism.

What Christian Science Teaches.

"Christian Science teaches, and proves by its works (for it could not perform the least of them if its teachings were not true), that we are all citizens of a spiritual universe. Each of us, all of us, have an immortal spiritual destiny. The grave has never been the final goal of humanity, and the tombstone has never been more than a milestone on man's journey. We are too prone to burrow in dirt and darkness, like the mole, and to forget the nobility and grandeur of our destiny as spiritual beings. In our self-seeking efforts for power, place and money, all of which are really so transitory, we are too prone to lose sight of the true perspective and proportion of things. We hold the dollars so close to our eyes as to shut out, not only the celestial man, but even what is fairest and sweetest about us throughout the dusty highways of our lives.

"Christian Science teaches that man's highest reason affirms the Biblical teaching that 'God is Spirit,' and that man, who is in God's image and likeness, must, therefore, be a spiritual being. Christian Science teaches that it must follow that intimate divine relations exist between God and man; that these divine relations cannot exist uselessly, but must be both useful and usable; that, therefore, man can make use of these divine relations for his higher harmony and happiness, according to the measure of his understanding of these relations and their uses.

"Christian Science bases its working doctrine upon the understanding already attained, and proves and exemplifies it by its practical and evidential works in overcoming the phenomenon of evil.

"In the Bible we find it stated that man has God-given dominion over the things of earth.

"As a spiritual being in the image and likeness of God, why should he not both have and exercise His dominion?

"When he seems subject to material conditions, is it not because in his ignorance he submits himself to their bondage?

"If so what is the remedy? We have it defined in the words of Jesus, 'Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.'

"What shall we be freed from through our understanding of the truth? Freed from the bondage of falsehoods and false beliefs.

"God Is Love" the Keynote.

"Christian Science recognizes in the scriptural declaration that 'God is Love'—the great dynamic truth of the universe. It seeks to make this dynamic truth the basis of its entire system of doctrine and practice.

"Hence, it seeks to establish our thoughts and lives on the high tablelands of purity and peace, faith and faithfulness. And, therefore, Christian Science can have no doctrine which recognizes or admits directly or remotely, that such phenomena as sin, sickness and suffering, are the creations of God, and so sanctioned and perpetuated by infinite love. It refuses to sanction the teaching that while God is always willing and abundantly able to save the sinner, yet for some inscrutable reason, His all-embracing Providence is either not able or it is not willing to save the sick.

"It refuses to sanction the dogma that God discriminates between the classes of mankind needing His loving kindness, so that the virtuous sick man would be further away from God, for all practical purposes than the robust sinner. It denies that God is partial or unjust in His benedictions. It denies that God's protecting care is limited or finite. It denies that God's arm is shortened so that it cannot reach and help man in all his distresses. It affirms that the virtuous sick man, as well as the robust sinner, has the right to appeal for help without limiting his faith in God, or his obedience to the command of Jesus, 'Have faith in God.'

"'Have faith in God,—four short, simple words, but they make up a priceless jewel that 'on the stretched forefinger of all time,' shall shine forever.

"My friends, take those four words home with you, and make them a part of your daily thoughts and consciousness, and they will prove a priceless blessing to your homes and lives.

God Is Forever Guarding Us.

"And Christian Science teaches that whatever successes, or whatever dangers, disappointments or disasters may seem to visit our mortal lives; however our earthly fortunes may seem to prosper or to darken and decay; still, we should find humility, peace and content in the abiding assurance that the arms of divine love are around us and beneath us always, that behind all appearance is the eternal unity of good, and over them all a wise Providence of divine and absolute loving kindness.

"Christian Science repudiates the notion that evil can be used as the instrument to bring about good. It refuses to employ that which can produce disease to produce health. It says to everything, whether poisonous drug or false belief, which can harm man, 'get thee behind me Satan!' It refuses the perilous services of evil altogether.

"About 19 centuries ago, an obscure Galilean brought to our race, then darkened by the heavy fogs of materialism, and, therefore, despairing and depraved, the provable and practical gospel of love.

"Then He proceeded at once to prove to the world that His gospel and message were true and good, by His practical works among the sick and suffering multitudes, reforming sinners, comforting the broken-hearted, cleansing the leprous, healing the sick. Performing His works without material means or methods, asserting the power of Mind to the supreme over all material conditions. He demonstrated that His teachings were true. Thereby He sought to persuade mankind that His ministry was trustworthy, and good, and that God does eternally reign as an available and imminent Providence of divine loving kindness. In order that His gospel might spread and be preserved to all future generations, He gave to His followers of all times and countries His commandment to 'preach the gospel' and to 'heal the sick.' He said to his followers: 'If ye love Me, keep My commandments.'

"He promised His followers of all the generations of men: 'He that believeth on Me, the works that I do, shall he do also.' He promised: 'I am the light of the world; he that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.' He declared: 'The kingdom of heaven is within you,' and speaking of the Christ, or Christ truth, He promised: 'Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

Jesus' Teachings Are Obscured.

"But the theological subtleties and dogmas of many succeeding centuries have largely obscured the teaching and example of Jesus. Good men and women who wish to be faithful Christians have been taught and have come to believe that somehow one part of the command to 'preach the Gospel' and 'heal the sick' is not to be obeyed. They have overlooked the inevitable result that to keep only a part of the commandments of Jesus is to betray His gospel and pervert His message. They have lost sight of the fact that when Jesus said, 'If ye love Me, keep My commandments,' He meant all of them and not some convenient part of them selected by that wisdom of men which often is foolishness before God. They have failed, because of the erroneous teachings of their sectaries, to note the immense importance of the command to 'heal the sick,' for the purpose of preserving the Christ gospel by demonstrating its trustworthiness and truthfulness, in a practical way, to mankind in every age.

"Why reject the method for so demonstrating it which was adopted and employed by Jesus the Christ? He declared: 'I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life, no man cometh to the Father but by Me.' He demonstrated, as none other has, the supremacy of mind over matter. He taught the way, He proved the way. He pointed out to us the way. He commanded all who believed on Him to follow in that way.

"The world has been too long sinking downward in the dark gulf of materialistic despair under the burden of unproved sermons. Let us revivify the words of the Apostle: 'Faith, if it have not works, is dead, being alone.' * * * Show me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works. The increasing materialism of the world proves that the way approved by Jesus for preserving the gospel is the only successful way, and that to bisect Christianity and take away its works is to cause its faith to become dead, being alone.

"Men will not longer believe half the gospel and half refuse it. Jesus spent far more time in proving His ministry by practical works than He did in preaching it. An eloquent deed as a follower of Christ is worth far more than a thousand eloquent words. One instance of healing sickness according to the method taught, exemplified and commanded by Jesus, is of far more power for the persuation of mankind than a thousand exhortations.

Is Not a New Religion.

"Christian Science is not the invention of a new religion. It is humbly and earnestly seeking to be a restoration of the Christ religion freed from the accumulated dust and debris of the centuries, with a discovery of its higher spiritual meanings and logic. Jesus did not invent any new truth. He taught and made practical unto men, before their very eyes, the uses of the eternal relations existing between infinite intelligence and man in His spiritual image and likeness. These ways exist, precisely as they existed nineteen centuries ago, and always have existed. Like God, they are the same yesterday, today and forever. Jesus made to all mankind the promise: 'Ask and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.' Every true rule in mathematics has always existed, and always will exist; but it can do us no good except we study it, learn it, and seek to apply it. And so with the eternal verities in the divine relations between man and the infinite Mind. We must seek, ask and knock aright, or we will still continue to grope in darkness and despair. It is only by honestly seeking, asking and knocking that we can hope to find the truth, and then we have the glad assurance from the lips of our Wayshower: 'And ye shall know the truth; and the truth shall make you free.' Christian Science is today, my friends, healing 'all manner of sickness and all manner of diseases,' to make use of the New Testament phrase, throughout the civilized world. The witnesses to its cures are in every city, and are beginning to be found in almost every country in the world.

"They know that they have 'found the pearl of great price;' that they have attained the 'peace that passeth understanding.' They have arisen from beds of pain and apparently hopeless invalidism, and they are crying out in their gratitude, 'I know that my Redeemer liveth!' They have seen the grim, enemy, death, shadowing the thresholds of their homes, cottages and proud mansions alike, and threatening to enter soon and bear away some loved one of their family circles; they have heard their faithful family physicians despairingly admit that their efforts were all in vain; and then they have had recourse, often as the last resort after everything else had failed them, to Christian Science, and lo! their fading loved ones have been restored to their arms, with the roses of health once more blooming in their cheeks and the light of restored happiness beaming again from their eyes."

COLLISION KILLS ONE MAN.

Extra Engine Crashes Into Caboose of Freight Train as Latter Leaves a Siding.

WARREN, O., April 22.—(Special.)—In a rear-end collision on the Erie railroad at Deforest this morning Conductor Corpe of Cleveland was instantly killed, and Flagman Velhman seriously injured. Corpe was in charge of an east-bound freight and had taken the siding at Deforest to allow a passenger train, also east-bound, to pass.

En extra east-bound engine and caboose were following the passenger closely, and as the freight train backed off the siding to the main track the light engine crushed into the freight train caboose, smashing it to kindling wood. Corpe and Velhman were in the caboose.

Objects to Darkness.

John Moehner was fined $25 by Magistrate Moke yesterday morning. He was in the pool room of James Rojanski, at 3104 Brereton avenue, Saturday night. Rojanski put out the lights at closing up time and Moehner hit him in the eye with a pool ball.

No Alcohol

For a long time we have been firmly determined to produce all our medicines entirely free from alcohol, and thereby forever remove the very last objection that any one could possibly have to these superior remedies. This determination has resulted in the most complete victory.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Non-alcoholic

The only Sarsaparilla in the world entirely free from alcohol. Destined to become the one great family medicine of the age. Contains all the tonic, alterative, and curative properties of the old Sarsaparilla, yet entirely free from alcohol in any form.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Non-alcoholic

The latest discoveries in therapeutics show that in nearly every disease of the throat and lungs the patient is far better off without alcohol than with it.

The question of your taking an alcoholic stimulant thus becomes completely separated from the question of your taking any of our medicines.

We Banish Alcohol. We Publish Our Formulas.

It is Easy

To brand a beer "Pure," but actual purity means to double the cost of the brewing. That is how we attain it.

Schlitz beer is brewed in absolute cleanliness, and cooled in filtered air. Then it is aged for months to avoid causing biliousness, then filtered through white wood pulp. Then every bottle is sterilized. That is why Schlitz is unique for its purity.

Ask for the Brewery Bottling.
Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz.
To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded
